

The Daily Nebraskan

VOL. XVI. NO. 39.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1916.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

REGENTS AUTHORIZE NEW BUILDINGS

WORKING PLANS ORDERED FOR SOCIAL SCIENCE BUILDING

To Co-operate for New Library—Ask for Army Corps—New Appoint- ments Confirmed

The University regents met Saturday morning in the office of Chancellor Avery, and approved of the revised plans for the social science and teacher's college building, authorizing the architects to proceed with the working drawings.

These two buildings have had to be reduced in size from the original plans, because of the soaring prices of building material from the time the original appropriations were made. Not as many departments can be housed in the social science building as was hoped for and the rhetoric department will have to wait for its new and permanent home.

The approval of the plans means, however, that work on both buildings can probably be commenced early next year.

To Secure Library

A committee consisting of Regents Brown, Miller, Haller, the chancellor and Professor Wyer was appointed to confer with a similar committee appointed by the State Historical society in regard to co-operation of the historical society with the University and the securing of a building erected for the use of both.

The regents authorized the chancellor to make application for a reserve officers' training corps. This provides for the appointment as reserve officers of the United States army those students who have complied with the course of military instruction prescribed by the government.

New Appointments

The following appointments were made or confirmed: Amelia Wekeser, stenographer to the department of agricultural extension; L. T. Skinner, club leader in place of Huldah Peterson, resigned; Curry W. Watson, instructor in farm management in extension and assistant club leader; L. Boyd Rist, district supervisor in county agent work; Wylie R. Ward, Paul H. Stewart, assistants in agronomy; L. O. Vose, assistant in bacteriology; Ray Thomson, fellow, Elythe Baker, Elton R. Davis, graduate assistants, Bessie Rigdon, storekeeper in botany; A. C. Christianson, scholar in chemistry; E. L. McQuiddy, fellow in anatomy; Emelia Brandt, dispensary druggist; C. F. Rusche, assistant in physiology in college of medicine; Mrs. Nelle M. Cass, stenographer in dairy husbandry; Ralph M. Marrs, fellow in educational theory and practice; James Westhoff, scholar in English history; Eugene C. Rowell, fellow in English language and literature; Clarence C. Mickel, assistant in entomology; Chancy L. Premer, fellow in European history; Margaret Wooster, fellow in Germanic language in place of Dorothy Mayland, resigned; Sidney A. Cornell, clerk in office of superintendent of grounds and buildings; Edna D. Bullock, assistant in legislative reference bureau until close of legislative session; Helen B. Morse, Rita Atkinson, assistants in library; Albert Babbitt, Mary Colpitts, instructors and T. J. Fitzpatrick, assistant in mathematics; Thomas H. Smith, instructing mechanic in mechanical engineering; L. G. Raub, B. J. Babbitt, R. W. Hudson, assistants in physics; L. C. Wimberly, scholar in rhetoric; William D. Maynard, Paul F. Clifford, Isabelle Thomas, instructors, Florence L. Taylor, assistant instructor, Catherine Apperson, assistant in Romance language; school of agriculture, Mrs. J. W. Babcock, assistant; William A. Norris, football coach; H. H. Reimund, Abbie Beynon, study room assistants; Harold Boyce, assistant in mathematics; Meta Kunde, teacher in physiology to women; Charles E.

(Continued to Page Two)

PRIZE DAIRY CUPS BACK TO NEBRASKA

THREE SWEEPSTAKES TROPHIES ON EXHIBITION SATURDAY

Won at National Dairy Judging Contest—Nebraska High Among Judging Teams

Three sweepstakes cups, brought back by the dairy stock judging team from Springfield, Mass., where it took first place in the national contest a fortnight ago, were on exhibition in Chancellor Avery's office Saturday morning.

The three cups have been to Nebraska before—three times altogether. In the last six years Nebraska has won cups ten times more than any other school. Cornell is her closest competitor, with six cups to her credit.

Here at Least a Year

The cups will stay in Nebraska's possession until the contest next year, when she will be forced to relinquish them if she fails to win again.

One of the cups was given by the National Dairy Show association, to the team standing highest in all breeds. Another comes from "Hoard's Dairyman," one of the large dairy journals, to the team standing highest in all judging. The third is from the Holstein association, to the team standing highest in judging Holsteins.

The men representing Nebraska at Springfield were W. F. Roberts, O'Neill, who stood highest in the entire contest; C. R. Snyder, Kearney, second high man in the Nebraska team and fourth in the contest; and C. A. Vassey, Liberty. Prof. I. H. Frandsen and Prof. E. G. Woodward accompanied the team.

SOUTH OMAHANS ON ANNUAL TRIP

STOCKMEN SPEND BUSY DAY AT THE STATE FARM

Come in Special Train—Attend Foot- ball Game—Band Plays—Dinner at Noon

One hundred and fifty people from the South Omaha stockyards, accompanied by their band, came to Lincoln in a special train Saturday for their annual visit to the state farm.

The beef and dairy herd and the new Dairy Husbandry building were the principal points of interest shown the stockmen. Dean E. A. Burnett, of the college of agriculture, was in charge of the entertainment, and showed them about the campus.

Chancellor Speaks at Dinner

A dinner, at which the chancellor and board of regents were guests, was held in Home Economics hall at noon. Chancellor Avery gave an address of welcome to the visitors, and E. P. Brown, of Davey, spoke for the regents. John R. Webster responded for the stockmen.

After the dinner the visitors, following an annual custom, marched behind their band to the football game, where a block of seats was reserved for them.

DR. DOLE, PEACE WORKER, AT CONVO- CATION TUESDAY

Dr. Charles E. Dole, president of the Twentieth Century club of Boston and of the Society to Abolish War, will address the students at convocation Tuesday morning. Dr. Dole is a minister and writer of national reputation and has been very prominent in the peace movement. He is to deliver several addresses while in Lincoln.

IOWANS STUDY BESSEY HALL

SEEK IDEAS FOR IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY BUILDING

Several Hours Spent on New City Campus—Impressed with the Structure

Bessey hall, named in honor of the former dean and head of the department of botany, who died more than a year ago, was inspected Saturday by a committee appointed by the board of control of Iowa university. The Iowans came for the purpose of getting ideas for a proposed building for botany and geology at Iowa university.

Edward Schoentgen of Council Bluffs was the chairman of the committee. Other members were State Senators Stuckslager and Lambert, the latter of whom is the father of the famous "Cy" Lambert, who played with the Ames Aggies a few years ago; State Architect Proudfoot, Professor Kay, head of the department of geology; and Professor Schimek, head of the department of botany.

Prof. R. J. Pool, head of the Nebraska University department of botany, and Prof. R. H. Wolcott, head of the department of zoology, met the visitors at the station and conducted them through the building. After several hours in the new structure, the guests were taken to the Commercial club for luncheon and to the football game afterwards.

A. E. SHELDON MAKING HISTORICAL SIGN FOR BURLINGTON RAILROAD

Chief Engineer F. T. Darrow of the Burlington railroad, has asked Director A. E. Sheldon of the legislative reference bureau to construct a large sign, as a matter of interest to passengers, giving the legend of the ancient Otoe Indian village. The sign will be placed on the new cutoff of the Burlington right-of-way between Chalco and Yutan, where the line runs through the Indian village.

In preparing the sign Mr. Sheldon has given the following dates:

July 24, 1804—Lewis and Clark scouts.
September 21, 1833—Chief Itan's treaty with the United States.
May 11, 1834—Missionary Moses Merrill. First school for Indians.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS

Some of the new books just received at the loan desk in the Library are: Aboriginal Siberia, Czapeleka. Animal World, The, Gamble. Electricity, Kapp. Elizabethan Literature, Robertson. Ethics, Moore. Evolution of Plants, Scott. Henry Demarest, 2 vols., Lloyd. History of Freedom of Thought, Bury.

History of Philosophy, Webb. Landmarks in French Literature, Stracher. Modern Geography, Newbign. Milton, Bailey. Mythology of all Races—North American, Alexander. Plant Life, Farmer. Problems of Philosophy, Russell. Russian Literature, Baring. Storia Dell Questions Orientale, Bamberg. Successors of Drake, Corbett. United States Mining Statutes, U. S. Bureau of Mines. Yun-Nan, the Link Between India and the Yangtze, Davies.

E. A. Fricke, '10, and Richard Brown, '11, were visitors at the pharmacy college Friday.

250 GIRLS AT FOOTBALL FEAST

ANNUAL LUNCHEON PRECEDES AMES GAME

Louise Coe, Toastmistress—Peppy Talks Made by Students and Alumnae

The Girls' football luncheon at the Temple Saturday was exceedingly well attended with 254 girls present. All available tickets were sold before Thursday noon and many more were turned away because of lack of accommodations. Many alumnae girls were present to renew old acquaintances.

Louise Coe, '17, was toastmistress. Marguerite Kauffman, '17, spoke for the active girls. She said "The Scrimmage," her subject, was to the game proper, what college education is to life. She emphasized the importance of hard training for the game.

Edna Froyd, '16, represented the alumnae in telling of "The Game." Miss Franny Drake, the faculty representative, talked on "The Goal." In connection with the game Saturday, she said the goal we were striving for was to get Ames' goat. "The big idea," she added, "is to aim to be worthy of the goal we are striving for in life, whether we win or not."

Small "N" kewpies were sold after the luncheon. These dolls were dressed in scarlet and cream with china hats bearing a large red "N." Their sale far exceeded expectations and there were not enough to go around. Plans were made for the girls to sit in a special section reserved for them, but failed to materialize because of lack of support.

Ruth Whitmore, '17, and Mildred Gillilan, '19, led the cheering and songs which were given with great enthusiasm. Doris Scroggin, '17, was general chairman of the luncheon.

MERMAIDS MAY SWIM A LOT

Sixteen, Instead of Ten Dips, Possi- ble in the High School Pool

Miss Ina E. Gittings, director of women's gymnasium, in charge of swimming for University girls, has announced that the girls holding tickets marked for ten swims may take additional plunges during the following days of this semester: November 9, 11, 16, 18, 23, 25; December 7, 9, 14, 16; January 4, 6, 11, 13, 18, 20. Providing the pool is not crowded, holders of tickets may come the sixteen times.

Swimming for girls in the high school pool on Thursday evenings, 7:30 to 9:30, and Saturday mornings, 9:30 to 11:30, has met with better success this season than since this branch of co-ed exercise was started. In former years it has been difficult to get a sufficient number of girls to engage a pool, but over 140 signed up for tickets when a call was made for the seventy necessary to insure the pool.

During the last week there were over a score of applications for tickets, and it is likely that when all have signed, there will be more than 150 co-eds who have signified their desire to swim.

JEAN BURROUGHS AND MARIE CLARK FEATURE IN SOCCER FOOTBALL

An evenly matched and thrilling game of soccer, ending in a 1 to 1 score, was staged on Nebraska field Friday morning by the co-eds. Both teams had to fight hard for every gain which was made.

(Continued to Page Four)

COREY BEATS AMES BY FIELD GOAL—SCORE: 3 TO 0

NEBRASKA TAKES ANOTHER STEP TOWARD VALLEY TITLE

Aggies a Powerful Team—Coach Stew- art's Proteges Weak on the Offensive

Nebraska eliminated Ames from the race for the Missouri Valley conference title, Saturday, when the Cornhuskers squeezed through a 3 to 0 victory over the Iowa Farmers.

The game was exceedingly dull from start to finish. It early became a punting duel between Dobson for Nebraska and Sloss for Ames. The honors were about even, with the Nebraskans having the edge, on actual distance gained.

The stellar performers for Nebraska were Caley, Dobson, Cook and Corey. Corey draws the honor of scoring the only points of the day when he booted a neat field goal from the fifteen-yard line.

Caley, the pep peddler, was on the job as usual, with his short end runs and forward passes. Dobson played a fine plunging game in addition to his punting, which was one great factor in the Nebraska victory. Cook pulled off several good thrillers during the short time he was in. It was due to a seventeen-yard run by John that Captain Corey's score was possible. Shaw showed up well on defense, although injured quite often.

Ames Stars

Sloss and Aldrich were the Ames stars, although Packer, the big end, played a fine defensive game. Sloss did most of the heavy work, including passing and punting. The entire Ames line showed more fight than the forwards of Nebraska could exhibit.

Scouts who hoped to see what Nebraska had in the line of forward passes and trick plays, were doomed to deep disappointment. Three scouts were at the game, each representing one of the teams, Kansas, Iowa and Notre Dame, which the Cornhuskers have yet to play. "Beau" Olcott, the Kansas head coach, Howard Jones, assistant Iowa coach, and Frank Rockne, a Notre Dame assistant, were the three scouts present.

First Quarter

The first quarter opened with Nebraska receiving the kickoff. The Cornhuskers failed to gain and Dobson punted. Ames was forced to punt and Nebraska followed suit on the fourth down. Dobson took a healthy swipe at the ball and it sailed, a beautiful spiral, for 70 yards. It was one of the longest and prettiest kicks seen on Nebraska field for years.

After Ames punted twice and Nebraska returned the compliment, the Iowans pulled a beautiful forward pass which was good for at least 20 yards.

The quarter ended after Dobson punted. Ames had clearly outplayed Nebraska during this quarter.

Second Quarter

The second quarter opened with one of the queerest plays ever witnessed on a gridiron. Ames fumbled on the second play. Kositzky fell on the ball and after lying there a moment decided he would rather run. As Ames was perfectly willing he set out for the goal with no one in his road.

Suddenly the ball became too slippery or heavy and he dropped it. An Ames man then accidentally booted the ball back, in the direction from which it came, into the arms of Ben Dale, who rolled over on it and clutched it tightly.

Nebraska had recovered an Ames fumble and gained about ten yards when the smoke had finally cleared away.

The play during this half was entirely in favor of Nebraska. Riddell intercepted an Ames pass and returned twenty yards. A perfectly executed pass from Riddell to Corey netted a twenty-five-yard gain just before the half ended.

Second Half

The second half started off in a blaze of glory for the Cornhuskers. Moser recovered an Ames fumble and on the next play, Cook, who had taken Caley's place, made seventeen yards on a tackle buck.

Nebraska gained four yards in the next three downs. Captain Corey then dropped back to the fifteen-yard line and booted a perfect field goal.

Ames perked up after this score and showed the Cornhuskers up for a while. They were soon quieted, however, and the punting duel proceeded to the end of the quarter.

Fourth Quarter

The fourth quarter was mostly Nebraska's. The Farmers failing to make first down at any time. The features of the Nebraska attack were an eighteen-yard sprint by Caley and two passes from Corey to Otcupalik, which netted a total of fifteen yards.

A great disappointment was expressed by many rooters as to the outcome of the game. But with cheering, such as has been exhibited so far this year no team must be expected to win, and unless the spirit of the bleachers makes a great change in the next two weeks, Nebraskans are liable to come to grief before the season is over.

The lineup:

Nebraska.	Ames.
Otcupalik	Packer
Cameron	Breeden
Kositzky	Barker
Moser	Firkins
Dale	Erskine
Shaw	Denfeldt
Corey	Janda
Caley	Johnson
Riddell	Aldrich
Doyle	Sloss
Dobson	Heater
Referee—J. A. Reilly, ex-Michigan;
umpire—Harry Hadden, K. C. A. C.;
head linesman—Kearns, ex-Bellevue.

(Continued to Page Two)

TEAR OFF AND VOTE IN PROPER BALLOT BOX

Daily Nebraskan Straw Ballot

Vote for ONE	For President of the United States
<input type="checkbox"/>	WOODROW WILSON Democrat
<input type="checkbox"/>	CHARLES E. HUGHES Republican
<input type="checkbox"/>	ALLEN E. BENSON Socialist
<input type="checkbox"/>	J. FRANK HANLY Prohibition

Statewide Prohibition

Do you favor the proposed constitutional amendment to make Nebraska dry, May 1, 1917.

- I vote YES, for the Amendment.
 I vote NO, against the Amendment.