PRICE FIVE CENTS

1,000 STUDENTS TO GIVE TEAM FAREWELL TUESDAY

MASS MEETING IN ARMORY AT 7:30 AS STARTER

Torchlight Parade of Cheering Cornhuskers to Escort Team to the Train

To let the football team know that the school they represent is behind them, Nebraska University students will rally in Memorial hall tomorrow night, and in a torchlight procession, escort the team to the railroad station just before the train pulls out for Portland.

The rally will be in charge of a committee of thirty students, it will be short and snappy, but the spirit will be there. Coach Stewart had a glimpse of Nebraska spirit at its worst last Thursday; scores of students have said that he will be shown the spirit at its best tomorrow night.

Clans to Gather

The band will play between the Armory and University at 7:30 tomorrow night, as the signal for the gathering of the clans. At 7:40 one thousand students will go into the Armory, where they will hear a few short speeches. The coach, the captain, possibly an alumnus or faculty member, will tell what must be done to Dr. Stewart's old bunch.

Then the torchlight procession will form on Twelfth street in front of the Armory, march down Twelfth to P, east to Sixteenth, and then west to the railroad station.

The band that is going to Oregon, Nebraska University's band, will lead the parade. Then will come a portion of the howling mob of students. The team, in a special chariot of its own, dragged by students, will be next. More howling students will follow. The great ear of corn that symbolizes the University, will be hauled next in line. A number of other features will be introduced for the affair, and Lincoln citizens will be made aware that the University has a team, that it is going to Oregon, and that it is going to Oregon to win.

A committee of thirty students, headed by Homer Hewitt of the Innocents, will direct the students in the parade. Their names follow:

RALLIES TO TALK MEDICAL SUPERVISION

Men Will Meet in Temple, Girls in Memorial Hall, Tomorrow at 11 O'Clock

Mass meetings of men and women students to discuss the establishment of medical supervision and a medical aid bureau at the University will be held tomorrow morning at convocation hour.

The girls will meet in Memorial hall. The men will meet in the Temple theatre. The project will be explained to both groups, and it is probable that the students will take some action looking towards getting the system installed this year.

Many state universities have a provision for free medical inspection and dispensary services for the students, provided for in a fee collected with the registration fees. The plan has proved a great success in those schools that have tried it, and is expected to meet with great favor here.

ELLA WILLIAMS, '16 EDUCATES PRESIDENTS AND READS NEBRASKAN

"Don't let me lose out on a single issue," cries Ella A. Williams, '16, in sending her subscription for The Daily Nebraskan. Miss Williams was a prominent student in dramatic art while at the University, playing the lead in several dramatic club and class plays.

Miss Williams is at Barnum, Wyo., now, teaching school in a little town a hundred miles from the railroad. She writes: "I'm spending the winter in the occupation of educating future presidents, about a hundred miles from a railroad, so for goodness sake don't forget to publish everything that happens on the blessed old campus, and don't let me lose out on a single issue."

BACK THE TEAM

Such is the wording of a huge sign erected by the engineers at the University of Iowa. The sign has been put on top of the Engineering building and is illuminated at night by means of ninety sixty watt lights equaling 400 candlepower.—Exchange.

Jack Best, Most Beloved of Cornhuskers, Going to Oregon

Jack Best is going to Oregon.

The most loved man on the campus, a man whose loyalty to the Cornhusker school cannot be measured, who has been the sincere friend of every one of Nebraska University's athletes and near athletes, will be sent on the team's longest road trip. He will go hoping to see the Cornhuskers win, confident that they will do their best every minute of the play, and realizing that if they do lose, it won't be because they didn't try.

"Jimmie" is going to Oregon.

NEAR KNOCK-DOWN FIGHT AT GAME

Students Attempt to Capture Seats Held at Reserved Prices

Angered at an extra charge of fifty cents for reserving seats in the center of the south bleachers, students at the game Saturday attempted to rush the guards stationed at the entrance to the best sections and a near free-for-all fight was started. Chief of Detectives Antles, who was seated in the press box, rushed to the scene. He stopped the fracas before any blood was spilled.

Expressions of discontent with the athletic board for charging for reservations to a game with the Aggies were numerous among the students in the stands. The suggestion was made that the guards be brushed aside and the better seats taken. This was attempted, in good natured fashion, but the cadets stuck to their posts, and with a good deal of spirit resisted the onslaught.

One man, who did not look like a University student, and who had offered to bet some money against Nebraska, began to use his fists and struck one of the cadets on the back of the head, when the guard was engaged in the other direction. The chief arrived at this stage of the proceedings and soon quieted the throng. At his solicitation the men went back to the poorer seats.

DEAN FORDYCE ADDRESSED MINNESOTA TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Dean Charles Fordyce of the teacher's college, spent the most of last week in Michigan, where he was one of the principal speakers at the state teachers' association, which met at Menominee.

Dean Fordyce left Lincoln last Tuesday and expected to return yesterday. He spoke at the county teachers' institute at Hebron, Neb., Sunday.

FRESHMEN CLASS MEET IN A JOYOUS MIXER

ALMOST 500 AT PARTY IN ARMORY SATURDAY

Shoe Race Exciting Stunt—Freshman Quartet Proves Popular With Crowd

Almost half of the freshman class gathered together in the Armory Saturday night for the first All-Freshman mixer. Four hundred and ninety odd of the 1,020 first year students registered, danced and ate together in a genuine mixer.

Faculty members in attendance at the affair commended it and declared that class spirit would be materially welded by this miniature melting pot. The big Armory floor was crowded with dancers who, despite the close quarters, derived evident enjoyment and applauded each selection enthusiastically.

TEN ARE DROPPED IN TENNIS TOURNEY

First Round of Singles Play Ended—Some Hard Matches

Ten men were eliminated during the first round of the University tennis tournament which closed Saturday. Several matches were not played by Saturday night, which, according to the rules of the tournament, would be forfeited. Two or three of these were played Sunday.

Flood, Anthes, Weaver, Gildersleeve, Geeson, Line, Power, Louenthal, Garey and Jeffrey, have cleared the first bar successfully. The second round of the tournament will start Monday and will be finished by Friday.

Several of the contestants have flashed a brilliant brand of tennis in their initial matches, and "Eddie" Geeson, last year's champion, will have some of the stiffest sort of competition.

Following are scores of the matches played Friday and Saturday:
Jeffrey-Wright, 6-8; 6-3; 12-10.
Weaver-Saunders, 6-3; 6-2.
Anthes-Withey, 6-8; 7-5; 6-2.
Gildersleeve-Linn, 6-2; 6-2.
Louenthal-Newton, 6-0; 6-2.
Pitman-Garey, 6-0; 6-1.

DR. HILTNER TO ADDRESS MEDICAL STUDENTS TODAY

Dr. Walter G. Hiltner, '04, later of Harvard medical school and for the last five years engaged in practicing medicine in China, will address the medical and pharmaceutical students on "Medical and Pharmaceutical Opportunities in China," at 11 o'clock Monday in M. E. 206.

Prof. A. A. Reed, inspector of accredited schools, is visiting the Schuyler and Fremont schools with Dr. T. H. Briggs of Columbia. These schools have the junior high school organization, which Dr. Briggs is investigating.

AGGIES SHOW STRENGTH; HOLD HUSKERS DOWN

NEBRASKA OFFENSIVE RAGGED; DEFENSE IMPREGNABLE

Kansas Fought Every Minute of the Way—Nebraska Earned One Touchdown

BY DWIGHT P. THOMAS

Although their star player was a failure, the Kansas Aggies, as a team, played excellent ball against Nebraska Saturday. On the other hand the Cornhuskers played ragged ball and should have won by a score of 7 to 0 instead of 14 to 0.

For Nebraska the best men were Caley, Cook, Gardiner and Riddell on the offense. On the defense Corey, Kositzky, Rhodes and Moser showed up well. Caley and Cook gained the most ground from regular formations. They circled the ends and bucked off tackle for repeated gains. Gardiner didn't play up to his usual form but he got to going in the last quarter and made several good runs.

Riddell didn't get a chance to show what he could do until the last quarter but he made up for lost time then. Doyle and Rhodes made frequent gains through the center of the line, although that was a rather hard task, for the Aggies had a well trained line.

Defensive Work
The work of Rhodes and Riddell was excellent on defensive. Riddell repeatedly tackled his opponent, the famous Randalls, for losses, while Rhodes stopped all gains through his side of the line. Corey and Moser did good work also, stopping plays repeatedly. Corey had the best man on the Aggie team to play against. His opponent was Doddrl, a big husky of about 200 pounds, who had a bad habit of getting in the road of Cornhuskers at all times if he was not attended to first. The rest of the line men all did good work on defense.

For the Aggies, as was noted, the work of Doddrl was the best, while Skinner, last year's captain, played a good game at end. The biggest disappointment of the day was the playing of the much touted Randalls, who failed to gain a single yard. Instead he lost all the way from 5 to 15 yards on almost every play. "Stiff" as he is called at Manhattan serves as the correct name for the way he looked to the spectators.

Cause of Score

No one can account for the exact cause of the small score. The Aggies could do absolutely nothing on the offense, making only two first downs and those on forward passes. The ragged interference and the fumbling of Nebraska are two good reasons for the small size of the score.

Even considering these points it seems that something was lacking. There was not much spirit in the play.

SUBMARINE QUESTION FOR VARSITY DEBATE

NEBRASKA BOARD SUBMITS IT TO KANSAS UNIVERSITY

Tryouts for Places on Debating Squad

Will be Held Soon—Fifteen to be Chosen

Submarine warfare on merchant vessels may be the question for debate between Kansas and Nebraska universities this winter, the State University debating board having submitted it to Kansas last Saturday.

The question as stated is: "Resolved, that submarine warfare on commerce as now conducted is incompatible with the rights of neutrals and the law of nations as regards non-combatant enemies."

Should Kansas accept the question Nebraska will have the affirmative at Lincoln, and the negative at Lawrence. Last year Nebraska defeated Kansas at both ends of the question on increasing the nation's armament.

An open try-out debate to select fifteen men to compose the debating seminar will be held before long. From these fifteen, who will work together for several weeks, eight men will be chosen to represent Nebraska on the two teams. The teams will be selected in November.

The members of the Nebraska University debating board who submitted the submarine question to Kansas are Professors H. W. Caldwell, F. M. Flings, M. M. Fogg, G. E. Howard, J. E. LeRosa, and H. K. Wolfe, and Dean W. G. Hastings.

OBSERVATORY OPEN FOR A GLIMPSE OF JUPITER TONIGHT

The University observatory will be open tonight from 8 to 10 o'clock, if the skies are clear, for a view of the planet Jupiter through the telescope. At 10 o'clock there will be a brief lecture, illustrated with lantern slides, by Prof. G. D. Sweeney, the head of the astronomy department. If the sky is too cloudy for observations, the lecture also will be omitted.
