Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

"All signs, posters, and announcements will be confined to the bulletin boards, and must be approved by the registrar. No signs, posters or announcements of any sort will be permitted on the fences in or surrounding the campus, on doors of buildings, on the benches or on any other University property except the bulletin boards," according to the forty-sixth annual general catalog of the University, and still, there are posters of all kinds all over the campus, and on the fence outside of the campus.

"No private advertising announcements can be placed upon any of the University bulletin boards," and there is a private advertisement over the walk leading from the corner of Twelfth and R streets to U hall, at the present moment.

"Nor is it permissible to give out handbills or cards of any kind at the gates of the campus"—and if anyone were on or near the campus yesterday, he would have seen, if he did not receive "cards of any kind."

There are University rules, just as binding as any other rule. They should be enforced as well as other rules are enforced.

Everyone knows that the campus is far from beautiful in its natural state of preservation, and a blazing red and white sign may be a success from the advertising point of view, but it is a failure from the aesthetic point of view.

There is a place for all advertisements and notices and if they were put where they belong, people would form the practice of looking in the right place for their information.

Again, the classes in journalism have had the opportunity to hear a prominent newspaper man talk about his profession. Henry J. Allen of Wichita, Kas., one of the most prominent editors of the west, addressed the journalism enthusiasts last evening, and one more brick was laid in the foundation of the realization of the need of a University school of journalism.

Journalism is a science and the theory improves the practice. If Nebraska is to keep her young men and women who aspire to the journalistic field, in Nebraska, more adequate provision for a thorough training in the newspaper and magazine work should be given. And not only would she keep Nebraska men and women, but the young people from the states west and north of Nebraska would be drawn by the opportunity nearer home, instead of going to Missouri or Wisconsin for their training.

Didn't you wish you were about eight years old last night, and could play Hallowe'en pranks on all of "the gang?"

FORUM

A WORD TO UNIVERSITY VOTERS

Within a short time you will be called upon to do your duty as a citizen of the state and nation. The most important consideration before the voters of Nebraska at the coming election is the proposed amendment to the constitution, which if passed will prohibit the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors within the state. This movement is at the bottom of all movements for better government, for preparedness and all other issues of the present day. It is of prime importance in safeguarding the public health, the most important asset any government has. It is believed that the high intelligence of voters who attend the University will demand that they stand unanimous against the traffic that demands for its continuance, a large number of the boys and young men of the state, each year. There is no argument in favor of continuing this traffic except from those, whose pecuniary interests will suffer if the amendment passes.

This traffic is undermining the public health. It is causing a useless expenditure for the care of its victims and consequently a useless burden on the taxpayers. It is ruining many happy homes, and putting thousands of children at work, when they should be in school. It has proven beneficial to neighboring states and promises to do the same for Nebraska. Do you favor the continuance of a traffic of which nothing good can be said and which is to blame for so much evil? It is believed that not a man in the University will stand up for this thing. Tuesday, November 7th is the day to express your opinion in a way that will be felt.

If you intend to vote by mail, and live in a Nebraska town where registration is required, it is necessary that you have a "Certificate of Registration" from your home town. This can be procured for you by another. If you need this certificate and haven't procured it yet, make it a point to do so at once, so that you will not be embarrassed on election day by the lack of it.

Remember, above all, that the casting of your vote is not a privilege but a duty to your state and nation. Do your duty on November 7, next Tuesday.

—P. B. CAMPBELL.

UNIVERSITY YELLS AND SONGS TO FEATURE GIRLS FOOTBALL LUNCHEON

University yells and songs will be a feature of the girls' football luncheon, to be given in the Temple Saturday at 12:30. Speeches there will be and some other stunts, as well as a big lunch.

The luncheon will cost 40 cents. Tickets will be placed on sale in the library, and different girls will have them on the campus. After the meal, the co-eds will go in a body to the Ames game, where they will sit together in a specially decorated portion of the grand stand.

The University of Texas has at least a few of the 5,612 students from foreign countries enrolled in American colleges and universities. Fifty-one countries are represented in American colleges. Texas university has students from about six of these.—Ex.

THE DAYS GONE BY

BRIEF BITS OF NEWS

Prof. C. J. Taylor, principal of the Teachers' college high school, is to address the country teachers' meeting at Schuyler, Saturday.

Dean Charles Fordyce will deliver an address before the fifth annual community institute, Wednesday, November 1. The aim of this institute is to establish a sort of community center for the discussion of popular questions for the benefit of the town and surrounding district.

Students at the agricultural college have decided to stop making short cuts across the grass on the campus. A movement has been started to maintain the beauty of the campus, and the bare spots will be given a chance to grow green again.

The Daily Nebraskan has received two press passes to the Chicago live stock exposition, December 2 to 9, and will be glad to give them to anyone who expects to attend.

Anyone interested or who will be in Chicago on those days, who wants to go as the authorized Nebraskan representative, can have further information at the office, from 4 to 6 o'clock any afternoon this week.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

FRANK A. PETERSON
 Class '05, Law '10

Democratic Candidate for COUNTY ATTORNEY

Five hundred students of the University of Nebraska will probably vote in Lincoln on November 7. Many of the candidates for public office, especially in Lancaster county, are former students of the University of Nebraska. Both from the standpoint of citizenship and of interest and loyalty to the University of Nebraska, the students are probably anxious to learn all they can about the progress of former Nebraska graduates in public life.

Mr. Frank A. Peterson, A. B., '05, LL. B., '10, is the democratic nominee for county attorney of Lancaster county. In the University of Nebraska, Mr. Peterson was a member of Phi Alpha Tau, Phi Delta Phi, Palladian Literary society, German club and Latin club, and was active in the work of each society. He also interested himself in University debate and was a member of the University debating team against Iowa in 1905. In scholarship he also distinguished himself, having won both Phi Beta Kappa and Theta Kappa Nu honors. Since completing his college course Mr. Peterson has practiced law with the law firm of Mockett & Peterson in this city.

Mr. Peterson is waging a very active and vigorous campaign upon the proposition that the county attorney's office should be administered as a public trust and not as a private law office with the county merely as one of its clients.
