Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

In an effort to facilitate and hasten the unified rooting which is so necessary for the football games, two extra sections have been reserved on the south side of the field. In this way, both the new men and women will be near each other, where the cheer-leaders can get their enthusiasm and draw out the right spirit. The spirit at Nebraska is better this year than it has been for a long time, and although the cheering has not been what it should have been, there is a better opportunity now to show what it can be.

The test of good-nature has been given a good chance in some of the political arguments around the campus, the past few days.

Now watch for the unlucky ones paying debts.

The words of the "Scarlet and Cream" are in today's issue, and anyone can see for himself that the words are inspiring and ought to be a real "peg-generator." Will someone answer the questions in yesterday's Forum letter, and tell why Nebraska has no real alma mater song, and why the scarlet and the cream has been abandoned?

Don't go around looking for a scrap, and don't develop the idea that life isn't worth living unless it is peppered with outbreaks of abnormal, ingrown enthusiasm. And just because the sun doesn't rise and set the way you want it to, don't blame the sun. Just try to believe that everyone is trying to do his best and if you do your best, the world will seem a much happier place.

Listen to the people saying, "I told you so," today. Strange that so many come to light, all of a sudden!

FORUM

Nov. 7, 1916.

To the Editor of The Daily Nebraskan:

I want to call your attention to the brand of sportsmanship which has been manifested not only upon the campus since the Ames game but also has found voice in the columns of your paper.

If a Cornhusker team does not win by so large a score that there is no argument as to which team is superior there is much wailing and knocking by a great many of the "football bugs" that the team, coach and every other official in vital touch with the team have a difficult time in bolstering up their spirits after every close game.

What is the matter with our spirit? On of the pluckiest fights ever put up by a football team was displayed by the Cornhusker cripples last Saturday.

An Ames man, high in athletic circles at that institution, remarked after the game that no matter what team ever beat Nebraska or played her a close game, it was impossible to get credit for it. It is always blamed upon the Cornhusker coach or the lack of fighting spirit of the team.

Can't we give our opponents credit for having a good team?

Such spirit as we have manifested during the past few days is discouraging to the team and the coaches, unjust to our opponents and a reflection upon the University we all wish to serve.

Very truly yours,

GUY E. REED.

SCARLET AND CREAM

University of Nebraska

1. Sing to the colors that float in the light,

Hurrah for the Scarlet and Cream! Scarlet the hue of the roses so bright, And pale is the lily's fair gleam. Scarlet the East at the breaking of the dawn.

And Scarlet the West when the sun is gone.

Hail! Hail to the colors that float in the light,

Hurrah for the Scarlet and Cream!

2. Scarlet the ruby, the jewel so rare, With colors so brilliant and true. Pale is the pearl, so bright and so fair,

And clear as the drop of dew. Bright are our colors, as fair as a dream. Hurrah for Nebraska and Scarlet and Cream.

Hail! Hail to the colors that shine in the light,

Hurrah for the Scarlet and Cream.

3. Here's to the college whose colors we wear,

Here's to the hearts that are true. Hail to Alma Mater, Nebraska so fair!

Hail to our colors, too. Garlands of Scarlet and Cream intertwine.

And hearts that are true and voices combine.

Hail! Hail to the college whose colors we wear.

Hurrah for the Scarlet and Cream.
