LAUNCH SUFFRAGE MOVE AMONG UNIVERSITY GIRLS

SUFFRAGE TEA AT THE TEMPLE TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Every Nebraska Girl Asked to Hear
Mrs. W. J. Bryan Explain
Suffrage Cause

The woman's suffrage movement among the women students of the University, with the 1918 campaign as the special objective, will be launched at a suffrage tea to be held tomorrow afternoon at fifteen minutes to 3, in Faculty hall of the Temple. Mrs. William Jennings Bryan will be the speaker of the afternoon.

Every University girl, whether or not she is now actively interested in the cause of suffrage, is asked to be at the meeting. The object of the tea is to start an organization that will be democratic, that will include the great majority if not all of the Nebraska University girls, and that will be representative of every county and every precinct in the state.

Present at the tea, and acting as sponsors for the organization that is expected to be formed, will be a committee of sixteen, an advisory board to the University chapter of the National Intercollegiate Suffrage society.

A Series of Meetings
As an aftermath of the meeting the series of meetings, probably one every month, at which every angle of the question of the franchise will be discussed. It is intended to thoroughly inculcate in the Nebraska girls the ideals of the leaders in the cause, to acquaint them with the suffrage proposition, so that they will understand just why the vote is being asked for women, and what it is expected to bring to them.

Mrs. Bryan, who speaks tomorrow, has been one of the foremost women in advocating votes for women. She has spoken at many different places the country over, sometimes with her husband, who is an ardent exponent of the suffrage cause, but more often without him. The opportunity to hear and meet her is one that should not be neglected by the Nebraska girls.

An organization of the University girls—a suffrage council—has been quietly at work for the past two or three weeks, preparing to launch this movement. It is composed of representatives of the sororities and principal girls' boarding houses, and has succeeded already in arousing a great deal of interest in the cause.

No Torch Bearing

"We do not propose to train the Nebraska girls to carry a torch or to give stump speeches," one of this council said yesterday. "We want all the girls to thoroughly understand the need of the vote for the women of the nation and the state, so that when the time comes they can exert their influence in their homes and in their home communities to secure the ballot for women.

"The meetings that we will have will be largely study hours, when women who have been prominently identified with the movement will address us. We want a big, democratic organization of Nebraska girls who are working for suffrage, and who know why they are for it and what can be accomplished by it.

The women on the advisory board who will be at the meeting tomorrow will be Mrs. Samuel Avery, Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. W. E. Hardy, Mrs. H. H. Dorris, Mrs. Frank P. Quick, Miss Merna Sedgwick, Miss Mary Graham, Miss Laura Pfeiffer, Miss Sarah Muir, Miss Blanche Garten, Miss Lois Fossler, Mrs. Herbert Avery, Miss Edna Gund, Miss Elenora Miller, Miss Mary Stuart and Mrs. Lynn Lloyd.

NEBRASKAN STAFF AT WORK ON ANNUAL FOOTBALL NUMBER

The Daily Nebraskan football edition will be issued this year on Thanksgiving, the day of the battle with Notre Dame on Nebraska field.

The staff has already commenced work on what it is believed will be the finest football edition ever put out at the University. The paper will depart from the stereotyped form of its predecessors, and will be gotten up in a style somewhat different from that used during the past years.

The edition will be a splendid one to send to the alumnus or the former student, to recall the good old days. The staff expects to print an edition of 10,000, the largest edition of a University publication ever made.

FIRST TRYOUTS FOR SOPHOMORES

TESTS FOR SECOND-YEAR MEN SCHEDULED FOR NOV. 15

Rally to Be Scheduled Soon—Committee Issues Call for Amateur Pugilists

The initial Olympics tryouts for sophomore candidates was scheduled for next Wednesday evening, November 15, in the chapel at a meeting of the sophomore Olympics committee in the Temple last night. The big pep meeting for the second-year men will be announced later.

Chairman of Olympics Robert Wenger, has begun a wide advertising campaign for amateur pugilists to represent the class in their annual clash with the freshmen, November 18. Applications in this particular department have been scarce, and the committee, confident that the sophomores will be able to hold their own against the freshmen in the other events, are very anxious to strengthen their chances in boxing and wrestling. Although several likely looking prospects have asked for a chance in the latter, there are still vacancies, and more candidates are desired for this event also.

Awaiting the approach of their big "pep" meeting and initial tryouts next Tuesday, the freshmen are showing growing enthusiasm and confidence. Their determination to begin the career of the class in a proper manner has been responsible for a promising response to Chairman Augustine's call for candidates issued Thursday, but in both boxing and wrestling the freshmen still need tryout candidates.

OMAHA ALUMNI OF UNIVERSITY ARE TO BANQUET TODAY

Frank H. Woodland, '09, is to be toastmaster at the University of Nebraska alumni luncheon which will be held at 12:15 today at the Romaine hotel at Omaha.

The toast list includes: E. P. Brown, '92, university regent; J. G. Masters, principal of Omaha central high school; Edna L. Marquardt, '05, county superintendent of Cass county; Elizabeth M. Shaffer, '10, instructor in the David City high school.

Phi Kappa Psi Revive An Ancient and Honorable Game

The ancient and honorable game of horseshoes—that delight of the fire-laddies in the great cities, that pastime of the village yokels as they congregate near the smithy, that joy of the farmers as they relax from a day in the field, that occupation of the politicians in an off year—has been revived at the University by the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

The dinner bell rings too soon at the house, and the meal lasts entirely too long now, with the lure of the

RUTHERFORD WANTS TO MEET CLASS FOOTBALL MANAGERS MONDAY

Assistant Coach "Dick" Rutherford has announced a meeting of the managers of the class football teams in his office Monday morning to go over important business regarding the annual games for the inter-class football championship.

Scouts will soon be busy looking for likely material with which to build football machines. The class season usually begins shortly after the close of the intercollegiate season, and the championship is often decided on a cold, cold day in January. It is reported that efforts will be made this year to start the season earlier and schedule the games in time to dispose of them before the Christmas recess.

SENIOR LAWS TO LEGISLATURE

F. C. RADKE AND L. T. FLEET- WOOD ELECTED TUESDAY

Roommates Will Represent Cedar and Dixon Counties in Session of 1917

Room mates for six years and members of the senior law class, L. T. Fleetwood of Wakefield and F. C. Radke of Wynot will also go to the state legislature together as a result of the election Tuesday, when Fleetwood was chosen representative of the Fourteenth district from Dixon county, and Radke was voted similar powers for the Fifteenth district of Cedar county.

In both cases the election was won by energetic campaigning during the summer months. Returning to school to resume their studies this fall, Fleetwood and Radke were the choice of their counties when the question was decided at the polls Tuesday. Fleetwood received a majority in every precinct over his two opponents, Murenburger, and a late nominee, McKeeson, placed on the ballot by petition. Radke had keener competition, winning over the other candidates, S. O. Reese of Randolph by the narrow margin of ninety-four votes.

Are Roommates
Six years ago Radke and Fleetwood started to room together. In 1914 Radke received his A. B. from the University, and Fleetwood got the same degree a year later. They entered the law college at the same time, and both will graduate in June.

Neither Radke nor Fleetwood could tell friends yesterday just when the idea of running for the legislature occurred to them. When the people of Cedar and Dixon counties began to look over the list of available men to represent them in the state law-making body, they just naturally chose these two room mates.

SECOND INFORMAL DANCE AT THE ARMORY SATURDAY NIGHT

The second informal dance of the present University year will be held at the Armory tomorrow night, with

JINX IS STILL HOVERING AROUND HUSKER CAMP

COOK, GARDINER AND SHAW ON HOSPITAL LIST

Omaha and Lincoln High Schools to Battle on Nebraska Field
Saturday

The varsity received rather rough handling at the hands of the scrubs last evening on Nebraska field. Every time the varsity failed to make distance they took the ball back twenty yards. As a result they were going backwards most of the time.

Cook was forced to leave scrimmage early, due to a minor injury, but will probably be back in the harness by Monday. Gardiner, who has not reported for practice this week, expects to be in the workouts next week. Shaw is still suffering from his twisted ankle and knee.

The rest of the squad is in fair shape, but with several of the regulars gone the spirit of the remaining men is not as great as it would be otherwise.

Omaha-Lincoln Game

The varsity will not hold a practice Saturday afternoon, the field being given over to the Lincoln and Omaha high schools, who will battle for the state high school championship. The Cornhuskers will engage in a stiff practice this afternoon and tomorrow morning, and will then start in earnest Monday to prepare for Kansas.

It will be worth any student's time to attend the game Saturday. Besides seeing a good game of football he might learn something about school spirit that would do him some good.

There has always been intense though friendly rivalry between Lincoln and Omaha, and as a result feeling runs high when teams representing the two schools meet in any sort of a contest.

FACULTY MEN TO REPRESENT UNIVERSITY AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Nebraska will be represented at the meeting of the association of agricultural colleges and experiment stations to be held in Washington, D. C., November 15, 16 and 17, by Dean O. V. P. Stout, Dean E. A. Burnett and Prof. C. W. Pugsley. They will leave Saturday for the meeting of the association, which comprises fourteen of the largest universities, including Harvard and Yale.

Prof. O. J. Ferguson will attend a meeting of the national electric light association being held at New York on the same days. The object of this meeting is to make available for students the data and results of the recent investigations in this field. Professor Ferguson will stop off at Chicago on his return.

"READY MONEY" IS POSTPONED

DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY NOT FOR HOMECOMING WEEK

Lad Kudik's Withdrawal from School and Illness Interferes with Plans

"Ready Money," the Dramatic club play which was to have been given November 17, the day before the homecoming game with Kansas university, has been indefinitely postponed.

The withdrawal from school of Lad Kudik, who had an important part in the play, and the illness of several members of the cast, so that they could not attend rehearsals, has forced the postponement of the production.

In making the announcement of the change in plans last night, Homer Hewitt, the business manager for the Dramatic club, said that the play would be given soon, but he could not state definitely when. Announcements will be made later.

Ward's orchestra furnishing the music. University people only will be allowed, and no stags. The price, as for the first party, will be but fifty cents a couple—which is intended to pay just the cost of the music, the refreshments, and the programs.

The first informal dance was a success with about sixty couples present. If the University people attend in sufficient numbers to make the parties pay, they will be continued.

W. J. BRYAN TO SPEAK SUNDAY AT THE OLIVER

W. J. Bryan will speak to men at the Oliver theater upon the subject, "Missions and World Peace," Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is the first of a series of Sunday afternoon meetings to be held throughout the winter months, under the auspices of the City Young Men's Christian association of Lincoln. These so-called "Oliver Meetings" have been held for the past sixteen years, and they afford a fine opportunity for the students of the University to get in touch with many of the leading platform men of the day.

SORORITY GIRLS TO EAT AT NIGHT

CONCESSION MADE IN THE NEW RULES JUST ADOPTED

But Co-eds Must Be Out of Hotels by the Midnight Hour—Old Rules
Still Hold

Permission to eat downtown late Friday and Saturday nights, providing the stay does not last after 12 o'clock, is the one concession that the University sorority girls have allowed themselves this year, in drawing up their regulations for girls who live in the sorority houses.

With this one exception, the same set of rules that controlled the girls last year have been approved by the Pan-Hellenic council, and adopted by the different sororities.

The rule allowing the girls to eat, providing they do not stay later than midnight, will still operate as a check to eating in downtown hotels after dances. Although the parties now end at fifteen minutes to twelve, there is hardly time in a quarter of an hour to order and consume even a chicken sandwich.

Ten-thirty Rule Again
The 10:30 rule is still to be observed. There was a movement in some quarters to lengthen the free hours to 11 o'clock, and while this movement had strong supporters, it was in the end defeated. For this year at least, the house girls must be inside at 10:30, unless they have been to the theater—and that theater must not be a movie picture show, or the Lyric or the first part of the week Orpheum.

The same old injunction against loitering on the steps and porches on returning from engagements, is reiterated. Again, the freshman rule, only one week night date, has been adopted in the interests of study.

GUIDANCE NEEDED IN CHOOSING WORK

MRS. MARY SCHENKE WOOLMAN GIVES MESSAGE TO GIRLS

Boston Woman's Worker the Speaker at Yesterday's Convocation

"If you are in the right position your whole heart goes into the work," said Mrs. Mary Schenke Woolman, president of the national board of woman's industrial education, who spoke at convocation yesterday on the work of the Woman's Educational Industrial union of Boston. The work of this union is to help college girls find other industrial work than regular teaching. "We have found a need of guidance in industry. It is very common for girls, because of an immediate need of work to choose the wrong kind of work," added Mrs. Woolman.

The industrial union is trying to correct this situation by training the girls for the work for which they are best fitted. The union was started with the idea of training the more educated women, but the work has extended to the poorer girls also. Special teachers, trained in guidance, work with the school and with the bureau which locates the girls in business.

Workers Needed

Mrs. Woolman is particularly interested in demonstrating to college girls the need for educated workers. Women are being trained for social secretaries, business secretaries, high class saleswomen, department store managers, heads of fine lunch rooms and for many new fields which are constantly opening up. As she said,

PREPARE U HALL FOR REINFORCING RODS

Foundation Cut Out to Receive Chan- nel Iron Stays

Work of cutting out parts of the foundation of University hall, to make room for the channel iron stays and rods that will be placed in the building to keep it from tumbling down, began yesterday. Stonecutters were at work making holes in the south wall for the first set of rods that will help make the building stronger.

Three-fourths inch steel rods will run from north to south wall of the building on every floor. During the past decade there has been a gradual sag in the building, and while there is no reason for alarm over the safety of the students, it was thought advisable to take the precaution of making the walls absolutely safe. The mill has received the order for the iron, and the rods will be placed as soon as they are received.

Meanwhile the engineering college faculty and students have been making readings to determine whether the sinking is continuing. So far they have discovered none.

"The union is a great department store of education."

Mrs. Woolman also told of the work of Mr. Meyer Bloomfield in Boston, who is training boys who wish to be department store managers, to be also vocational guides for their employees. This work is especially interesting to her because these boys will in time be managers over the girls with whom she is working.

The sharpest student is seldom the one who cuts the most classes.—Silver and Gold.
