UNIVERSITY NIGHT

The last University Night was, on the whole, the best within the knowledge of the present University generation. With the exception of one stunt that dragged, the program was unusually clean, full of a lot of good local hits, and the whole was run off with a pleasing quickness. "The Shun" was the best that Sigma Delta Chi has put out, and trod not too heavily upon the toes of the campus celebrities.

Holding the stunt night at the auditorium gave comfortable seats to practically all of the students and faculty who wanted to see the Night, and was an innovation that will probably be followed until Nebraska builds her own big auditorium.

There was a noticeable and welcome absence of ragging the people on the stage by the galleries. The last Cornhusker banquet evidently taught a lesson to the students. The whole of them certainly did not enjoy themselves any the less because a few did not create a disturbance.

The committee in charge is to be congratulated. It is not too early to look forward to the program for 1918.

THE CRAZE FOR ORGANIZATIONS

It is with something approaching a shudder that The Nebraskan records the entrance of two more organizations into University life—the N Men's club and the geological fraternity, Sigma Gamma Epsilon. Both are founded for a worthy purpose and will be expected to be useful. One wonders at times, however, if the student spirit of Nebraska isn't being organized to death.

A man can give his energies to not more than one or two societies in full usefulness, but there seems to be a craze among the students to get into this or that club or professional fraternity, or if entrance is impossible, to organize a new one.

Let us not, in our frenzy to get a fine collection of pins, forget the big thing, the University itself. Let the student body exercise a little restraint upon his "joining" proclivities.

A NEW NEBRASKA SONG

The new Nebraska song by Cyril C. Thompson, as played and sung University Night, seemed to have the catchy tune needed for that long-looked-for new Nebraska melody. It is too soon yet to say that it will become a varsity song. Every opportunity should be given it to reach that place, however, and it should be sung and played at all Nebraska gatherings for some time. If it hasn't the wearing qualities needed that will soon be apparent.

Long-Lived Booster

The patron saint of the Athena Debating Society of Wisconsin University has been found, after an absence of thirty years. This was a stuffed rooster that had been removed from his shrine to save him from cremation in a fire at the University. He was kept in secret for thirty years, and finally was rediscovered by a reporter from the School of Journalism. —Ex.

Authorities Co-operating

"Considering instances as outlined and knowing there must be similar instances not located it is a wonder that there are not a greater number of cases than there are. The public school and University authorities are co-operating with this department in keeping uppermost in the minds of the students the necessity of keeping away from places where they would be likely to contract the disease.

"We are administering a prophylactic vaccine to many of the students. Others are having the same done by their family physician.

"We expect some more cases to occur as a result of exposure to ones now ill before they were quarantined. We consider that under the present organized methods for carrying on preventative measures. The situation is well in hand and by the middle of next week we expect a gradual decline in the number of cases."

BURGLAR RE-ENACTS ROBBERY FOR BENEFIT OF DELTA ZETAS

Someone who in temperament and tactics was very much like the burglar who took fifty dollars from the Gamma Phi Beta house a week ago, while the sorority was giving its formal party, ransacked the Delta Zeta house for cold cash Friday night while its banquet was in session, and found a total of five dollars.

That he was evidently much disappointed in his small returns, and that he left somewhat disgruntled is indicated by the fact that he ignored a quantity of jewelry about the house.

The police believe that the two burglars are one and the same, and are carrying on an investigation.

Freshmen Rise

The upperclassmen of Amherst are objecting to the failure of the Freshmen to observe the Chapel rule at that college. This rule requires that at the end of Chapel services the first-year men shall rise and wait until the upperclassmen pass out before they start leaving the room. Of late most of the Freshmen have gotten out before the upperclassmen even got started.—Ex.

THE UKULELE

THE languorous charm of the Hawaiian native instruments—so moving in appeal, so observably in vogue—is strikingly characteristic of the Ukulele. Its tone possesses that curiously beautiful timbre, that exotic charm of tonal quality which has made these instruments so sensationally popular.

The Ukulele has a pleasing grace of form. The finer models are made of genuine Hawaiian Koa wood. It is much in request today among the smarter college and other musical organizations.

It is easy to learn. Its price includes an Instruction Book.

Hawaiian Steel Guitar

Every chord struck upon this typically representative Hawaiian instrument is marked by a weird, plaintive harmony and strangely beautiful qualities of tone. It brings, to any music, qualities full of vivid color and varied charm.

Price $6.00 and upwards, including Steel and Set of Three Tunables for playing, and Instruction Book.

Catalogs on application.
