KANSAS AGGIES DID NOT BACK OUT OF BASKETBALL FRAY

The statement, appearing in yesterday's Daily Nebraskan that the Kansas Aggies had backed out of a pair of basketball games that had been scheduled with Nebraska on the latter's floor, was a mistake in view of the facts of the case. There had been no actual contract made with the Aggies calling for games on the Nebraska floor.

An agreement had been made between Manager Reed and Coach Clevenger that if possible the Aggies would come up here for a couple of games on the 19th and 20th. The Aggie Coach found later, however, that circumstances would not permit of their playing on those dates. Having informed Manager Reed of the facts Mr. Clevenger was perfectly justified in calling off the games.

DR. WEBSTER HONORED BY ELECTION TO FRENCH SOCIETY

Prof. Hutton Webster, Ph. D., professor of social anthropology, has been honored by election to membership as an associate of the "Institut International de sociologie" of Paris. Dr. Webster was notified of his election in a letter received yesterday.

Dr. Webster was recommended by American members of the society because of his notable work in social anthropology, and more especially because of one of his books, "Rest Days," published a year ago.

Nebraska has had one other man in the society, Professor Ross, now a member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota, has also received the honor.

COMPULSORY DRILL BEFORE OPEN FORUM

TWO SIDES WILL DISCUSS QUESTION SUNDAY EVENING

Jensen and Waring to Oppose Trester and Gayer at All-Soul's Church

A formal discussion of "Compulsory Military Drill" will be held at 8 o'clock Sunday evening at All Soul's church, Twelfth and H streets, under the auspices of the Lincoln Open Forum.

Anton H. Jensen, '17, of Blair, and R. B. Waring, '17, of Geneva, will tell why the University should not have compulsory military drill, and Leonard W. Trester, '19, of Lincoln, and Harry Gayer, '17, of Lincoln, will uphold the present system. Each speaker will be allowed 10 minutes in which to present his argument. A general discussion by the house will follow.

This promises to be an exciting meeting, as each side is trying to get all their loyal followers to be present and support their cause.

JUNIOR DEBATERS PICKED FOR COMING INTERCLASS CONTEST

Earl C. Jeffrey of Lincoln, Henry Pascale of Omaha, and G. V. Lundmark of Omaha, were chosen as members of the junior class debating team yesterday. They will clash with the seniors in the preliminary debate. The senior team will be chosen next week.

FRENCH STUDENTS COULD ENJOY VAUDEVILLE ACT

Students of the French language at the University were among the few persons who attended a local vaudeville theater early this week who knew what one of the twin actresses who took part in the "disappearance" scene, meant when, upon appearing at the rear of an aisle, she said: "Je suis echappée."

The other twin had been placed behind a screen, but a few moments after her partner appeared from the rear of the theater, the former came from hiding, making the farce complete.

Mademoiselle's speech, translated, means, "I have, escaped." The man upon the sketch, hearing this, said to the audience, "You see, she does not speak a word of English." Then the trio sang, "I'm in Love with the Heavenly Twins."

Pennsylvania—Because of a recent episode behind the scenes in one of the university plays, when several of the participants became drunk and because of the drunkenness of several of the members of the teams that have represented the university, the daily paper of Pennsylvania university is advocating a policy by means of which anyone that drinks will not be allowed to represent the university.—Ex.

"HUMAN INTEREST" STORIES NEXT

JOURNALISM STUDENTS PREPARE FOR SECOND SEMESTER'S WORK

"Women in Journalism" to Be Considered—Special Attention to Style—City Work

"Human interest" stories, organic writing, character of newspapers and general topics dealing with the profession of journalism, are to be taken up in the course in news writing, Rhetoric 44, during the coming semester. Prof. M. M. Fogg, in charge of the instruction, hopes to accomplish a great deal throughout the semester by holding conferences with individual students. There probably will be fewer lectures than during the semester, with more outside work.

"Women in Journalism" will be one of the general topics of journalism considered. How "yellow," "conservative" and "midway" editors make up their papers will be observed.

Professor Fogg expects to send the students of news writing about the city to gather "human interest" stories.

Plans are under way to extend the course in news editing from one to two semesters, beginning next September.

DR DANN TO INTERPRET FIFTH SYMPHONY SATURDAY

Dr. W. F. Dann will give an interpretation of the Fifth Beethoven symphony, Saturday at 2 o'clock, in Art hall. This symphony will be played at an early convocation by the string quartet.

URGES HASTE FOR HUSKER PHOTOS

Juniors and Seniors Must Get Pictures for Annual Taken at Once, Staff Says

The Cornhusker staff wishes to emphasize the fact that the time limit for junior and senior individual pictures for the Cornhusker is February 3, and that none of these photos will be accepted after that date.

Business Manager DeWitt Foster urges that everyone who has not had his picture taken as yet make every effort to do so before the end of next week in order that the deck may be cleared for the organization pictures.

The Cornhusker staff wishes to put out as complete a book as possible and that can only be done by having each student do his or her part, they say.

A course called "How to Study" open only to college freshmen and giving regular college credit, is offered this year at De Pauw university. It is said that the scholastic standing of the class has undergone a marked improvement since the installation of the course.—Ex.

Robert W. Furnas, J. Sterling Morton, Isaac Pollard, Charles E. Bessey, and Richard H. Daniels, five men whose names have been connected with the history of Nebraska and its agricultural development, were recommended for the Nebraska hall of fame by the Nebraska hall of agricultural achievement yesterday morning.

These men are the first to be placed on the honor roll. Regulations were adopted by the Nebraska hall of agricultural achievement which provide for yearly recommendation of men now dead for places in the hall of fame.

TWO SENIORS DID NOT MAKE QUINTET

SO INTERCLASS BASKETBALL GAME WAS NOT PLAYED

Varsity Meets Brandeis Team of Omaha Tonight—Two of Regulars Are Crippled

The promised junior-senior basketball game did not develop last night, due to the lack of material from which to make a senior team.

The game will be forfeited to the juniors by the score of 2 to 0.

Messrs. Kenner and Selzer were the only fourth year men to put in an appearance, and they did not feel equal to taking on five juniors.

The basketball fans of the University will have the privilege of seeing two Nebraska teams in action against each other tonight when the varsity and the Brandeis team of Omaha mix.

The battle ought to be a real one from start to finish if advance dope can be believed. The Brandeis five is always one of the strongest in the state, and will undoubtedly make the Cornhuskers go at their very best clip if they are to emerge the winners.

It will be a somewhat crippled crew that will represent Nebraska in this contest and the one tomorrow night.

Collins and Flothow, both first team men, are laid up. Collins has a broken hand and Flothow has spent several days in bed.

The lineup of the two teams is not certain, but it will probably be as follows:

Nebraska—
Nelson f Burkenroad
Campbell f Ritchie
Flynn c Rector
Wertz g Koran
Riddell g Smith

ZOOLOGY DEPARTMENT REARRANGING SCHEDULE FOR NEW ENROLLMENT

By rearranging nearly the entire schedule of classes in zoology, that department has finally made room for the heavy enrollment. A still further increase is expected for next semester and no way is apparent to provide for it.

The department hopes to relieve the crowded condition by moving into the new quarters during spring vacation.

GIRLS REPORT ON HEALTH SUPERVISION

COMMITTEE PREPARES PETITION FOR SUBMISSION TO BOARD

Quote Statistics to Show Need of Regular Fee Levied Each Semester

The petition given below, asking the University regents to impose a regular fee for medical supervision, was read and adopted by the girls' club last night, to be presented to the regents at an early meeting.

To the Honorable Chancellor and Members of the Board of Regents, University of Nebraska:

Dear Sirs:

On October 31, 1916, a mass meeting of the student body of the University of Nebraska was called for the purpose of ascertaining what the sentiment was regarding health supervision at the University of Nebraska. The women students voiced the need of a department of health supervision and expressed their willingness to have levied upon them a fee such as that levied in universities of a like character, to cover the costs of such a department, with a resident physician and nurse in charge. By unanimous vote it was resolved that a committee be appointed to make a study of this subject and to take the necessary steps to bring this matter to your attention.

We, the undersigned members of this committee, therefore, respectfully submit for your careful consideration this report.

In order to ascertain some facts regarding health conditions among the women students a questionnaire, a copy of which is herewith enclosed, was sent to each member of the Girls' Club Council, an organization composed of representatives of each sorority and rooming house about the University. These members submitted this questionnaire to each girl by them represented.

Absence for Illness

Three hundred replies were thus received and tabulated. It was found that these three hundred girls were absent on an average of four days per year (the academic year 1915-1916), on account of illness. Each girl consulted a physician on an average of two times, and paid for such consultation $5.50. Sixty percent of this illness was of an acute nature, while 40 per cent was of a chronic nature. It was found that the majority of those ill remained in their rooms, where they often lacked adequate care and nursing and where they were subjecting their roommates and other girls of the house to the inconveniences and dangers present in such cases. Those who went home incurred still greater expenses and loss of time.

From the study made the inference is warranted that the same ratio would apply to those from whom it was not possible to obtain a report. If this be true, the 1,958 women students registered in 1915-1916 paid $10,934 for medical services and lost 7,952 days of school work. A reduction of this expenditure of time and money would increase the efficiency of the student body.

It was further found that many of the large universities have such a department of health supervision. Among these are the University of California, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Wellesley, Bryn Mawr and Columbia. The beneficial results growing out of such health supervision have been found numerous in these institutions.

Benefits of System

Irrregularities in the attendance of classes where such were due to sickness have been greatly reduced. It has facilitated the isolation of cases of communicable diseases occurring in boarding houses, and thereby made it possible to more easily control such diseases. Many physical defects have
