Yale undergraduates have formed an aerial coast defense corps. Two hydro-aeroplanes are used in practice daily, and the men in the "overland battery" are all members of senior societies.—Ex.

Resenting an attempt by juniors and seniors to have him, a freshman student at Carroll college, Wisconsin, recently drew a revolver and scattered his tormentors with a volley of shots.—Ex.

That light from all the world concealed,
To me alone be it revealed;
The glory of thy soul lay bare,
And in its brightness let me share—
'Tis this I ask of thee.
—Constance Rummons, '26.

But that bright thought on rainbow wing,
That once across thy soul did fling
The radiance of its golden beam—
'Tis that unspoken glorious dream
That I would know of thee.

My soul I consecrate
To highest thought and aims;
And Thee I supplicate—
O Thou whose legion names
Are but the masks of Thee—
Eternal Entity!
This give me power to do:
To hold my soul still true.
The goal be unattained,
And guerdon never gained,
Tho faltering be my pace,
Still may I turn my face
Unto the distant gleam
Of Truth's directing beam.
—Constance Rummons, '16.

HIKERS' CLUB PLANS WALK TO GREENWOOD AND RETURN, SATURDAY

With the brisk air and bright days of fall, not only football, but walking, has taken a prominent place in the minds of University students, especially the men. The University of Nebraska Hikers' club, an organization formed to promote this almost forgotten art, has announced a contest for members to be held Saturday morning, November 5. With the old men, the initiates will walk to Greenwood and back, all in one morning and in time to see the Ames game.

The Greenwood hike is a favorite one of the club, which has been in existence for some time. Some of the members of the club were among those who started to walk to Omaha last spring, but were held up by rain. The invitation to join the organization was issued by Gifford Carl Kirsch, president, and Leslie Giffen, vice-president.

HOME ECONOMICS WORK IN NORMAL SCHOOLS BEFORE NORMAL BOARD

The state normal school board has called a conference for the home economics teachers of the four state normal schools, Chadron, Peru, Kearney and Wayne. This conference will be held in Lincoln next week and is of marked importance.

The object of the meeting is to provide a means for better correlation between the high school, normal school and university, in the home economics courses.

The plan is to arrange the two-year normal school course so that it will be in concordance with the freshman and sophomore years at the University, and thus full credit can be given here for the work.

BOOKS ON BOOZE

The University Intercollegiate Prohibition association calls to the attention of the students that in a list of the best books on the liquor problem, published by the National Intercollegiate Prohibition association, the following are found in the University library:

Artman, Samuel R.—The Legalized Outlaw.

Calkins, Raymond C.—Substitute for the Saloon.

Cutten, George B.—The Psychology of Alcoholism.

Gorden, Ernest—The Anti-Alcohol Movement in Europe.

Koren, John—Economic Aspects of the Liquor Problem.

Partridge, G. E.—The Psychology of Intemperance.

Northwestern has a "Helen Club," of which only girls by that name are members.—Ex.

CONFESSIONAL

'Tis not thy worldly hope or fear,
O fellow soul! that I would hear;
Nor would I know thy hidden sin—
What dark corruption lurks within—
These things tell not to me!

But that bright thought on rainbow wing,
That once across thy soul did fling
The radiance of its golden beam—
'Tis that unspoken glorious dream
That I would know of thee.

That light from all the world concealed,
To me alone be it revealed;
The glory of thy soul lay bare,
And in its brightness let me share—
'Tis this I ask of thee.
