PHI BETA KAPPA DAY TOMORROW

ANNUAL EXERCISES OF SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY AT 10 O'CLOCK

Seniors Will be Awarded Honors Following Debate for the Interclass Championship

The annual exercises of Phi Beta Kappa, scholarship society, will be held in the Armory tomorrow morning beginning at 10 o'clock. Before the names of those seniors who have been awarded membership in the society are announced, a debate between the sophomore and senior teams to decide the interclass championship, will take place.

The list of Phi Beta Kappa students will be published in Thursday's issue of The Nebraskan, which will not be distributed until after the exercises.

Debate on Intervention
Prof. M. M. Fogg of the department of rhetoric will preside at the interclass debate. The seniors will support the side of intervention and will be represented by R. P. Parry, of Lincoln; E. L. Randall, of Lincoln; and Walter R. Raacke, of Central City, who will speak in the order named. The sophomore representatives opposing intervention, in the order of their speaking, are C. C. Strimple, of Omaha; Frank Barnett, of McCook; and E. G. Perley, of Omaha.

Prof. G. N. Foster, of the college of law, Prof. G. O. Virtue of the department of economics, and Prof. E. H. Barbour of the department of geology, will judge the debate. Each speaker will be allowed 12 minutes in the main argument and five minutes for rebuttal.

HISTORICAL PANELS TO ART GALLERY

Reproductions of Mural Paintings Representing Events in English History

The art department has just received a series of six panels, reproductions of mural paintings which were presented to the English house of commons by various members of the house of lords, representing certain great historical events of English history. The panels will be framed and hung in the art gallery.

"The Age of Discovery," represents the granting of the charter to John Cabot and his three sons to sail in search of new lands, 1497. The next date is that upon which Erasmus and Thomas More visit the children of Henry VII at Greenwich, 1499. It is called "The New Learning in England." A third panel represents "Cardinal Wolsey at the Trial of Catherine of Aragon and Henry VIII at Blackfriars, 1528." It is by Frank Salisbury and the figure of the donor, Lord Stanmore, is introduced. This is a characteristic of a certain type of art which was once considered perfectly proper and the face of the purchaser or donor of a portrait was often painted in.

CONFERENCE AT LAKE GENEVA SUBJECT AT VESPERS YESTERDAY

Beauties of Lake Geneva, Wis., and the aim of the summer women's conferences held there annually, were set forth at vesper services held Tuesday, by Miss Harriet Cunningham, representing the north central field committee of the Y. W. C. A. Adelia Dodge presided at the meeting. Natalie Spencer gave a vocal solo.

"The greatest sermon ever preached was preached on the side of a mountain," said Miss Cunningham. "Again and again we find our Master turned to His Father in the great out-of-doors."

FIFTY TALK OVER TRACK PROSPECTS

A BIG ADDITION TO TRACK SQUAD RESULTS FROM MEETING

Coach Stewart and Zumwinkle Gave "Pep" Talks—Interclass Meet April 14 Looks Interesting

Fifty men interested in track met in the basement of the Armory yesterday morning and engaged in a track "pep" session. Talks by Coach E. J. Stewart and Otto Zumwinkle, a former Nebraska track captain, were the main events on the program.

A record of the track experience and the events they took part in was taken for all the men present. Many of them expressed the intention of getting into shape for the track meet that is planned for April 14.

The spring interclass track meet has come to be a fixture as one of the standard local athletic events of the year and the one this year promises to be interesting. Many new men have turned out in the last few days and things are beginning to brighten although there are still several places to be filled on the team.

Followers of track are eagerly watching the development of "Mike" Finney the tall hurdler, who gives promise of becoming the best hurdler Nebraska has had in many a day. Finney and Owen, the little speedster, are expected to be the local track stars this year and should make their opponents go some in all the events in which they are entered.

HOMER HAS STOOD TEST OF AGES

PROFESSOR DANN DECLARES IT FIRST LITERATURE OF EUROPE

No Evolution in This Type Because It Was Perfect in the Beginning He Says

"Homer is literally the first literature of Europe," Prof. W. F. Dann, head of the department of history and criticism of fine arts, said yesterday morning at Convocation in Memorial hall. "Doubtless there was some earlier lost or incorporated in Homer," Professor Dann conceded. "But to us the beginning shows a perfect literature. There is no evolution."

"At the very threshold of Greek literature we have a perfect piece of art that has stood the criticism of 3,000 years," he continued. "There has never been an age since that has not regarded Homer as one of the great achievements of the world. Rather singular, too," he commented, "for styles change and tastes vary."

Fulfills Requirements
Professor Dann declared that the poem fulfilled the requirements an epic should. "It is a narrative poem treated in a heroic way. It is not a story of common people and common events. The story deals with both gods and men, and the only difference Homer seems to make, between them is that the gods are immortal."

"For fine oratory I have never seen its equal, or at least its superior," Professor Dann said, speaking of the ninth book which tells of the arguments advanced by a deputation sent from Agememnon, the Greek leader, to Achilles, who had withdrawn his troops from the Greek army in a fit of anger. "It is an exceptionally fine piece of literature for young orators or lawyers, Professor Dann said.

Some Inconsistencies
The speaker summarized the story of the Iliad. "It is a complete, symmetrical book, though there are some inconsistencies," he said and added, "A famous Greek hero does die in an early book, yet appears and takes active part in the story in a later one."

Professor Dann's lecture was the second of the series of discussions of the world's most famous epics, which are being given at Tuesday Convocations by University professors. Dr. L. A. Sherman spoke on "Hindu Epics," two weeks ago. Prof. F. A. Stuff and Prof. F. W. Sanford are scheduled following recess.

The Nebraska Art association which will begin April 6. These pictures have been hung in the art gallery, pending the decision of the judges, who will be, in this case, a special committee from the art association, appointed for that particular purpose. One is by Prof. Blanche C. Grant.

Among the pictures included are several portraits, one pastel and one in water color.

CHICAGO PHI DELTS START MEMORIAL FUND FOR GENERAL FUNSTON

Chicago, Ill.—A movement was inaugurated at the annual dinner of the Phi Delta Theta alumni club of Chicago to start a Frederick A. Funston memorial fund among all the chapters of the fraternity in the country, active and alumni, asking them to help promote the fund. General Funston was a member of the fraternity while a student at the University of Kansas.

The first use to which the fund will be put was announced last night at the dinner, when plans to equip an ambulance for the American Red Cross in France were formulated. Sev-

LAW MAKERS ARE UNIVERSITY'S GUESTS

VISIT THE CITY AND FARM CAMPUSES YESTERDAY

Governor Neville Reviews Cadet Regiment on the Athletic Field, as Part of Program

Governor Keith Neville, Lieutenant Governor Edgar Howard and the members of the state legislature of Nebraska, called upon the University yesterday. The visitors toured both the farm and city campuses in automobiles as the guests of the University.

The tour was made between 4 and 6 o'clock and was followed by the legislative banquet at the auditorium. At 4 o'clock the guests were met at the capitol and taken first to the city campus, where the party attended the review of the cadets on the athletic field. Nearly 600 cadets marched before the legislators, the companies from the farm campus uniting with the regiment from the city armory. Following the review the party journeyed to the Farm campus, and saw the points of interest there.

Cadets Pass in Review
The cadet regiment formed for inspection on the athletic field by battalions. "Present arms" was given twice. Then Colonel Burnham ordered the cadets to pass in review.

Governor Neville and Commandant Samuel Parker saluted the colonel and lieutenant-colonel, who joined the reviewing group. The band led the march in review, followed by the first battalion. The west part of the field had been plowed up considerably and this impeded the march to some extent. The band remained on the field until the last company had marched off.

Classes were dismissed after 4 o'clock in order that students might attend the review.

ACTIVE IN MASON CEREMONIAL TODAY

Dr. G. E. Condra, and Prof. G. R. Chatburn, Prominent in Session of Shrine's

Dr. George E. Condra, illustrious potentate of the seosistris temple, and Prof. George R. Chatburn, chief rabbin, will take an active part in the ceremonial session of the Shrine's in the new Masonic Temple at Fifteenth and L streets today, when some 150 candidates will be considered for degrees and banqueted this evening.

Members of Acacia fraternity will also be called upon to take part in the session and this evening will serve at the banquet.

Today will be a big day for members of the temple. One of the provisions made is for three hundred automobiles, bearing the sign, "Shrine Jitney," which any Shriner may hail and be hauled anywhere he wishes to go.

eral hundred dollars were pledged for the ambulance, the total cost of which will be $1,600. An additional expense of $400 will be incurred in sending a driver with the ambulance, the driver to be a member of the fraternity. Applications for the position as chauffeur were made immediately the project was made known.

Curtis Kimball, law '18, will leave for Minneapolis, Minn., the last of the week to represent the Nebraska chapter of Delta Upsilon at the district convention of the fraternity. He will remain in Minneapolis most of the spring vacation.

PROF. ALICE HOWELL GETS FRAGMENT FROM JEAN D'ARC'S PRISON

A fragment of the stone which came from the floor of the dungeon in Rouen in which Joan of Arc was imprisoned, has been sent Prof. Alice Howell of the department of dramatic art, whose favorite role is that of the French girl-soldier, by a relative who obtained the fragment from the chips made in trimming the block for the pedestal of the Joan of Arc statue on Riverside drive, New York city.

The particular fragment received by Professor Howell retains the original surface of the stone, which as a part of the floor of her dungeon, Joan of Arc might often have tread.

ADD EXTRA DAY TO SALES CAMPAIGN

CORNHUSKERS MAY BE PURCHASED AT $3 THURSDAY

Solicitors Vote to Absolve Tentative Subscribers From Promises in Order to Facilitate Sale

One more day has been added to the Cornhusker sales campaign, according to announcement made yesterday by DeWitt Foster, business manager. Students may place their orders for the year book at $3 until Thursday at 5 o'clock, after which the price will be advanced to $3.50.

The most important thing in the decision of the management to extend the time limit of the campaign was the fact that the first two days showed that there were a large number of students who had promised certain girl solicitors to place orders with them, and had been holding off in order to keep their word. Because solicitor and purchaser often find it difficult to locate each other, the twenty-one co-eds voted yesterday afternoon to absolve everyone from these promises, so that students might place their orders with any of the solicitors.

Foster said yesterday that the sale of books had progressed satisfactorily so far, but laid stress upon the fact that two thousand Cornhuskers must be sold in order to meet the h. c. of publishing annuals. The staff has sacrificed nothing in its effort to make the book better than any of its predecessors despite the staggering increase in the cost of the process, he said, and it was depending upon Nebraskans to show their appreciation of this effort by buying two thousand books.

"THE UNIVERSITY MAN" AT MIDWEEK DEVOTIONAL

H. L. Heinzman, Secretary of the Rocky Mountain District, Y. M. C. A. to Talk Tonight

H. L. Heinzman, of Denver, Colo., international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., with headquarters in the Rocky Mountain district, will speak on "The University Man" at the regular mid-week devotional services of the Y. M. C. A. in its rooms in the Temple at 7 o'clock this evening.

Heinzman has spent much time working among university men in connection with the Y. M. C. A. Before becoming secretary of the Rocky Mountain district, he was secretary of the association at the University of Iowa. He is in charge of the Estes Park conference.

John Lawler, Law '13, of Hastings, and Sidney Frum, Law '13, of Dakota City, are visiting at the Acacia house this week.

COLLEGE WOMEN TO FORM NAVAL RESERVE

MASS MEETING CALLED FOR DEFENSE ORGANIZATION

Miss Alice Proudfit, '16, Heads Committee of University Girls Who Will Prepare for War

First plans for a great organization of all college women west of the Mississippi river into a college woman's naval reserve league, were made yesterday morning by a group of University of Nebraska women who met at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. A call has been issued for all Nebraska University women who want to do their bit if the country goes to war to meet in the Armory Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, when the purposes of this organization will be explained.

The league, formed at the call of the president and under the auspices of the navy department of the United States, will prepare the college women for all kinds of war service—Red Cross work, medical work, making bandages—and more than that, get them ready to step into all kinds of positions in civil life that will be made vacant by the men if there is a general call to arms.

Every woman who joins the league will be asked to give her preference of what she shall do if war comes. Women will be needed in every industry to take the place of men, even as in France, England and Germany women are doing the work of the men who are at the front.

Miss Alice Proudfit, of the class of

KOSMET TICKET SALE TOMORROW

Seats for "The Diplomat" at Oliver, April 13, May be Reserved at Box Office Thursday

The ticket sale for the Kosmet Klub play, "The Diplomat," which will be given April 13, in the Oliver theatre, will start tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Oliver box office. Tickets reserved at that time will be held up to Wednesday night, April 11. As in previous years organizations may reserve a block of seats and these will also be held till the Wednesday after vacation. After that time no reservations will be kept for more than twenty-four hours.

The cast is working overtime to make "The Diplomat," the best of the many very successful shows that the Klub have produced. The music which is absolutely new was written and orchestrated this year by C. Leroy Meisinger, '17. It is said that he has surpassed his melodies of last year for the "Night of the Nymphs."

Are "All Star" Cast
Although the "Diplomat" it a clever comedy, it is developed to its utmost possibilities by the excellent work of Walter Johnson, '19, who will be seen as the King, the chief laugh-maker of the show. He will be supported by an "all-star" cast which will include Natalie Spencer, '20; Drake, graduate student; Marguerite Lonam, '18; Ellsworth Moser, '18; Norman Curtice, '19; and Ray Doyle, '17, all of whom, except Miss Spencer, have helped to make previous Kosmet productions the great success that they have been.

The chorus is the best, in the opinion of the coach, that has been heard for several years, having more trained voices in it than ever before.
