HUSKERS WIN AND LOSE AT LAWRENCE

Take First Game 21-19 but Backslide in Second Contest—Jayhawkers Pile up 30-10 Score

Lawrence, Kas., Feb. 17.—One game to Nebraska's credit on her southern trip was the final result as decided tonight when Kansas overwhelmed the Cornhuskers 30 to 10. Friday night Nebraska, playing in brilliant form, won from the Jayhawkers 21 to 19. Her showing tonight was a complete reversal.

In the game tonight Kansas swept the Nebraskans off their feet and Nebraska never even once threatened to take the lead. At the end of the first half the Jayhawkers led, 11-5. The second half saw an even worse disparity, with Kansas continuing to draw away from the Huskers.

Wertz, Nebraska guard, distinguished himself in the second game by a brilliant goal which he tossed into the basket from the middle of the floor. The Nebraska players could not hit the hoop, and were not able to keep the Jayhawkers away from the goal.

In the first game Friday night, Nebraska showed brilliant form, starting out with the lead and keeping it throughout the first half, which ended 7-6.

Kansas came back at the beginning of the second period, and looked formidable for a while, but the Cornhusker guarding cordon tightened and Kansas was helpless to make points when she needed them. In the meantime the Nebraska scoring machine let out an extra notch and passed the Kansans. Captain Campbell of the Cornhuskers was in good form, leading the scoring with two field goals and seven free throws. Flothow scored three goals from the field, and Nelson tossed two.

AG. SCHOOL CADETS MADE JUNIOR CORPS

Another Division of Federal Army Unit Made at State University It is Announced

Cadets of the school of agriculture on the state farm campus have been made a junior division in the United States reserve officers training corps, according to a telegram received Saturday by Chancellor Avery from Adjutant General McCain, at Washington, D. C.

The telegram read: "Bulletin issued establishing infantry unit junior division reserve officers training corps. Ask your institution."

This means that the "prep" school cadets at the state farm will become a part of the federal army unit, almost as fully as the University cadet corps, which has been made a senior division of the reserve officers training corps.

The government will furnish to these cadets their uniforms and equipment free of charge. There will be no pay by commutation for the officers, as in the senior division. Commander Parker said, nor will provisions be made for a camp of cadets in the junior division.

Captain Parker is not certain whether there will be much change made in the course of instruction. The act of congress creating the reserve officers corps provided for nine months of instruction, and the school of agriculture lasts but six months. This may mean more intensive training for the six months the cadets are in school.

DESCRIBES CHINESE LIFE AND NEEDS

Miss Coppock, '05, Missionary Writes Interesting Letter to University Y. W. C. A. Need Workers

Grace Coppock, '05, national secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in China, whose headquarters are at Shanghai has written the University Y. W. C. A. a very interesting letter telling of the people with whom she is working, and the need of more workers. It is for the support of Miss Coppock that the Nebraska to China Campaign is being conducted this week.

"In Peking I witnessed the opening of the Y. W. C. A. We have been looking forward to this day for nearly seven years. Mrs. Soong, just elected president of the Board of Directors, took the chair and in a most dignified and capable manner presided over the important meeting. I shall not soon forget the first meeting of all the members in the presence of whom the directors signed the constitution. Truly it was a memorable occasion when this long standing hope was realized.

An Interesting Group
"One evening during my week in that fascinating capital city, I had a most enjoyable time at the home of Mrs. Tong, a friend of ten years' standing. She used to live in Shanghai, but moved to Peking some four years ago and was eager to have me meet some of her friends there. The group she invited was a most interesting one—all ladies. I think I shall go right around the table to introduce you to them—first there was the wife of the speaker of the Senate, then the wife of the president of the Board of Agriculture, next the wife and daughter of a prominent physician, then the wife of one of the editors of the oldest newspaper in the world, next the President of the Peking Y. W. C. A., then the wife of the Chinese ex-consul-General to San

CIVILIANS MAY JOIN RESERVE

Men With Technical Knowledge May Get Commissions Without Previous Military Training

An opportunity for civilians with more than ordinary technical training to serve their country in time of war as officers in the reserve corps, with authority and salary equivalent to that of regular army men, is outlined in general orders No. 32 relative to the regulations of the national defense act covering that branch.

This means that men trained like members of the university faculty, no matter whether they have had previous military training or not, may receive commissions in the army reserve corps after passing suitable examinations, and may thus immediately step into responsible shoes.

The divisions of the officers' reserve corps, as provided for by the regulations, are the line and staff. In the division of the staff falls the sections of the reserve corps in which civilians can get commissions. They include the medical corps, dental corps, veterinary corps, officers' reserve corps; Adjutant General's officers' reserve corps, the Judge Advocate General's Officers' reserve corps; Inspector General's Officers' reserve corps; Quartermaster Officers' reserve corps; Engineer Officers' reserve corps; Ordnance Officers' reserve corps; Signal Officers' reserve corps. The line sections include the Infantry Officers' reserve corps, cavalry Officers' corps, Field Artillery Officers' corps and Coast Artillery Officers' corps.

Section 38 of the reserve act, as passed by Congress June 3, 1916, says: "In time of actual or threatened hostilities the president may order officers of the Officers' Reserve Corps, subject to such subsequent physical temporary duty with the regular army in grades thereof which cannot, for the time being be filled by promotion,

"Brighten The Corner," Is Spirit At First Red-Haired Luncheon

"Sing a song of fleeces, Tints of gold or pink; Forty round the festal board Make the watcher blink."

This was one of the poetic tributes to the Order of the Golden Fleece at their luncheon in the Japanese room of the Lincoln hotel, last Saturday noon. About thirty-five red heads, each head a little redder than her neighbor's, sat "around the festal board" and rejoiced in common over their brilliant pates.

Prof. Louise Pound, who presided, read the following telegrams: "New York, February 17. "To the mademoiselles of the Golden Fleece: "But this is charming—this organization, based on the Legends du

As a result of the recent wrestling tryouts the following men will represent Nebraska in the dual meet with Iowa, at Iowa City, next Saturday night: 125-pound class, Burgess; 135-pound class, Brian; 145-pound class, Anderson; 158-pound class, Fuchs; 175-pound class, Otouplik; heavy-weight class, Maloney.

Captain Otouplik is the only man on the squad that is regarded as a sure winner. He is expected to repeat his victories of last year and again win the Western Intercollegiate wrestling championship.

Of the other men little is known. Brian was on the varsity part of the time last year and is expected to do good work this year. Fuchs is the most promising of the new men and should make almost as great a name in conference wrestling circles as his predecessor, Rutherford.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA DEFEATS DELTA TAUS

Trims Last Year's Champions 16 to 5 in Interfraternity Contest—Are Favorites for Cup

The A. T. O's. are today strong favorites for the interfraternity basketball championship as the result of their decisive victory over the Delta Taus Saturday afternoon by the score of 16 to 5.

As a close guarding game the contest Saturday has not had an equal in the entire series. The only goals registered by the Deltas were of the long distance hair-raising variety, and most of the scores of the winners were the results of quick shots or long ones.

Zumwinkle and Schellenberg, of the A. T. O's. were the individual stars of the game. The floor work of the latter was especially brilliant and although carefully watched throughout the contest, he managed to drop in two field goals. Zumwinkle showed unexpected goal shooting ability and using his speed to the best advantage, he escaped his guard long enough to roll in four field goals.

Fine Guarding

Vifquain and Schumacher, the A. T. O. guards, gave one of the finest exhibitions of guarding seen in any of the fraternity games. North, star forward of the Deltas, was held practically helpless throughout the contest, not being given a single shot at the basket.

Grant and Stromer did the best work for the Delta Taus. The latter guarded Schellenberg as though he had been told to "ride" his man and was fulfilling his instructions to the letter.

This game leaves the A. T. O's. as opponents for the winner of the Sig Ep Phi Psi battle, in the finals which will take place Friday night at 6:30 in the Armory.

The lineup: A. T. O.-16 Grant Schellenberg North Zumwinkle Christopher Shaw Schroeder Vifquain Stromer Schumacher Substitutions, Riddell for Stromer. Field Goals, Zumwinkle 4, Schellenberg 2, Shaw, Grant, Christopher 1. Free throws, Schellenberg 2, Grant.
