VARIED PROGRAM AT GYM. EXHIBITION

OVER TWO HUNDRED WILL TAKE PART IN PERFORMANCE

Dancing Will Follow—Proceeds Will go to Co-ed Athletics—Varsity Gymnasts There

An unusually attractive program has been prepared for the twelfth annual gymnastic exhibition, in which over two hundred men and women will take part, to be staged on the Armory floor beginning at 8 o'clock this evening. The exhibition, which will last until 9:30, will be followed by informal dancing. The admission fee will be 35 cents including both events. The receipts this year will be devoted entirely to girls' athletics.

All numbers on the program are typical examples of the work of the department. The first number, which includes a dumb-bell drill and gymnastic games, shows the practical and hygienic side of the work as well as the recreative features. The class apparatus work particularly emphasizes muscular control.

The gymnastic squad, composed of the best gymnasts in the University, will demonstrate the more advanced work. The four men on the gymnastic team which will represent the University at the Western Intercollegiate meet next week will give an exhibition of the regular contest figures.

Co-Eds Will Take Part

The women's numbers are especially attractive. One hundred twenty-five sophomore girls will give a wand drill. The dances form probably the most interesting part of the program. A Russian dance will be given in costume by the beginning class in aesthetic dancing, and this will be followed by a flag dance in costume representing the feeling of patriotism which is sweeping the country.

BALL TOSSERS AT WORK IN ARMORY

Wet Weather Does Not Stop Varsity Baseball Practice Entirely—Some Likely Material

Despite the wet weather baseball has been going on for the past week in the Armory. Every day several pairs of hopefuls have been limbering up by tossing the balls back and forth across the gym, much to the discomfort of those passing by. Arms are not in the best of shape as yet and many a wild heave narrowly missed some unprotected head, but as yet no injuries have been reported.

Whether outdoor practice will be staged on the athletic field throughout the season or not has not yet been determined. It is practically certain, however, that the early practice will be carried on there while later in the season arrangements may be made for practice bouts with the Lincoln Western League team, on the professional team's grounds.

A great deal of likely-looking material is appearing from time to time and it seems now that Coach Stewart would have a large number of men from which to pick his team. The quality of this material, however, will only be known as the season progresses.

CO-EDS TALK ON WOMEN'S WORK AT BUSINESS CLUB

Two University girls, Fay Sherwin, '19, and Helen Saunders, '19, talked to the Business Women's club of the University on different types of women's work in the world at the regular meeting of the club in U 112 yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Fay Sherwin read a paper on "Women in the United States Civil Service," in which she showed the opportunities for activity there, and Helen Saunders gave some interesting personal glimpses of women in the lumber industry.

PLAY SEATS STILL HELD FOR STUDENTS

STUDENT EXCHANGE TICKETS NEEDED FOR RESERVATIONS

Ted Metcalfe Returns to Lincoln—New Lighting System to be Installed at Temple

Reservations of seats for the junior play, "Green Stockings," which will be given at the Temple theatre one week from tonight, will be closed to all except those who hold green student tickets for two more days, Friday and Saturday of this week, at the College Book Store. On Monday the seats will be thrown open to the general public.

These students have the exchange tickets to sell: William Schoomacher, George Grimes, Henry Knudson, Guy Moates, Harvey Nelson, Fred Buerstetta, Wayne Townsend, Alfred Hinze, Esther Ellinghusen, Ruth Sinclair, Fred Cotter, G. R. Owen, John Weststrand, Ivan Beede, M. D. Nolan, Cecil Laverty, Ellsworth Moser, Fred W. Clark, Beachey Musselman, Max Miller, Vivienne Holland, DeWitt Foster, Catherine Pierce, Carlyle Jones, Carolyn Kimball, E. F. Moore, and J. B. Worley. They may also be obtained at the College Book Store.

Better Than a Dance

That the class play will be welcome relief from the eternal dance has been the opinion a number of the co-eds, as well as the "fussers," as expressed to a Nebraskan reporter. "Green

FORM UNDERGRADUATE ASSISTANTS' CLUB

Ten Charter Members Effect Preliminary Organization—Charles Glasser is President

An undergraduate assistants' club with the proposed purpose of promoting the general knowledge of the members by discussion, was formed at a preliminary meeting in the Y. W. C. A. rooms of the Temple, at 7 o'clock last evening. Charles Glasser, temporary chairman, was unanimously made president of the club.

Membership was limited, by preliminary articles drawn up last evening, to undergraduate students in the University, who are acting as assistants in any department. A committee to draw up a constitution was appointed by President Glasser, comprising Everett Carr, as chairman, Harriet Anderson, and Ivan Beede.

Following are the ten charter members and the names of their departments: Charles Glasser, '17, Bradshaw, applied mechanics; Harriet An-

MAMMOTH GUARDS FOSSIL EXHIBIT

Largest and Most Perfect Elephant Head in Country Towers Over Prehistoric Remains

The largest and most perfect fossil elephant head in America, Elephas columbi, now guards the entrance to the prehistoric animal exhibits on the first floor of the University museum, the museum force yesterday removing the scaffolding and timbers used in mounting.

The skull alone weighs more than a quarter of a ton, and in life had a face length greater than the full height of an average man. When the thirteen-foot ivory tusks are added it gives the specimen larger dimensions than an average living room.

The huge mammoth of Franklin county lived at a comparatively late age in elephant evolution, having been dead only about 25,000 years. It is for this reason that the artistic curves appear in its two long tusks which are lacking in weapons of Mastodon Americanus, Nebraska's remarkable specimen of an earlier race.

The new specimen is probably the most "showy" of its kind in the world and no doubt will be one of the chief centers of attraction to museum visitors in the future.

"Stockings" is just a delightful comedy—pure fun.

Ted Metcalfe, the leading man for the play, returned to Lincoln yesterday, recovered almost entirely from his attack of illness. Metcalfe took part in the rehearsal of the play last night.

Superintendent of Construction Chownis, after a conference with the play manager, agreed to install a new and up-to-date lighting system for the play. Miss Alice Howell, the coach, and Lad Kubik, the stage manager, outlined the improvements that will be needed, and the new wiring and lighting system will be installed early next week.

FACULTY TO ENTERTAIN STUDENTS AT MID-SEMESTERS NEXT WEEK

The semi-annual entertainment of the University faculty for the students is scheduled to take place progressively, beginning almost any time now, and lasting until the bells toll the knell of parting day one week from this afternoon.

Invitations have been issued to students in all classes except those who were treated to surprise parties dur-

UNUSUAL AUDIENCE HEARS FLUTE RECITAL

Rex E. Fair Gives Novel Program at Convocation in Temple Yesterday Morning

A novel Convocation was enjoyed by an unusually large audience yesterday morning, when Rex Elton Fair, instructor at the University school of music, gave a flute recital, in Temple theatre, at 11 o'clock. Ernest Harrison accompanied Mr. Fair on the piano. The program follows.

Am Waldesbach, Paul Wetzger. Serenade Russe, W. Popp. Orange Blossoms, concert valse, A. Brooke. Concerto aperto. Andante ma non troppo. Allegro.

CORNHUSKER FAST TAKING SHAPE

Sample Border Design Received by Management Yesterday—Campaign Announced Monday

The Cornhusker staff got a definite idea of what the inside pages of the book will look like yesterday when the samples of the border design were received from the Jahn & Ollier engraving company. The divisions sheets, a confessed work of art, have already passed the board of censorship established by the management, and proof of cuts and reading matter is constantly being received.

The "board of censorship" experienced some difficulty in selecting the border designs, and the accepted ones, which came yesterday, were chosen only after several had been rejected. And the Jahn & Ollier company has a reputation of putting out exceptional stuff for college annuals, keeping a special artist whose only business it is to design book borders. The standard set by the staff in this regard is a fair sample of the care and selection with which the whole book is being constructed.

Sales Campaign Announced Monday

DeWitt Foster, business manager, has not divulged any of his plans for the sales campaign in which it is hoped to sell 2,000 Cornhuskers, four hundred more than were sold last year, but full particulars will be announced Monday. Although the character of the campaign is not known, it is expected to be more thorough and intensive than in previous years.

The editorial end of the book is practically completed, with only the finishing touches now being added under the direction of Charles M. Frey, editor-in-chief, Albert J. Covert, senior managing editor, and Wayne Townsend, junior managing editor. Every piece of "copy" which goes into the annual has passed a rigorous test of quality, so that the aim of a representative book may not be spoiled by a book not representatively written.

ing the last day or two. For the most part the time will be spent in rather serious discussion. So far as is known, all of the hosts will be present, and practically all of the guest-list is expected. The appearance of the students in general will be informal and uninformed.

This entertainment is probably the last to be enjoyed by a number of University students, who are said to be planning an indefinite visit at home beginning with Spring recess.

SHAKESPEARE AT SPECIAL CONVOCATION

John E. Kellard, Eminent Actor, Will Give Series of Readings in Temple This Morning at 11 O'Clock

An unusual treat will be offered students without 11 o'clock classes this morning in the Temple theatre in the form of readings from Shakespeare by John E. Kellard, eminent actor, who is in Lincoln filling a theatrical engagement.

Mr. Kellard has won constantly increasing fame on the stage by his interpretation of Shakespeare, and has met an enthusiastic welcome in both America and England. William Winter declared him to be "the greatest actor of today." The opportunity of hearing him in Shakespearean readings is one not often offered the University public.

REP. NORTON TALKS ON NEW CONSTITUTION TO PHI DELTA PHI

Representative J. N. Norton, who has a bill in the state senate asking for a constitutional convention for Nebraska, spoke to Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, on "The Need of a Constitutional Convention" at the regular meeting of the fraternity at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house last evening.

The speaker described the bill now before the house and discussed it in detail, showing the need of a new state constitution. He pointed out that, were a convention called, it would be five or six years at least before the new constitution would go into effect.

ISSUES WARNING ON IMMUNIZING

DEAN LYMAN SAYS IT GIVES "FALSE SENSE OF SECURITY"

"So-called Vaccine" for Scarlet Fever Only in Experimental Stage, He Says—Urges Care

Declaring that inoculation against scarlet fever is only in the experimental stage, and that it gives students a "false sense of security" because it has not yet been proven to protect a person against the fever, Dean R. A. Lyman of the college of pharmacy yesterday issued a statement regarding the tendency of students who have been inoculated to think that they have escaped from the epidemic.

The statement follows:

"Inasmuch as the inoculation with the so-called scarlet fever vaccine may give the student a false sense of security which would be inclined to permit his being careless in exposing himself, it is thought wise to issue this statement. The scarlet fever inoculation is only an experiment and students should take the same care in avoiding contact with patients affected with scarlet fever as if they had not been inoculated.

"Furthermore any person who has already acquired scarlet fever is not helped by such inoculation.

"This statement is issued in order that students may observe every precaution to prevent further spread of scarlet fever."

SUFFRAGISTS AT CONVOCATION

In Charge of Special Program Following Regular Convocation Next Tuesday

University co-eds working for suffrage and co-operating with the suffrage school which will be held in Lincoln Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week, will have charge of a special convocation at which the cause will be upheld, in the Armory at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday, following the regular program.

The program will be announced in full Monday; it will include one of the nationally-known suffrage lecturers who are conducting the "short course" next week, and it is probable that the cadet band will be there.

Men who are for suffrage, or who by affiliation favor the amendment, or who are rabidly against it, are especially invited by the University league to be present at the Convocation and hear the arguments.

ANNOUNCE UNI. WEEK ITINERARY

SUPERIOR FIRST ON SCHEDULE, HOLDREGE LAST

All But Glee Club Will Spend Sunday Out-State—Program Takes Twelve Days

Superior will be the first and Holdrege the last town to be visited by the University week program this year, according to the complete itinerary given out by the management yesterday. The cadet band will give its first entertainment there Friday, March 30, and then will make Red Cloud, Oxford, Cambridge, McCook and Holdrege in the order named. The band will be followed by the play, "Alias Jimmie Valentine," the glee club, the road show and the faculty lecture by Prof. E. F. Schramm of the department of geology.

The schedule extends over a period of twelve days, opening with the band program at Superior on Friday evening, April 30, and closing with the faculty lecture at Cambridge, Tuesday, April 10. The first Sunday of the trip will be spent by the band at Red Cloud and by the play cast at Superior. The second Sunday of the trip will be spent by the road show at McCook and by the faculty lecturer at Cambridge. The glee club is the only number which does not spend Sunday out-state.

Towns Making Preparations

Plans for the trip are being rapidly completed and this year's University week promises to be one of the most successful that has been given. A great deal of interest is being shown by the towns which are to be visited and there is keen competition among them to provide the best houses for the programs and the best time for the University entertainers. Those in charge at Cambridge write that it is going to furnish the biggest audience of any town on the trip and McCook

GRAPLERS WORK FOR WESTERN MEET

Nebraska Stands Good Chance of Winning Wrestling Honors at Iowa City, March 23-24

The varsity wrestling squad is working daily with the idea in mind of carrying off at least a large share of the honors in the Western Intercollegiate meet that is to be held at Iowa City, March 23 and 24.

No prophecy has yet been made by Coach Dick Rutherford as to how he expects his men to line up with the rest of the teams in the west. It is known, however, that with a little luck the Nebraskans have a fine chance of carrying off the first honors.

All the men are in fine shape at present. Barnes, who was under the coach's instructions for only two days before the Ames match, is developing rapidly. His chief trouble now is to keep from going over the 125 pound limit too far to come back to it for the matches.

With an army officer as instructor, Yale undergraduates have formed the first successful college aerial unit. Two hydro-aeroplanes are at the disposal of the students and rapid advances are being made.—Ex.
