Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Will we beat Oregon? Maybe.

There was a snow storm all day yesterday, a wet, slushy snow that covered the walks and endangered one's neck. Most of the walks in the vicinity of the University were cleaned off, but some of them were not, and the negligence of the property owners was a source of much discomfort to students in general.

It is probably a small matter to let the snow on a sidewalk remain packed hard and slippery for a day, but it is plainly a character barometer of the property owner.

A person who neglects his sidewalks in snowy weather, neglects other things as well.

The people who do the most knocking in the world are the ones who should be knocked the most. There has been much agitation on the part of some sanctimonious reformers, for more democracy in school—democracy—democracy. If they would start the ball rolling by speaking to underclassmen and creating a general atmosphere of good will, instead of picking the flaws out of everything, things would improve rapidly.

The football team will arrive in Portland at 9 o'clock this morning and spend the day in getting acquainted with their new surroundings. They will be thinking of us a great many times, and wondering if we are still behind them.

At four-thirty in Lincoln, Saturday afternoon, the game will begin in Portland—and every man and woman must remember Dr. Stewart's request that Nebraskans be behind the team in spirit at least. He said that the wave of enthusiasm and loyalty will be transmitted to them on the field. We are out there to beat Oregon, and we will do it.

BRIEF BITS OF NEWS

The Alpha Phi house at Leland Stanford university burned down last week. A call was put in to the Palo Alto fire department, but was not answered. The whole sorority and fraternity row turned out to fight the fire, but their efforts were unavailing. The house, which was valued at $14,000, was insured, but the furniture and clothing were a total loss.

The Catholic Students club will hold an initiation at the Cave, near the penitentiary, Saturday night. The primitive savage incantation service will be used. Chief Mumble Jumble of the Dup-Dup will have charge of the ceremony.

OMAHA ALUMNI ORGANIZE TO BOOST FOR CORNHUSKERS

An Omaha Cornhusker club has been formed by University alumni there, which has for its purpose, besides general boosting purposes, to bring at least one of Nebraska's football games to Omaha. The club will attempt to establish an annual game between the alma mater and another representative school to be held in Omaha.

Omaha alumni announced yesterday that they would attempt to increase their donation to the band fund from $100 to $200. The committee in charge of the donation, among the nucleus from which the Cornhusker club was formed, are: Sam Cotner, W. E. Kavan, Dana Van Dusen, A. L. Munger, Coe Buchanan, Ray Higgins, A. E. May, Russel Clark, K. M. Snyder, Anon Raymond, Vincent Hascall, Harold Mulligan, Will Noble, John Cutright, and others.

AG COLLEGE NOTES

Feeding Lambs

Many letters are being received at the Nebraska experiment station asking whether or not it is profitable to feed lambs at the present high price of feeders.

If one can get a margin of 50 cents on the selling price over the buying price, it may be a profitable transaction, is the answer of the animal husbandry section of the experiment station. Two years ago, when corn was 60 cents and alfalfa hay $8, gains on lambs cost $4.88 per hundred. Last year with feed at the same price, lambs fed heavily on corn made gains at $5.53 per hundred, and those receiving a medium feed of corn made gains costing $4.90 per hundred. As corn will probably bring 70 cents and alfalfa hay $10 this winter, it is likely gains will cost upwards of 6 cents a pound. Consequently, a 50-cent margin between buying and selling price should mean a chance for profit to the careful feeder who gets satisfactory gains.

Milk Doubles Egg Production

The use of milk in feeding chickens will double egg production, according to the poultry section of the Nebraska experiment station, Lincoln.

The hen never lays an egg until all the ingredients necessary for the complete development of a chick are present. Since the egg contains protein as well as carbohydrates, any amount of carbohydrates fed in the form of grain will not offset the necessity of protein. Milk given to the birds, either as a drink or in the form of wet mash, will double egg yields. Commercial meat scrap is of equal value, and may be substituted when milk cannot be obtained.

Rural Credits Act

Information regarding the new farm loan act and instructions as to how to form a National Farm Loan association to take advantage of low rates of interest made possible by the rural credits act may be had free upon application to the agricultural extension service of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln. The extension service has also begun to furnish speakers to give talks on the new act and will be glad to continue to send workers to talk at farmers' gatherings whenever they are desired.

SHEEP FEEDERS DAY AT STATE FARM THIS MONTH

The college of agriculture will be "at home" to sheep growers and feeders of the state at the annual "Lamb Feeders' Day" at the University farm, October 31.

Feeders from all parts of the state will be drafted to take part in the program, and eight lots of forty lambs each, which have been fed by the animal husbandry department of the Nebraska experiment station since August 21, will be on exhibition. By that time results on the experiment will have been compiled, and visitors will be able to get a figure story of the experiment as well as a view of the animals used. Last fall over a hundred feeders were guests of the University on "Sheep Feeders' Day," and the same general invitation to the public is being extended this year.

YES, WHAT?

"Football is murderous," says A. L. Gepford, of Shelbyville, Ill. "Whenever a man enters a football game he knows someone may be killed. Therefore the sport is murderous." He also denounced as sinful dancing, kissing, baseball, tennis, mock trials, church fairs and socials, paid choirs, operatic songs, and, last but not least, horse-shoes.

What is left for a fellow to do, anyway?—The Daily Illini.
