UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1916.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

FACULTY A FEATURE OF HOMECOMING MIXER

RECEPTION TO OLD GRADS AND STUDENTS PLANNED

Special Program for the Non-Dancers; Dancers Can Enjoy It Too

A reception by every member of the faculty, if it is possible to get every faculty member in line, for every "old grad" and for every student, if they can come, will be one of the features of the homecoming mixer in the Armory Saturday night, at 8:15, after the game with Kansas.

The guides to knowledge, if the faculty will allow themselves to be so dubbed just for the sake of this paragraph, will be in the chapel, alias Memorial hall, alias west end of the Armory, and will meet, with the greatest of pleasure, every loyal Nebraskan. The professors, assistant professors, instructors and assistants, have decided that they will not wear formal clothes, so the students and alumni will not have the slightest difficulty in recognizing every one of them.

Registrar Greer, whose rules and regulations are usually the first breaker to the students admission to college, will stand at the head of the line and will introduce the receivers to the professors. Chancellor Avery is away on a trip to the east, and it is probable that he will not be home in time to attend the mixer. Very few of the other members have made outside dates, and most all will be at the homecoming party.

Some of Them

Professor Caldwell, not the biggest physical man on the campus, but who is generally recognized as having high degrees of loyalty, will be one of those whom everyone will want to meet. He has been connected with the school so long that the thought of Nebraska brings forth the thought of Caldwell, and vice versa.

Doctor Wolfe of the psychology department, who has been here about as long as Professor Caldwell, can learnedly explain the association of thought in "think tanks" that results in the correlation mentioned above. About Doctor Wolfe, by the way, it is said that he was several times caught sliding down the bannisters in U hall in the good old days, and that he can tell a tale or two about students and their pranks that would make present college citizens look aghast.

Professor Fling, it is hoped, will be there too. Not a student has passed through the University without having wished he had taken some course under Professor Fling, if he did not. Miss Needham and Miss Pfeiffer of the European history department, have not been connected with the school so long, but recent grads, and present students will be well enough acquainted with them to be glad to see them.

One could go on about Professor Barber, athletic board head; about Professor Pool, a strictly Nebraska product; about Dean Stout, foster daddy to the engineers; about Miss Graham, the dean of women; Professors Pound and Hyde; Doctor Howard; Professor Maxey. These are wanted, and the chances are that they will be there. Succeeding issues of The Rag this week will tell more about them, and the others.

157 AT OMAHA ALUMNI BANQUET

Feast a Part of Gathering of Nebraska State Teachers' Association

One hundred and fifty-seven attended the University of Nebraska luncheon last Friday noon at the Rome hotel in Omaha. Chancellor Avery introduced the toastmaster, Frank H. Woodland, '06.

Regent E. P. Brown, '92, responded to the toast, "The University That Is to Be." He spoke of the increasing number who register each year, the greater facilities necessary for the increased enrollment, and stated that the University was becoming every year of greater service to the people of Nebraska.

Edna L. Marquardt, '05, county superintendent of Cass county, spoke of the "University Abroad." She suggested more extension work as a possibility of extending the influence and activities of the University beyond the campus.

Other Speakers

Elizabeth M. Shaffer, '10, instructor in the David City high school, stated that the University was judged by the people of the state by the attitude of its students and alumni. She spoke in appreciation of the work of which she was familiar.

J. G. Masters, principal of the Omaha central high school, who, a graduate of the Chicago university, represented other institutions than Nebraska, told of the ways a graduate may help his alma mater. He suggested the creation of interest among those responsible for legislation in order that means may be secured to render possible greater things. He spoke also of the necessity of students and alumni conducting themselves in such a way that the people of the various communities will have a favorable opinion of the school.

THREE NEW NAMES GIVEN OUT ON THE CORNHUSKER STAFF

Three new Cornhusker staff appointments have been made by the editor-in-chief, Charles Frey. Lad Kubik, '17, who was University Week editor, has left college and William Jeffries, '17, has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Hollis H. Kirsch has been made editor of the school of commerce section and Wayne Townsend, '18, is junior managing editor.

FRESHMEN START BALL ROLLING

MASS MEETING AND TRYOUTS TONIGHT IN ARMORY

Sophomores Meet Tomorrow—Enthusiasm Bubbling—Meeting of General Committee This Morning

A mass meeting of freshmen men to arouse enthusiasm for the annual Olympics to be held next Saturday, the morning of the Kansas game, followed by tryouts for entries in the different events, will be held in the Armory tonight at 7 o'clock.

Freshmen President Riley will speak along the general lines of preparedness, and Olympics Chairman Augustine will also talk about the outcome for next Saturday. A member of the innocents may be called upon to give the first-year men a synopsis of how it was done in the good old days.

After the pep meeting, which Olympics managers hope will be one of the largest mass meetings the men of the class will ever have, with the exception of the pole fight Saturday morning, tryouts will be held under the competent supervision of upper classmen and members of the athletic department. All men who have so far not reported to Chairman Augustine, but who think they would like to get into any of the events, may report to the committee at the tryouts.

Sophomores in Chapel

The sophomores will meet in the chapel tomorrow night for similar purposes. A big meeting, to be addressed by prominent sophomores, will be closed by trouts for places on the sophomore list.

The outlook for one of the most bitterly contested Olympics of history is good, according to Ralph Thiesen, chairman of the general committee of innocents and juniors. Enthusiasm has been centering on the big battle itself; so far it has not burst out in impromptu demonstrations, promising lots of spirit will be let loose when the hour arrives.

A meeting of the general committee has been called by Chairman Thiesen to meet in Law 101 this morning at 11 o'clock. The members of this committee, besides the chairman, are: L. R. Doyle, H. R. Campbell, Grove Porter, Harold Neff, Al Bryson, N. B. Musselman, Ted Ridgell, Wayne Townsend, Merl Townsend, Ivan Beede, Lloyd Tully, and Rawson White.

Fifteen delegates have been appointed for the Y. W. C. A., fifteen

NEWSWRITING CLASS TO HAVE PRACTICAL JOB OF REPORTING

A good sized audience is assured for convocation today. Professor Fogg's newswriting class, numbering more than a hundred, will try their hand this morning at reporting the address of Charles W. Gilkey of Chicago. It will be a 500 word story, to practice the rules of newswriting. The copy is to be submitted in class this evening. Tables and arm chairs will be placed in Memorial hall to accommodate the journalists.

RALLY FOR GAME AND FOR OLYMPICS

STUDENT MASS MEETING THURSDAY MORNING IN ARMORY

Underclass Presidents to Talk Up Class Battle—Coaches and Team Members on the Game

A big student rally, held in honor of the homecoming game with Kansas, and the freshmen-sophomore Olympic battle, both coming Saturday, will be held in Memorial hall, Thursday at convocation hour, 11 a. m. This rally will be guaranteed to raise the proper amount of pep in the students to make them do their share in winning the Kansas game, and settling beyond peradventure of a doubt, the championship of the Missouri valley.

The meeting will also engender in the freshmen and sophomores the fight that will be necessary if they are to uphold the traditions of the school and the honor of their classes in the Olympics, which are to be held Saturday morning. The presidents of the two underclasses, Riley of the freshmen and Harnsberger of the sophomores, will speak.

Freshmen Tryouts

The freshmen tryouts are to be held tonight in the Armory. All sophomore men will meet this morning at 11 in Law 101. Both these meetings will be preliminary to the pep meeting Thursday morning, when every freshman and every sophomore is expected to "be there."

For the football team and the football game the two coaches, Stewart and Rutherford, will talk. Two members of the team will appear on the program. Their names will be announced later. It is certain that they will be gifted with silvery eloquence, if not golden silence.

NEBRASKANS WORK HARD ON A COLD, SNOWY FIELD

REGULARS IN GOOD SHAPE AND PREPARING FOR KANSAS

Scouts Bring Back Reports of Hard Games to Come With Iowa and Notre Dame

"Hey, bring me my gloves." "For the love of Mike, give me that stock-in' cap." Let me borrow your sweater a minute, old man? These and many other like exclamations were mixed with football signals on Nebraska field yesterday afternoon, where, in spite of the snow the 'varsity and freshmen mixed in a practice game.

The scrimmage was held behind closed gates in order to give the men some much needed practice in acquiring signals as they were given. The practice lasted the regulation sixty minutes. During the first thirty minutes the 'varsity pushed over two touchdowns, and the freshmen were cheated out of one by a fumble as the ball crossed the line.

End Runs Featured

End runs by Caley and line bucks by Rhodes and Selzer were the features of the 'varsity's game while Schellenberg starred for the freshmen.

Every man on the squad reported in fine shape and got a chance to see what he could do either on offense or defense.

"Dope on Nebraska's opponents for the rest of the season rolled in thick and fast yesterday afternoon. A corps of scouts, that would do credit to a German army, saw the three teams, Kansas, Iowa and Notre Dame in action Saturday.

Caley, Otoupaik and Assistant Coach Rutherford journeyed to Sioux Falls, S. D., and saw the Notre Dame huskies in action. "Vic" Halligan saw Kansas run away from Washburn, and Coach Stewart was present when Iowa went down to 20-13 defeat at the hands of Northwestern.

Hard Battles Coming

All brought back stories of hard battles to come. But those who saw the Indiana team had stories to tell that made Nebraskans wonder what the Cornhuskers could do with such a wonderful team as the Catholics have. Bergman, Bachman and Cofall, men remembered and feared by all who saw the Nebraska-Notre Dame game last year, are playing a better game than ever this year.

Coach Stewart brought back the news that Northwestern could only manage to slip over the winning score after three of Iowa's star men had been taken out because of injuries. Down at Lawrence the Jay Hawks had no trouble in defeating the Washburn Ichabods by a decisive score.

UNIVERSITY TO HAVE GOVERNMENT LICENSED WIRELESS STATION

The University will have a government licensed wireless station in about another month if the present plans are completed. Professor Ferguson has received instructions from Washington and all that is necessary now is to file the required papers and secure competent operators. The proposed station will be large enough so that no increase in size will be necessary for some time.

At present the wireless is handled mostly by the freshmen engineers who have no license. The sending radius is necessarily small; in receiving messages the station is in touch with the larger stations and is in daily communication with the University of Iowa.

Plans for installing the new station will be completed when Professor Ferguson returns from his trip to the National Electric Light association session in New York.

SELECT ROUTE FOR CORNHUSKER ROAD

Chance for Uni Students to Represent Their Home Towns, in Good Roads Meeting

A meeting will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the Commercial club, of the committee which is arranging for the road from Marysville, Kas., to Sioux City, Ia., which may be known as the Cornhusker route.

The official colors for the road will be either yellow and white, typical of the color of the corn, or the scarlet and cream, representing the University and the Nebraska spirit.

Students of the University who hail from towns along the proposed route, —Blue Hill, Wymore, Beatrice, Wahoo, Lyons, etc., may act as representatives of their home, if no delegates are coming, by consulting Dr. George E. Condra, of the state highway commission, in his office on the third floor of University hall.

Richard Rodgers, '18, has returned from a hunting trip in the western part of the state.

UNI STUDENTS ARE THE ELECT

SO DECLARES DR. C. B. M'ALFEE TO BIBLE CLASS

Says What We Make of Ourselves Depends Upon Ourselves Not on Heredity

M'ALFEE TO STUDENTS

"Only one of every hundred boys and girls entering the kindergarten room reaches the university. It is rightly said that you are the select ones.

"The books worry a great deal over heredity, but we know in every day life that what we make of ourselves depends upon ourselves, not upon environment.

"If you ought to be a merchant, be one by all means. Men are not sent to the foreign mission field directly by God's will any more than they become teachers or professional men by God's will. The mission field needs business men and agriculturalists as well as ministers."

That university students are the elect of the coming generation, that what they make of themselves depends upon will and energy more than upon their ancestors and that each should follow conscience and judgment in choosing a profession was declared by Dr. C. B. McAlfee, in addressing the University students' noon Bible class Sunday at the First Presbyterian church.

Individuals Learning

Doctor McAlfee declared that individuals are learning more and more self confidence in reacting upon their environment. He pictured the influence which ancestral worship has on oriental races.

"Ought we not to bring the Christian spirit to India?" he said. "We do not ask more churches, if the spirit is brought, the people will make their own churches. It is the great upheaval of the masses which will go away with caste distinction and brand."

Doctor McAlfee was introduced by
