BRYSON BACK FROM CONFERENCE

DELEGATE TO STUDENT COUNCIL DISCUSSION AT PURDUE

Will Make Formal Report to University Council Commission—National Association Organized

Albert Bryson, '17, of Fullerton, Nebraska University's delegate to the national student council conference at Purdue University March 1-3, returned yesterday afternoon with data covering student council systems at all of the larger universities of the west, from which it is expected, the University charter commission will be able to formulate a plan that will fit the needs of Nebraska.

Before the close of the session, the delegates from eighteen universities organized into a national student council conference, with headquarters at Illinois, for the purpose of organizing the student self-government movement and lending all possible aid to its development. Bryson was named as one of the five members of the board of control.

Council Decidedly Successful

Regarding the value of the conference in supplying suggestions for Nebraska's problem, Bryson declared that the general discussion of the plans in practice at different universities resulted in the discovery of remedies for individual situations that each has to face. He said all of the delegates, when asked the question whether or not the student council were really a success, were emphatic in an affirmative answer.

The general form of the different council plans is much like that proposed for Nebraska in preliminary discussions before the appointment of a charter commission. In the majority of schools, Bryson found, the men and the women each have a separate council, holding joint meetings when occasion demands. The function of the council invariably was to exercise judicial and legislative powers and to look after the general welfare of the student body.

JUNIORS VOTE FOR PLAY IN TEMPLE

AFTER DISCUSSION, DECIDE TO ESTABLISH PRECEDENT

Members Believe Temple Logical

Place for Production—Minor Officers Elected

Developments late last night indicated that there might be strong opposition in the class in regard to holding the play in the Temple as decided at the meeting yesterday, and it is possible that another meeting will be called tomorrow for further discussion.

After a short discussion, members of the junior class at a meeting in Music hall, Temple, yesterday morning voted practically without dissent to hold the class play, "Green Stockings," in the Temple theatre, instead of the Oliver, thus breaking away from the present custom.

Before taking the vote on the place in which to hold the play, Homer Rush, of Columbus, business manager, tendered his resignation because of his withdrawal from school, and George Grimes of Omaha was appointed by Presiding Officer Lloyd Tully, to replace him. Following the appointment, the class voted unanimously to endorse it.

After disposing of business in regard to the play minor officers for the semester were elected. Jean Burroughs of Lincoln, was unanimously declared vice-president; Evert Randall met but slight opposition for the position of secretary, Eva Miller of Fremont was made sergeant-at-arms, and John F. Wenstrand of Wahoo was elected junior member of the student publication board to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Fred Clark.

FORM HAWKEYE CLUB TONIGHT

Students From Iowa Will Meet in Music Hall

Students from Iowa will meet at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday in Music hall to take first steps in organizing a Hawkeye club, in which it is hoped to enroll every Iowan who is attending the University. The purpose of the movement is to promote fellowship among the students from Iowa, to take Nebraska spirit into Iowa more plentifully, and boost Nebraska spirit in the University.

Lester Duns, '18, Atlantic, Ia., announced Tuesday that it has been found that between 150 and 200 men and women from Iowa are attending the University or School of Agriculture. An attempt will be made to have as many of these students as possible at the preliminary organization meeting.

100 FEVER CASES IS THE MINIMUM

CITY HEALTH OFFICERS EXPECT THAT MANY AT LEAST

May Not Stop There Unless More Care is Taken—Health Officers Are Grave

One hundred cases of scarlet fever is the least the department of health expects of the present epidemic, and statements issued by officers yesterday indicated that unless persons in Lincoln, students especially, did not exercise greater care, the minimum number might be easily passed.

A total of twenty-one cases of the fever this week had been reported to the health office up to yesterday evening. Among these are a number of University students, and one instructor, Professor Babbitt, of the department of rhetoric, who was quarantined yesterday. Rooms have been isolated in the Phi Delta Theta house, 517 South Eleventh street, and it is said that one or two other fraternity houses are "suspected."

Over Ninety Cases Now

Over ninety cases have been taken care of by the health office since the epidemic started. Suspects and certain exposures will probably bring the number beyond one hundred, and should the population not awake to the seriousness of the situation, the disease may spread beyond bounds.

The department of health yesterday declared that too great care could not be taken in the matter of sore throats, at least not until the nature of the trouble was ascertained for sure. A large number of students are reporting at the department for immunizing treatment.

APPROPRIATION BILL PASSES

OPPOSITION FUTILE, WHEN DISCUSSION IS RESUMED

Medical College Gets Its $220,000—Representative Trumble, Leader of Attack, Does Not Appear

The unexpected but vigorous opposition to the University appropriation bills for building and maintenance, sprung in the house of representatives Monday noon, did not again appear when legislature convened yesterday morning, and the three bills were disposed of in fifteen minutes.

Representative Trumble, leader of the attack upon the appropriation Monday was absent during the session yesterday, and Representatives Dafoe and Leidigh, the other leaders of the attack, were unsuccessful in two attempts to have the main bill amended with reduction.

Rep. Richmond's Amendment

An amendment by Representative Richmond of Douglas county, added to the main bill, saved the $220,000 appropriation for the college of medicine at Omaha, endangered by the attack.

The opposition to the University appropriation came without warning just before noon Monday, after the University mill levy bill had been ordered engrossed for a third reading. In the consideration of the bill for special University buildings and campus extension levy, Mr. Trumble, Mr. Dafoe, and Mr. Leidigh, declared that buildings for the college of medicine should come out of this fund. The session ended without a vote being taken, and with the appropriations seemingly in a perilous position.

To The High School Visitors

You are here today, one thousand of you, representing your high school and your home in the greatest athletic tournament in the United States. It is given under the auspices of the University of Nebraska.

The University bids you welcome. Do not think that the homely iron fence, the not-too-lovely brick buildings, the hurried impersonality of many of the students and faculty members, make up the University of Nebraska. The real University is the thing that is found in long association, hard work, and pleasant relaxations within that iron fence, within these red brick buildings, and with these hurried students and members of the faculty.

It is an indefinable something—a spirit of fellowship, of peace with the world, of ideals, a spirit mellowed with the ages that have contributed their knowledge to the curricula here and freshened by the youth of the students.

You could not define your friendships by the appearance of your friends, their clothes, the color of their eyes; neither can we define the University by the physical part of it; it is so much more than that.

We can tell you that Nebraska University means the broadening of our outlook on life, the increasing of its spiritual content, the setting of a loftier plane for our ideals—and a lower level for our noses. Even that would mean little to you.

You can only find out what it is by coming. That every one of us urges you to do. If you haven't got the money, borrow it. If you can't do that come down anyway, and you can earn it if you are determined.

Then you, too, will learn what the University of Nebraska is and what it stands for; then you, too, can take part in the joys that come of being a part of it.

SATURDAY IS THE LAST DAY

No Money Will be Accepted for Organization Cuts After 5 O'Clock That Day

Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock has been set by the Cornhusker business staff as the time limit for payment on cuts by organizations. No money will be accepted after that time.

The definite setting of a time limit on the cuts is necessary to get the book out on schedule time, something which the management is determined to do.

The rate for organization pictures in the yearbook is $18 a page, added to the cost of having the photograph made. Organizations using double pages in the book will get them for $15, also in addition to the cost of photograph.

Those who have not had their pictures taken at Townsend's should pay him for the cut and leave the name of the studio.

Paying by Vouchers

In regard to paying by vouchers, the management has issued a warning that the organizations see that these are properly signed, to eliminate any possibility of a hitch, because the management must have the money by the time set.

There are still some junior and senior pictures that are not paid for. To get these in the yearbook all the money must be paid at Townsend's before Thursday at 5 o'clock.

SEVENTH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT WILL START THIS AFTERNOON

FOUR FLOORS WILL BE USED TO ACCOMMODATE OPENING DAY OF PLAY

Class A in Armory; Class B in City Y. M. C. A.; and Class C in Chapel and Auditorium—Today's Games

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the seventh annual interscholastic basketball tournament, with 120 teams and 1,007 players entered, will be opened when Lincoln meets Wilber in the Armory in Class A, Falls City meets Cedar Rapids at the city Y. M. C. A. in Class B, and Minden meets Alma in the chapel, and Clarkson meets Beaver Crossing in the auditorium in Class C.

From every corner of the state incoming trains brought hundreds of high school athletes yesterday, and all day today the host will be increased by every train. Nowhere in America is such an athletic spectacle to be seen as the University is to enjoy from now until Saturday.

Manager Guy Reed has been kept busy registering the teams as they arrive, giving them instructions as to time of reporting, entertainment, and board. Indications were, late last night, that every team entered would be present for its first game.

Referees and clerks received the final instructions yesterday and will be ready to take charge of the tournament when the starting time arrives.

Below is printed a complete program of the games which will start the tournament today:

CLASS A In The Armory Division I

1:00 Lincoln vs. Wilber.
1:15 South Omaha vs. Uni. Place.

6:00 Friend vs. Gothenburg.

CLASS B All Matches at Y. M. C. A. Division I

1:00 Falls City vs. Cedar Rapids.
1:15 Clearwater vs. Central City.
2:00 Havelock vs. Wisner.
2:15 Oag vs. Bethany.
3:00 Hebron Academy vs. Superior.
3:15 West Point vs. Shelton.

SUMMER SCHOOL IN BESSEY BUILDING

The department of zoology will probably not move into their new quarters in Bessey hall by spring recess as planned because some of the equipment for the new building has failed to arrive.

The contract called for delivery about February 1, but no available storage room could be found, so that the shipment will not arrive till the last of the week, and the change will not be made till the close of the semester. Summer school work will be carried on in the new quarters.

Following is a list of organizations that have so far neglected to make their payment for cuts:

A. S. M. E., A. I. I. E. E., Achoth, Ag. Staff, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Ag. Club, Blue Print Staff, Comos Club, Commercial Club, Catholic Students Club, Chi Omega, Chemistry Club, Com. ## ATHLETICS GOOD, SAYS GOVERNOR

Executive at Convocation Yesterday, Said Every Fit Boy Should Indulge in Them

"I believe that every boy who is physically fit should indulge in college athletics," Governor Keith Neville who is not only fond of athletics but also a successful coach, told University students yesterday morning at Convocation at 11 o'clock in Memorial hall.

"I have thought that if I were ever called upon to address a student body that I should try to leave one practical thought," said the governor, and he then referred to his own college days in an eastern school, where the students listened to bishops, archbishops and philanthropists, especially the latter, and received in exchange large appropriations for the school.

Once an Athlete, Always

Governor Neville emphasized the fact that the person who participates in athletics while in college should not neglect exercise when he had finished. The saying "Once an athlete, always an athlete," should be true, he declared. "If you play football or take part in any other athletic activity, you must keep it up the rest of your life, or you will undergo a great deal of physical pain. Fifteen minutes a day devoted to exercise is sufficient to prevent the reaction of inactive work," he said.

Governor Neville's talk was short, practical and interesting.
