

The Daily Nebraskan

VOL. XVI. NO. 18.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1916.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

TOWNS CLAMORING FOR UNIVERSITY WEEK SHOW

APPLICATIONS POUR IN MONTHS AHEAD OF TIME

Ashland Writes for Shows—Five Western Towns Put in Joint Application

The demand for the University Week shows has already become insistent from a number of Nebraska towns, and the managers this year are going to find it difficult to route the five or six University organizations that will make the trip next spring vacation.

One thing that has brought joy to the hearts of the original boosters of the University Week is that this year there has come a call for the shows from several towns that refused to consider the proposition when it was first suggested two years ago.

One such town is Ashland. Yesterday T. A. Williams, the agent of student activities, received a letter from Ashland business men, formally asking that that town be considered this year, inquiring terms, etc., and pointing out the advantages of Ashland.

Advantages of Ashland
No matter what route the University Week stunts will take this year, they can go through Ashland, going or coming, the letter said. The advantages of the town as a railroad center, with branch routes leading in all directions, were pointed out, suggesting that the city should be on the circuit this coming spring.

Last summer five towns in the western part of the state, that had not yet been visited by the University Week shows, formed an organization with the avowed intention of securing the exhibition. These towns selected one of the prominent educational men of that part of the state, Superintendent Chadderden of Oxford, to represent them and to see that the University Week stunts come to them.

This is the first time a whole circuit has banded itself together and then made application for the shows. Previously the towns have always acted singly. These five—Oxford, Minden, McCook, Holdrege and Beaver Crossing, present a circuit organized with the routing already planned for, and every provision of that sort made. They will undoubtedly make a strong bid for the spring's shows.

Anxious for Week
So anxious are they for the University Week, that when the opera house
(Continued on page 3)

CONFERENCES BETWEEN CITY AND UNIVERSITY BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUBS

The Business Women's club of Lincoln has invited the Business Women's club of the University to a series of conferences to investigate the standing of women in business. A survey of the city in view of a directory of business women is suggested along with many of the other problems confronting the girl who works.

The Business Women's club of the University was organized last year with about twenty-five members, and is much larger this year. The conferences between the clubs is something of an innovation and a great deal of good is expected to be done by the co-operation of the two organizations, as is shown by the success of the similar club for men.

The first of the conferences will be held this afternoon.

MORNING SALE OF STUDENT TICKETS

STUDENT ACTIVITIES OFFICE SELLS SEASON BOOKS

Every Student to Be Given Chance to Buy—First Game to Be Played Here Tomorrow

In order of accommodate the farm students, and also to give every opportunity to campus students to secure student athletic tickets, the season booklets, good for every home athletic contest, will be on sale this morning and Saturday morning, as well as this afternoon.

So far this season the books have only been on sale in the student activities office in the afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock. The sale has not been very good from the students' point of view, as less than half the number that bought tickets last year have yet secured them. Some complaint was heard that with the sale going on only in the afternoon a portion of the students could not buy their tickets. The morning sale for today and tomorrow is announced to give these students a chance.

The sale of the tickets will discontinue tomorrow at noon. In the afternoon the first football game of the season, with the Drake university team, will be played on Nebraska field. Students who wish to secure their season tickets in time for the Drake game will have to buy them before 12 o'clock tomorrow.

Six Home Games
All but two of Nebraska University's
(Continued to Page Four)

DR. AND MRS. HILTNER, CHINESE MISSIONARIES, TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Dr. Walter G. Hiltner, '04, and Mrs. W. G. (Schultz) Hiltner, '08, who are at home on furlough from their missionary service in Nanking, China, will speak to the student volunteers, and all students and faculty, Sunday afternoon, October 7, at 3:30 o'clock, Faculty hall, Temple.

Dr. Hiltner was an active volunteer here thirteen years ago. As professor of surgery in the Union Medical college, Nanking, he has done remarkable work. The number of operations he has performed successfully is astonishing. He has received many tempting offers from the Chinese government, but has remained faithfully in the service of Christianity.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT AT OMAHA SHOW

IMMENSE DISPLAY SHOWING MODERN BREEDING METHODS

Motion Pictures Given in Connection Will Depict Life Cycle of the Chicken

The University college of agriculture will have an immense display of poultry at the Omaha poultry show, to be held Thanksgiving week, November 27 to December 2.

The educational exhibit from the University will occupy the entire east end of the Auditorium, where the show will be held. Prof. M. E. Dickson, head of the poultry husbandry department, will have charge of the exhibit.

Movies to Be Used
In addition to containing many poultry displays, showing the stock that is raised at the college of agriculture, the exhibit will endeavor to teach the important points of poultry raising. Motion pictures will be used in connection with the exhibit.

The "movies" will show different methods of picking and caponizing and will illustrate the life of the chicken from the farm to the packing house ready for shipping.

Model Plant
One display which promises to be a main feature of the University exhibit is the model poultry plant which will be fully equipped and show in every detail the most up-to-date methods of building and equipping houses for chickens.

This will be the first opportunity of department of poultry husbandry to show what the nature of the work at Nebraska is. The department
(Continued to Page Four)

HUSKERS ARE PREPARING FOR THEIR FIRST GAME

OFFENSE DISPLAYS BUT LITTLE POWER AGAINST FRESHMEN

Coaches Concerned Over Outlook for Tomorrow's Game—Shaw Will Not Play

Continuing the series of secret practices in preparation for the Drake game tomorrow, varsity and scrubs engaged in a long scrimmage on Nebraska field yesterday afternoon. By far the greater portion of the time was taken up by trying out the varsity offense, with indifferent success.

The feature of the practice, outside of its flatness, was the work of "Pat" Norris, scrub tackle. Norris, who hails from Halligan's town, North Platte, played a brilliant game of freshman football, following a prep school career in which he convinced the people of the home town that he was every bit the equal of his fellow citizen, Mr. Halligan, but did not flourish under the Stiehm regime.

Norris' Touchdown
Norris appeared in scrimmage last night for practically the first time, and played in mid-season form. He was mixed up in every play; broke through the varsity defense in the smashing style which made him famous in high school football, and finally, not content with spoiling varsity formations, picked up a fumble and raced fifty yards for a touchdown.
(Continued to Page Three)

The encouraging showing of Norris comes in good time, for it was definitely announced yesterday that "Ed" Shaw would not take part in Saturday's encounter. It looks as though Norris would be called upon to fill the all-valley shoes left vacant by Shaw; although Wilder, who has been holding down Shaw's place in the scrimmage from which he has been absent, has been playing a steady, consistent game.

Never was pre-season dope so thick in the dope bucket as it was on Nebraska field yesterday. Although given little chance to show what they could do with the ball on the offense, the scrubs succeeded too well in stopping any varsity maneuver that might be tried. There seemed to be too many holes in the stonewall.

Weak Offense
But it is not the line which is causing Doctor Stewart and his assistant, "Dick" Rutherford, to assume a particularly serious attitude when the opening game is mentioned. The Husker
(Continued to Page Three)

WILSON LEADS IN STRAW VOTE

Workmen on Chemistry Building Vote 51 to 9 in Favor of Democratic Candidate

Woodrow Wilson proved the popular presidential candidate, according to the first straw vote taken at the University, among the sixty workmen of the Chemistry building. Slips of paper were handed out to the workmen and they were asked to state their preference. Fifty-one of them voted for Wilson, nine for Hughes.

The result of the vote was given to a Daily Nebraskan reporter by a man who has been active in republican party circles, and who did not want to have his name appear in print for that reason. The accuracy of the vote is vouched for by the manager of the workmen at the building.

The men included carpenters, brick layers, masons, iron workers and common laborers. No explanation was given for the unanimity of sentiment among the workmen.

HINDS COMMERCIAL CLUB PRESIDENT

Clarence E. Hinds, '18, of Odell, yesterday defeated Owen S. Hand, '18, of Peoria, Ill., for the presidency of the University Commercial club, by a vote of 52 to 49. In the election of a week ago the two candidates tied and the special election was very close and hotly contested.

Good campaign work was done by the supporters of Mr. Hinds, as shown by the fact that twenty-five votes were hustled to the polls during the last fifteen minutes of voting.

Mr. Hinds, who was the former treasurer of the Commercial club, is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, the honorary commercial fraternity.

A smoker by the University Commercial club will be held Saturday night at 7:30 at the Lincoln Commercial club. It is hoped that every member and prospective member will attend and give the club a good start for the year.

Dean Charles Fordyce leaves tonight for McCook, where he will deliver an address tomorrow morning before the School Men's club of southwestern Nebraska.
(Continued to Page Four)

HUGHES COMING; SPEECH IN DOUBT

Charles E. Hughes, the republican candidate for president, will be in Lincoln Sunday and Monday, October 15 and 16, according to yesterday's press reports, but neither he nor his campaign managers have indicated whether in that time he will be able to accept the invitation of the University students to speak before them.

The Delta Upsilon fraternity, of which Mr. Hughes is a member, has been consulting its cook daily, thinking that it might be possible to get the candidate to eat dinner at the chapter house at Sixteenth and R streets, Sunday noon. Whether or not Mr. Hughes will do this is still a matter very much up in the air. His fraternity brothers are hoping, however, that he will be able to spend some time at the chapter house.

The recently organized Hughes and Fairbanks club decided to form a marching club to welcome the candidate when he came to Lincoln. If he arrives here early on Sunday morning, this plan may be abandoned and the club will simply appoint a delegate to greet the former chief justice when he reaches the city.

YELL LEADERS TO TRY OUT

Ambitious Ones Asked to Show Skill at Drake Game Tomorrow

Tryouts for yell leader at the varsity football and basketball games will be held at the Drake game tomorrow. Any man who wishes to try for a place can do so. All who are ambitious are asked to give their names to H. C. Campbell, Innocent, who is in charge of this feature of the varsity games.

Both of the University yell leaders of last year, Burke Taylor and U. S. Harkson, have graduated from the University, leaving their places unfilled. The position is a difficult one, and yet one of the most important to the University, for the value of organized rooting as a factor in winning football games has been demonstrated time and time again.

The yell leaders who are successful in winning places will be taken on the trip to Iowa. Several applications have come in to Campbell, but he is anxious to hear from more so that the best selection can be made.

CORNHUSKERS MEET FIRST FOE TOMORROW

MIKE SELZER

The new style of play introduced by the new coaching system demands a heavy backfield, and Mike Selzer lacks weight. The little halfback may not get into every game, but if he does he will be in the play every minute.

HUGO OTOUPALIK

Hugo Otoupalik plays the first game of his second year of varsity tomorrow afternoon. Last year he appeared at fullback, this year Coach Stewart is working him at end.

CAPTAIN "TIM" COREY

Captain "Tim" Corey's team will receive its first real trial tomorrow afternoon, when it will buck up against the Drake Bulldogs.

TED RIDDELL

Nebraska's right end, second year on the team, who the coaches and other experts have said has all the potential ability of a Chamberlain. Ted's play will be closely watched in the game tomorrow afternoon.

RAY DOYLE

Ray Doyle, better known as "Lum," this year will appear for the last time as a college football player. A charging fullback, he has done yeoman service in previous Husker seasons.