WESLEYAN HOPES TO BEAT NEBRASKA

COYOTES HELD MAMMOTH "PEP" SESSION YESTERDAY

Methodist Rooters Expect to Outnumber Nebraska on Our Own Floor

Will Wesleyan beat Nebraska? They will, if spirit has anything to do with it; they will not, if Coach Stewart and the members of the team have anything to say about it.

The Wesleyan quintet will have their whole school behind them when they face the Cornhuskers next Saturday night while the Nebraskans will have a scant 200 supporters on that occasion. The added support will give the Coyotes a big advantage and will go a long way toward the winning of the game.

Methodist "Pep" Session

Yesterday the Methodists held a mammoth "pep" session, and for no other reason than to generate steam for the coming battle with Nebraska. By Saturday the pressure of that steam will have reached thousands of pounds per square inch and the full force of its power will be used against the Cornhuskers.

What will the Nebraska rooters have to meet the enthusiasm of the Wesleyanites with? Will the student body turn out in large enough numbers to out-cheer the Coyotes or will they let the Wesleyan team have all the advantage to come from support from the bleachers?

These questions can be answered only when the time for the game comes. But it is to be hoped that the student body will get behind their team and boost it to the extreme.

DRILL PETITIONS BY "MILITARISTS"

PRO-DRILL SOCIETY MOVES TO CHECK PACIFISTS

Petition Circulated at Drill Yesterday and is Widely Signed—Follows Petitions of "Pacifists"

"Whereas, we the undersigned fully believe that it is the duty of every citizen to so prepare himself in time of peace that he may, with efficiency, do his part in defending his country in time of war, and whereas, knowing full well the benefits, mental and physical, resulting from conscientious military training; and furthermore, knowing as we do the loss, both financial and otherwise, that would result if compulsory military drill were abolished at the University, we do respectfully petition for its continuance."

This petition was circulated among cadets at the drill period yesterday afternoon, to give them an opportunity of expressing their own opinions on the anti-drill agitation that has been rife in the University in the past few days, and which was especially made evident at a meeting of the Open Forum club at the All Souls' church, the center of the pacifist movement, last Sunday night.

It was announced in The Daily Nebraskan, as coming from the leaders of the pacifist movement, that petitions would be circulated, asking for the support of students for the anti-drill cause.

When they read this announcement, the men who want drill continued on the present basis, and who feel that the University and its student body will suffer great harm if drill is not so continued, got busy. They prepared the petitions as above, and the men in the companies signed, with few exceptions.

DRILL DEBATE IS STILL UNDECIDED

PACIFISTS ANSWER STATEMENT BY L. W. TRESTER

Call for Showing—Deny Charges of Unfairness—Say Issue Beclouded

The debate committee of the compulsory drill advocates, L. W. Kline, Charles Frey and Henry Pascale, announced yesterday that they had taken under consideration the debate challenge of the pacifists. They seemed to favor February 10 for the debate rather than February 3.

The pacifists seemed in grave danger yesterday of losing some of their calm poise, the statement by L. W. Trester published in The Daily Nebraskan having gotten under the collar, to some extent.

Anton Jensen, the president, who has consistently deprecated anything that bordered on personalities in this excitement, said that he was afraid the opposing side would overstep the bounds. Then Jensen issued a statement, given below, which seeks to come back upon Trester.

The statement by Jensen: "Mr. Trester has either got to put up or shut up. His charge in Wednesday's Daily Nebraskan, of 'paid faculty members' assisting our propaganda is a charge that can not go unchallenged. I ask Mr. Trester to make good his charges by naming the offending 'faculty members' in Friday's Nebraskan, or show cause why. Mr. C. A. Sorenson is the only person who could possibly come within Mr. Trester's designation. And Mr. Sorenson has neither taken 'part' in any debate and doesn't intend to, nor has he done any 'faculty coaching.' Such false charges hurt both Mr. Trester's organization and our organization.

"If the 'drill advocates' moreover, were 'unfairly treated' Sunday evening, no one but Mr. Trester and a few of his close associates 'admit' it, for other members of his organization present that evening, do not think so. As far as a 'packed audience' is concerned Mr. Trester's organization had the same chance as ours.

"Mr. Trester seeks to becloud the issue by playing up our movement as a movement for non-resistance. Practically every member of our organization, if there even are any exceptions, are in favor of military defense of some kind."

REGISTRATION CARDS FOR SECOND SEMESTER GIVEN OUT YESTERDAY

Registration cards for the second semester were given out at the registrar's office yesterday, commencing at 9 o'clock. Fifteen minutes or more before the hour a line extended beyond the doors of the administration building, and shortly after 8 o'clock classes had been dismissed, the row of students extended north on the campus to the entrance of University hall.

True to the announcement, the doors of the registrar's office were opened at 9 o'clock, and not a minute before. Some complaint was heard among the students who stood in the cold, because arrangements had been made for distributing the cards to one line only.

Early registration hours for next Wednesday were snapped up quickly. By 3 o'clock in the afternoon, no cards were left for registration earlier than 10:30 o'clock on Friday.

RUSH REAPPOINTED

J. H. Rush has been reappointed head of Princeton football for the third successive season. The assistant coaching staff has not as yet been announced, but the names will probably be given out after the meeting of the board of control this week.—Ex.

The University, Nebraska's Greatest Business

The University, one of the state's biggest businesses, requires a biennial expenditure of $3,009,938.48, according to the summary of classified expenditures made in the regent's report to the legislature. Of this three million dollars, $1,198,678.90 goes for salaries and wages, $1,011,096.78 for permanent improvements, and $799,262.80 for maintenance.

The classified account of maintenance expenses reveals many interesting accounts the University has to settle. Laundry, for instance, took $2,991.42 of the state's money, an amount which looks large even to University students who patronize Lincoln laundries in this day and age. It required $10,673.95 to cover the freight, express, and cartage accounts, an item materially boosted, of course by the present building campaign.

While only $5,843.06 was required to purchase chemicals and supplies for laboratories, it cost the state practically three times as much, $15,843.73 to supply the students with glassware and utensils for them to practice the experiments.

One of the largest "service items" listed in the report was that of telephone and telegraph which reached $10,549.40.

STOCK JUDGES FIRST AT DENVER

TOOK FIRST PLACE AT BIG LIVE STOCK SHOW

Nebraska Steers and Hogs Won Cash Prizes of $400—E. H. Davis High Man

The University stock judging team added another victory to their season's successes by winning the annual college students' stock judging contest at the Denver live stock show, Monday and Tuesday. Its total was 3,247 points, and that of its nearest competitor, Colorado Agricultural college, 3,171. The team returned home yesterday.

E. H. Davis stood high man on the Nebraska team, making an individual score of 675 out of a possible 750, and he also stood high man in judging of breeding stock. G. A. Blotz placed highest in judging fat stock. Both Davis and Blotz brought trophies home with them.

A total of $400 in cash prizes was awarded Nebraska's fat steers and hogs.

Prof. H. J. Gramlich, who accompanied the team, remained in Denver to act as judge of Belgian horses during the National western live stock show there.

CLARK RESIGNS FROM PUBLICATION BOARD

Junior Member Leaves to Take up Work as Assistant Business Manager

Fred W. Clark, junior member of the student publication board, yesterday handed in his resignation, to take effect immediately. Clark was recently elected assistant business manager, and he leaves to take up this work.

The vacancy will probably be filled by election at the general election, the third Tuesday in the second semester. The junior who is elected to the place will serve until the end of this school year.

The publication board has control over all of the student publications of the University.

MRS. E. L. HINMAN TO TALK TO STUDENT VOLUNTEERS SUNDAY

Mrs. E. L. Hinman will speak on "Leaves From a Missionary's Note Book," at the Student Volunteer meeting in the Y. W. C. A. room, Temple theatre building, at 5 o'clock, Sunday, January 27. All students are invited to come to this meeting.

DR. HOWARD WILL BE AWAY WHOLE YEAR OF 1917-18

Dr. George Elliott Howard, head of the department of political science and sociology, will be absent on leave during the whole of the academic year of 1917-1918.

Students planning future courses of study will probably be interested in this announcement. It means that the last chance for a whole year, to take work under Dr. Howard, will be during the second semester of this school year.

The Single Tax Ballot

A copy of the ballot that will be used for the single tax is printed below. The features that are of especial interest to the students are a space for the name, squares for voting for or against the single tax, and spaces for showing the parents' wishes in the matter.

The ballot below is merely a sample, not to be used in the election. The official ballots will be given out by registration officers.

MRS. RAYMOND OFFERS MUSIC COURSES

INTERESTING STUDIES FOR THE SECOND SEMESTER

Registration Will Mean Free Admission to May Music Festival and Symphony Orchestra

Mrs. Raymond, director of the University chorus, is planning one of the most interesting courses in music for the coming semester that it has ever been her privilege to offer to the students who register for chorus.

In addition to the folk-songs of the nations, the choral part of the ninth Beethoven Symphony and "Hiawatha" will be studied. The choral work is seldom attempted by amateur choruses because of the difficult music. This fact makes the work offered by Mrs. Raymond all the more attractive.

"Hiawatha" will be given as part of the May festival. The symphony will be given during the semester, probably at convocation.

Free to May Festival As an added incentive for registration, Mrs. Raymond announces that all members of the chorus will be admitted free to the afternoon and evening concerts of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, which has been engaged for the May festival.

All men who have to drill on Monday and Wednesday at 5 o'clock may register for the course on Monday at 7 and Friday at 5.

GERMAN PLAY WILL BE PRODUCED IN OMAHA HIGH

The German Dramatic club will present "Pension Schoeller" at the Omaha Central high school auditorium, Friday evening, January 26. A. J. Wedeking, formerly instructor in German in the University, and now head of the German department in the Omaha high school, has had charge of the arrangements. He said yesterday that 700 tickets had been sold.

This will make the sixth time the play has been presented by the club, three times in Lincoln, once in Nebraska City and once in Sterling. Axel Swenson, '17, plays the leading role. The play is a comedy written by Carl Lauff.

CONVOCATION

CADET BAND TO PLAY HAYDN'S MILITARY SYMPHONY TODAY

The convocation this morning at which the band will play J. Haydn's "Military Symphony," will be one of the real musical treats of the year. This symphony has never been played in the state by a band and it is doubtful if many of the present student body have ever heard it.

The "Military Symphony" was the twelfth symphony of Franz Joseph Haydn, who was one of the pioneers of orchestral music, and who, in his later life, was a teacher of the great Beethoven. It was written in 1794.

This symphony is a masterpiece because of its simple, beautiful melodies. Its different themes are much like the folk-songs of the period in which it was written.

JANUARY AWGWAN, OUT YESTERDAY, FULL OF HUMOR

Wearing a distinctive cover in blue and black by Dwight Kirsch and filled with a new assortment of campus humor, philosophy, and opinion, the January number of Awgwan was placed on sale yesterday. As usual, the editorials of Awgwan, the good Little Indian, and the cartoons of Lyman Thomas are two of the strongest features.

CO-EDS LEARNED HOW TO PADDLE

SWIMMING CLASSES DEVELOPED MERMAIDS FIRST SEMESTER

Twenty-six Taught Floating—Registration Will be Held For Second Semester

That the swimming classes for University girls conducted under the auspices of the University physical education department at the Lincoln high school pool, every Thursday evening and Saturday morning of this semester, have been unusually successful and helpful is evidenced by the following report:

Total number of tickets sold.....111
Average attendance at each meeting of class..... 28
Number who could swim before opening of season..... 35
Number who learned to swim attending from two to seven times. 26
Fifty reported so infrequently that no record could be made of their ability. It can be stated without exaggeration that every girl who came with any degree of regularity is now able to swim, and to swim well.

Swim Next Semester

The success of the past season assures one for the coming semester providing enough tickets are sold during registration week to guarantee a fund for the rental of the pool. The hours will be the same as those of this semester, Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 and Saturday morning from 9:30 to 11:30. Tickets for the second semester will cost $1.50 with the minimum number of swims at about fifteen. If more tickets are sold than will cover the cost of the pool more swims will be given.

Twelve experienced instructors will be in charge of the work second semester. Girls will be given the privilege of choosing their own instructor.

Tickets will be on sale in the Armory during registration week.

"WHAT SHALL IT PROFIT A MAN?"

Professor Tuttle Asks and Answers the Question for Phi Alpha Delta

Prof. S. J. Tuttle talked to the members of the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity last night on the subject of "What Shall it Profit a Man?" He quoted Aristotle and Marcus Aurelius on their interpretation of the law and the duties of the magistrates.

Professor Tuttle explained that outside of his profession the lawyer should play an important part in politics and especially in making laws. He also emphasized the fact that lawyers should urge the election of strong men for judges and do all in their power to put this type of man in office since they know their good qualities better than most voters.

In closing his discussion Professor Tuttle said, "In every movement have respect to justice."

TEGNER SOCIETY SCHEDULED TO MEET SATURDAY NIGHT

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Tegner Swedish society will be held Saturday, January 27, at 8:15. The first part of the program will be held in U 112, where lantern slides of scenes in Scandinavian countries will be shown, after which the meeting will be adjourned to the Y. W. C. A. rooms in the Temple, where a short program and business meeting will be held. Officers for the semester will be elected at this time. All Scandinavian students have a standing invitation to attend the meeting of the society.
