

The Daily Nebraskan

VOL. XVI. NO. 19.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, MONDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1916.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

NEBRASKA ONSLAUGHT CRUSHES DRAKE BULLDOGS

"BEAR-DOPE" FAILS AS HUSKERS PILE UP SCORES

Stonewall Line and Brilliant Offense Displayed Against Weak Iowans

BY DWIGHT P. THOMAS

When Drake's heavy team, clad in their bright blue jerseys, trotted onto the field last Saturday there was not a person among the 1,500 spectators who thought that Nebraska would have an easy time winning from them. But when these same people saw the wonderful machine, which Stewart has developed, working like a great, well-oiled piece of mechanism, they were not surprised that the final score was 53 to 0 with Nebraska on the big end. The showing of the Cornhuskers was brilliant from the time that Riddell ran around Drake's interference and tackled the runner for a big loss to the end when Dobson spoiled a beautiful forward pass for the visitors. No one man can be picked out for the star for the simple reason that every one was a star. The back field naturally produced more thrills than the line, but anyone observing closely could see how that line was holding on every play like a brick wall, and how on defense they were breaking through and spilling plays before they were fairly started.

Cook Made a Hit

Cook probably made the best impression of all. The little squirmer made two brilliant runs of 43 and 52 yards and several smaller gains of from 5 to 20 yards. The most noticeable thing about his work was that his runs were in no way flukes, they were all made from regular formations. Gardiner showed the greatest tendency to be consistent, for whenever a few yards were needed he was given the ball and would make them.

Discrimination between the more or less brilliant ones of the rest of the back field is almost impossible, Rhodes and Dobson, the two new men, who were both playing their first game for the Scarlet and Cream, both did excellent work. "Dusty," who played almost all the game was a sure gainer through the line and once got away for a fine long run. Dobson wasn't given very many chances to show what he could do but he did a lot on his own hook in spilling passes and stopping runners. In addition he made a twenty yard run for a touchdown on one of the most clever trick plays of the day.

Riddell and Otoupalik

Riddell and Otoupalik, end-halfbacks, played brilliantly in both positions and fulfilled the predictions of many fans that they would be two of the most valuable men on the team this year. Doyle at fullback displayed a surprising amount of nerve in diving head first over the line, time after time, reminding the spectators of the style of game put up by Julian the great Michigan Aggie fullback Proctor and Caley showed the same brand of stellar work as the others, during the short time they were in.

In the line the work of Corey and Moser stood out most prominently, although Dale, Kositzky, Wilder, Norris and Cameron played well.

Those spectators who expected to see a weak offense were doomed to a disappointment. For either Drake has a much weaker team or Nebraska has a much stronger team than last year. It is probable that the latter is the case as Drake was touted as being much stronger than last year. While anyone who looks closely can see that with all the veterans which she has and with new men who are showing up better all the time, Nebraska must of necessity have a strong team.

At any rate the victory was achieved easily and without exposing many of the coach's pet plays to the eager eyes of the scouts in the stands. There were plenty of said scouts occupying seats on the field. There were four, very conspicuously seated in the press box, all from the Kansas Aggies. Among them was "Germany" Schultz, assistant coach of the Aggies. But they missed their guess if they thought that they learned a whole lot, for

(Continued on page 2)

UNION SOCIETY CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

The Union Society entertained Friday night at the Temple with a novel program which was in charge of Josefa Seely and Marie Gale. A magazine, with its cover, stories and advertisements was represented.

The idea was carried out as follows: Frontispiece, "Indian Summer"..... Anna Lucky Story..... Alfred Hinze Story..... Grant Watkins Original Poem..... Guy Thatcher Who's Who and Why..... Dorothy Adamson The Construction of a Ford..... Joseph Ihm

The party was the fortieth anniversary of the signing of the constitution, October 6, 1876. Seventy-two members were present and refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

AN URGENT CALL FOR TRACK MEN

Captain Overman Wants 100 Men in Daily Workouts—Chance For Freshmen

Captain Overman of the track team, and Guy Reed, coach, have issued another call for track men, declaring that the number now in training is entirely too small for a university with the large enrollment of Nebraska.

Track work at Nebraska has not been up to standard in the past few years simply because of lack of material. There is a wealth of splendid material in school, the coaches say, but the men do not turn out because they think their chances of landing are not very good. Experience and coaching would make many of them stars on the cinder path and in the field events.

Need 100 Men

One hundred men ought to turn out in daily workouts but a very small part of this number has been out this fall. An appeal is being made for the freshmen to turn out as the teams of the future will come from the freshmen squad of this year. The freshmen will have a chance to participate in four meets this year, two University meets, and one each with Doane and Wesleyan. Numerals will be given to freshmen who make eight points during the year and medals to the point-makers in the two University meets.

All upper classmen who have been in school one year or more are eligible for the team. More upper classmen are needed now for they are the material from which the team will have to be built this year.

UNIVERSITY HALL STILL ABLE TO STAND

Engineering Tests Made Saturday Show No Sags in Building

Engineering tests of University hall made Saturday by Dean Stout, Professor Bridgeman and a number of students of the engineering college, showed that there had been no sag or bulging in the building since the last readings made two weeks ago.

While the University authorities do not anticipate any collapse or any sag, they are taking no chances while waiting for the stays to be put in, and will make a series of tests at frequent intervals to determine whether or not the building is sinking and in a dangerous condition.

Saturday's tests revealed that no change had taken place, and would tend to bear out the statement that the building as it stands would under ordinary usage be good for fifty more years. However, the stays will be placed as soon as possible to insure the safety of the students in the building and on the campus.

CHANCELLOR FULMER SPEAKERS FOR TUESDAY CONVOCATION HOUR

Chancellor Clark A. Fulmer of Nebraska Wesleyan university will speak to the students at convocation tomorrow morning on "The Choice of a Vocation." His address was originally scheduled for two weeks ago, but was postponed.

Dr. Fullmer, who is one of the big educational men of the state, has devoted considerable time to studying this problem which confronts every student, and his lectures on vocational choice are well known. As head of a co-educational institution he has had an excellent opportunity to look at the question from different angles.

Paul Temple, '16, who is in Lincoln visiting his sister, is a guest at the Phi Kappa Psi house.

RECEPTION FOR GERMAN STUDENTS

German Societies and Faculty in Line —To Give Playlet

The Deutscher Gesellige Verein and the Deutscher Schauspiel Verein will give a joint play and reception in Faculty hall to all students of the German department Wednesday night from 8 to 10 o'clock in the Temple. Professors of the German department and their wives, and officers of the club will be in the receiving line.

At 8 o'clock in the theatre preceding the reception, the German playlet, "Im Reiche Der Mutter," will be presented. The cast of characters is as follows:

Prof. Fritz Winter..... Robert Nesbit
Herr von Lanken..... Walter Blunk
Liddy Hellbach..... Clara Shulte
Frau Suttner..... Clara McMahon
Frau Hellbach..... Geneva Seegar
Wrau Hosmini..... Martha Winter
Mr. Nesbit, Miss Shulte and Miss Winter, who have the heavy parts in the play, are experienced in previous University dramatic productions and German plays.

The faculty members who will assist in the reception are Professors Grummann, Fossler, Schrag, Heppner, Alexis and Chamberlain, Miss Craft, Mr. Fritzier and Mr. Thiel.

CHESS BY MAIL

The first game of chess played by Princeton and Ohio State by mail resulted in a tie. The game continued all summer and is the first five games scheduled.—Exchange.

DR. STEVENS ON MEDICAL ETIQUETTE

Addresses 100 Pre-Medics at First Smoker of Season

Dr. J. F. Stevens spoke to 100 Pre-Medics at their first smoker of the season at the Alpha Tau Omega house last Thursday evening on the subject of "The Etiquette of Medicine."

That a man, to be a successful practitioner of medicine must know humanity, was the keynote of the speech. To reach the full measure of a doctor's heritage—to minister healing balms to the suffering and comfort to those distressed, the true physician must practice humanity, not commercialism. The etiquette of a doctor, he said, was the etiquette of a gentleman whose field of usefulness was widened by his power to relieve suffering. Dr. Stevens advocated reading outside of the profession, especially poetry and biography, as one of the best aids in gaining and understanding of humanity.

Plans were laid by the Pre-Medics for their annual dance and trip to Omaha, and for visits to the Orthopedic hospital and state hospital for the insane.

KOSMET KLUB OFFERS $100 FOR NEW PLAY AND MUSIC

EVEN THE GERM OF AN IDEA WILL BE WELCOMED

Play to be Staged in February—Prof. R. B. Scott Will Help Composers With Plot

The University Kosmet Klub offers a prize of $100 for a book and play which it can use next spring for the sixth annual musical comedy of the club.

No plays have been submitted as yet, and the club is anxious to secure one soon. Anyone with the germ of an idea is asked to consult Professor R. B. Scott, who has been so active in producing the club's plays in the past, and who collaborated with students in writing the first three plays put on by the club.

In addition to the reward, the student who writes the play or the music that is used has attained one of the highest honors in University life, the Kosmet play being one of the biggest student events of the college year.

Play in February

The next production will be staged, if the plans of the club can be realized, about the middle of February, 1917. Because this date is not far off, the club is anxious to secure the play soon, and for this reason offers the 100 prize. Professor Scott has offered his services in helping any student who has an idea for a play to develop it into the finished product, and he will give advice as to the best methods of working out the plot and the scenario for the piece.

The Kosmet Klub is now starting upon its sixth year at the University. It was organized for the purpose of producing each year a play in which both book and music would be the original work of University students. The five plays that have been staged have met with the greatest success, a success that has grown with each production, until the annual play is one of the most-looked-forward-to events of the dramatic year in Lincoln, as well as for the University.

KEARNEY CLUB MEMBERS ELECT HEIDER PRESIDENT

Charles Heider was elected president of the Kearney club at its first meeting of the year in the Y. W. C. A. rooms of the Temple Saturday night. Bernice Wood of Gibbon was elected vice-president and Edward Richey secretary and treasurer. Retiring officers of the club are H. P. Magnuson, president, and D. B. Dow, secretary and treasurer.

Twenty-two members of the club, whose membership is limited to those who have at one time been students at Kearney state normal school, were in attendance. Plans for the year were discussed and the rest of the evening spent at games.

Simplified spelling is making a slow but steady progress among the universities and colleges. At this time 144 colleges with over 130,000 students enrolled are using the simplified forms.—Exchange.

HUGHES CLUB ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

Select Jeffries and Trester to Debate Wilson Club Representatives

The University Hughes club voted to accept the challenge of the Wilson club to debate the issues of the present campaign at their meeting last Thursday night, and selected Earl C. Jeffries, '18, and Leonard W. Trester, '19, to represent them. The debate will be held next Thursday evening in the Temple theatre. The democrats will be represented by Robert Waring, '17, and August C. Krebs, law '18.

Both the Hughes and Wilson advocates have been identified with class and varsity debating, and flushed by the increasing intensity of the campaign, are expected by their supporters to put up scrappy arguments. The judges have not yet been selected.

MAKE SUPREME EFFORT TO SEND BAND TO PORTLAND

TUESDAY THE OFFICIAL TAG DAY FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Down-town Business Huseses Will Be Canvassed by Ticket Sellers for Big Dance.

With a seventy-five piece band playing all day, on the campus and down town, underclass and upperclass girls tagging the co-eds and University men selling tickets to Friday's dance down town, the supreme effort to raise the money to send the University band to Portland, Ore., with the football team will be made tomorrow.

All of the Vikings, junior men's organization, and all of the football team are to sell the band tickets, in addition to the men who are named in the list below.

The girls will be tagged by the Black Masques, senior organization; the Silver Serpents, juniors; and the Xi Delta, sophomore girls society. The girls will work on the city and farm campus all day.

Men Ticket Sellers

The men who are to sell the dance tickets down town, taking business house after business house, store after store, and office building after office building, will report Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock sharp at the student activities office, basement of the administration building.

Their names are:

Willard Folsom	Joe Seacrest
DeWitt Foster	Max Miller
Ted Metcalfe	Ralph Doyle
Beauch Musselman	Ellsworth Moser
Spencer Flint	Joseph Riley
Wilton Anderson	Carl Harnsberger
Homer Garson	Lloyd Tully
Don Chapin	Joe Flaherty
Jesse Clark	Cecil Laverty
Lawrence Farrell	Robert Waring
Elmer Rhoden	Victor Halligan
O. J. Fee	Carl Ganz
Ernest Guenzel	Hugo Otoupalik
Phil Watkins	John Cook
Wallace Spear	Lorin Caley
W. L. Townsend	Ted Riddell
Albert Covert	Roy Cameron
S. A. Hoadley	Harold Wilder
Jean Nelson	C. H. Frey
Jack Emly	Lawrence Finney
Marion Shaw	Geo. Newswanger
Carl Brown	Arnold North
Fred Buerstetta	Max Baehr
James Gardiner	Otto Zumwinkle
Edson Shaw	Everett Angle
Tim Corey	Paul Dobson

The faculty of Dartmouth believes in military training so firmly that it has voted to make a student's work at Plattsburg count toward his degree.—Exchange.

JUNIOR CLASS WILL HOLD FIRST MEETING TUESDAY

CLASS WILL ELECT MINOR OFFICERS TUESDAY MORNING

Committee Appointments Expected in a Few Days—Interest Centers on Proms

The first class meetings for the election of minor officers will be held Tuesday morning, when the junior class, on call of the newly elected president, Lloyd Tully, will meet in Law 101, at 11 o'clock.

Presidents of the other three classes are expected to call meetings before the week is over. Each of the classes will elect a vice-president, secretary, treasurer and sergeant-at-arms for the first semester. With the class organization completed, the different divisions will be ready for the work of the semester.

Committees Soon

Appointment of committees for the first semester will be announced soon. The presidents, with their campaign managers and deserving supporters, have been combing the different classes for committee material, and the rewards will be distributed in very short time.

The slate for the senior and junior class committees is said to be practically complete right now. Interest in these two will be centered largely on the chairmen of the prom committees as only the upper classes can give formal parties. Masters of ceremonies for the two dances will also be chosen. Committee places usually carry with them a complimentary ticket to the dance, if much work is done, so many places are considered good.

Hop committees will be appointed in all classes. These informal parties are always popular, and a good deal of rivalry usually exists among the committee chairmen to produce the best party.

Interest in Olympics

In the freshmen and sophomore classes, the principal interest will center on the personnel of the Olympics committees. The annual battle between the two classes will be staged at the state farm on the morning of November 18, the day of the Kansas game, the annual home-coming game this year.

Hundreds of alumni are expected from out of town for the day and it is anticipated that most of them will go to the farm to see the Olympics. The freshmen will face a class that won the battle last year, ending the affray by throwing most of the sophomores into the Salt creek.

The first year men are not dismayed, however, and think that with good leadership their numbers are bound to carry the day.