

"THE DIPLOMAT"
SCORES SUCCESS

Just before the election for dictator, and all become entangled in an attempt to re-elect the present incumbent, who has occupied the place for twenty-five years, but who is threatened by insurgency. After a swift love-match and some lightning strokes by the villain, the plot unwinds in the proper pleasing way.

THE COLLEGE WORLD

Track Team Recruiting

At Harvard University they were not able to get over fifty men out for the track squad, and as a result they had what they called a recruiting campaign. Not over twenty men showed up for track practice, and so the coach and several steadies had a week of conscription. In the last four years Harvard has won only one dual meet from Yale, and the Harvard Crimson hopes that out of their present 2,500 men they can draw enough to put out a track team that will defeat Yale.

Ohio—In a canvass conducted on the Ohio campus recently to entertain the popularity of various religions among the students, it was found that the Methodists claimed 1,564 students, Presbyterians, 698, and Lutherans stood third with 339 advocates.—Ex.

Elope From Dance

The S. A. E.'s were giving their annual formal dance at Illinois. Things were going in the way they usually do at such affairs, when it was discovered that two of the honor guests, an alumnus of the chapter, and one of the young ladies had disappeared. All search for them, even up to noon of the next day, proved futile. The "brothers" were then informed by the young man's brother that the two had run off and married. This was the culmination of a romance begun a few years ago by the two while at the university.—Ex.

Free Speech

Students of the University of Wisconsin are now waging a fight to obtain free speech at the University. The fight comes as a result of the refusal by the university authorities to allow Max Eastman to deliver a lecture to students in one of the university halls. The students are petitioning the use of at least one auditorium for the discussion by anyone of any public question before the student body.—Ex.

Guilty Conscience

A Virginia editor threatened to publish the name of a certain young student who was seen hugging and kissing a young girl in the park, unless his subscription to the paper was paid up in a week. Fifty-nine young men called and paid up the next day, while two even paid a year in advance.—Ex.

Co-Eds Edit Tiger

The co-eds of the A. & M. college of Oklahoma, got out a fine Tigress edition. They gave the girls' view on college activities and woman's side of college life.

Both the freshmen and sophomores had a special class edition of the Oklahoma A. & M. Daily.—Ex.

More War on Moustaches

Still the attempt to exterminate moustaches among undergrads at various universities continues. A sophomore at McGill appeared after the fray with half of his "Chaplain" moustache gone, and the remaining half painted a bright blue color. Needless to say it was not long ere the whole of his upper lip was clean-shaven.—Ex.

Military Courses at Brown

The new military courses at Brown University are well under way. The enrollment in the classes already totals 254, and 250 rifles have been received from the government. Arrangements have been made with uniform factories so that a complete uniform can be obtained for seven dollars.—Ex.
