Will Give Rice Banquet
One of the events of Newspaper Week at Texas U. will be the rice banquet given the visiting journalists by the Southern Rice Growers' association.

"The purpose of the banquets given by the Southern Rice Growers' association," Mr. Petit says, "is to popularize the use of rice and particularly Texas-grown rice."

Since rice is the only cheap thing left, in this age of the H. C. of L., there is little excuse in spending money on banquets popularizing it.—Ex.

Iowa inaugurated a new registration system at the opening of the second semester recently. By this system they say that it is possible to register in three minutes. The university sends out letters with the number of courses made in the past semester, a letter of general information in regard to registration, and a registration card. The student fills the card out, and all that must then be done is to have the card approved and signed.—The Daily Texan.
