Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The homecoming for all Nebraska alumni is one week from tomorrow. It is the one day in the year that Nebraskans look forward to. The old ones and the younger plan for the day when they can go back to the old school and see the friends they rubbed elbows with in the halls, and sat with on the benches instead of going to class; they plan on seeing "the team" and hearing the band, for though the players change, the spirit of the old heroes is manifest in those of the present. May we, after our school days are over, look forward to "homecoming" as they are looking toward it.

"Face value"—do you know what that means? Can people take you at your face value, or must they, when they want to think certain things about you, remember other things? The man or woman who can be taken at "face value" is a rarity.

The Student Directories that are being sold on the campus are about the most convenient little books the students can have. There is not a person who will not need one before the year is over.

The students are classified alphabetically, according to their fraternity affiliations, and as to the towns they claim for their homes. There are three ways to locate a student with the help of this little booklet and the use that can be made of them will more than make up for the small cost.

Today is the last day for mid-semester, and the cloud of gloom that always is over the unfortunates will be raised. Some few will have failed, and the knowledge that they could not do the work will be discouraging, but the fact that a person has failed honorably is far more commendable than if they had passed dishonorably. A clear conscience is the best of possessions after an examination.

THE DAYS GONE BY

Five Years Ago Today
Plans were being made to make moving pictures of the coming Nebraska-Michigan game.

News reached Nebraska of the death of Thomas B. Davis, M. E., '06, at Little Rock, Ark. Mr. Davis was a former Nebraska professor.

Juniors defeated seniors in the class football preliminaries by a score of 12 to 3. The freshmen and sophomores tied.

At the close of the state teachers' convention 230 Nebraska alumni met at dinner at the Rome hotel in Omaha to renew old acquaintances.

Two Years Ago Today
A chapter of Alpha Omega Alpha, the medical scholarship fraternity, was installed at the University college of medicine at Omaha.

Police court celebrated University day. During the day four University students were arrested on three separate charges of speeding.

One Year Ago Today
Phi Delta Phi initiated twenty-one new members.

Forty men from over the state were taking the quarterly examinations of the Nebraska state board of pharmacy.

SPORT SPARKS

The team will have to win from Notre Dame, because some of the fellows who lose on the election will be getting pretty hungry by that time.

When the Notre Dame hare woke up last Saturday and got to the goal, it found the Army tortoise already there.

Oscar says that the Kansas team must come from Kansas City, since it has so much beef on it.

When the Cornhuskers get to it, it will be "corn fed beef."

When the Jayhawks and Cornhuskers mix there will be more than the famous twelve baskets of fragments left over.

CLOYD STEWART
BEAT CHAS. H. EPPERSON
FOR CLAY CO. ATTORNEY

Charles E. Epperson, '16, and Cloyd Stewart, '15, both prominent alumni and formerly members of The Daily Nebraskan staff, were opponents at the polls Tuesday for the office of county attorney of Clay county. Cloyd Stewart, running on the democratic ticket, won the election after a nip and tuck campaign by a majority of 279.

Epperson was editor-in-chief of The Daily Nebraskan last semester and graduated from the law college with the class of 1916. He was a member of Silver Lynx fraternity.

Stewart took an active part in school activities, and was at one time appointed to the position of managing editor of The Nebraskan, which place he resigned soon after the commencement of school in the fall of 1914, because of his marriage. He belonged to Delta Upsilon.

Under the joint auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and the students' co-operative store of that institution, the women of the University of Oregon are preparing to ply a brisk trade in peanuts, popcorn and soda water at their big game with Washington next Saturday. Some of the women will be assigned to the supply wagons to dole out the refreshments, and others will be told off to dispense the goodies to the crowd.—Ex.

Brown—Charles E. Hughes, who was a graduate of '81, addressed the student body and faculty here on October 27. He was met at the station by 800 students, who escorted him to the Infantry hall, where he spoke.—Ex.
