Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Many plans are being made for homecoming day, Saturday, November 18. It is on that day that Nebraska alumni will return to Lincoln, to watch the annual battle between the Cornhuskers and the Jayhawks. And it will be with the old friendly fighting spirit that has always been between the rivals of the valley.

It matters not, Saturday if the office boy smokes all the cigars or if the maid burns the bread, old Nebraskans will be young Nebraskans again, and will expect to find as "perfect" a school as when they left it.

It is "up to us" to show them that Nebraska is a wonderful school, that it is growing rapidly, that its spirit is better than ever, and that the typical Nebraskan is, and always will be the same.

They are "coming back" and we must do everything in our power in increasing their pride if possible in their alma mater.

This column is absolutely void of any personal animosity or ill feeling and if at any time, the "philosophizing" which appears herein seems to apply to some individual, it is only because that individual's conscience makes it seem so, and not because the thought might have a direct connection with him.

Is it school spirit when girls prefer the usual north side of the football field, with its protection from the wind, and its pep-less rooting, to the south side of the field and organized rooting? Nebraska needs organized cheering at its football games, and needs it badly. Organization is in unity, and unity is not distribution. Should material comfort stand in the way of the spirit which wins or loses a game as much as a good or a poor play?

It would be quite a splendid thing if the band would play the Jayhawk song out on the field next Saturday. A spirit of goodwill is more valuable than all the honor and glory in Christendom.

UNIVERSITY NOTICES

Y. M. C. A.

Don't forget the University men's meeting Wednesday at 7 p. m., Music hall, the Temple. Merrill Reed will lead the discussion. A good meeting is assured. Bring a friend and come.

Pick and Hammer Club
