"ALIAS JIMMIE VALENTINE" COMING

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS TO GIVE UNI. WEEK PLAY AT TEMPLE

First Time in Lincoln—Maurice Clark and Louise Schavland in Leading Parts

"Alias Jimmy Valentine," the play taken on the road University week by the University players will be presented for the first and only time at the Temple theatre Thursday evening, May 12.

Almost postponed indefinitely at one time because of the general interruption of school affairs, friends of the cast and others interested in the department have urged its presentation before the students before the close of the school year. The cast, all members of which have taken part in a number of University plays and are favorably known to the University audiences is made up largely of seniors, who will have this final chance to appear in a play before taking up the more serious business of life or of war.

The play demands a good size of royalty for each performance. It has been produced by the cast ten times and pleased well in each town visited University week. The two leads, Maurice Clark and Louise Schavland, will take up professional work this coming summer and to them as well as Spray Gardner, Howard Wilson, Elizabeth Brown, Neil Brown, Florence Maryott and Mrs. Cleo Cather Young it will serve as a farewell production for their University friends.

Story of a Crook

The play has been everywhere successful and is favorably known to all who follow the theatre news. The story of a crook, pardoned from a sentence in "Sing Sing" for opening a bank safe, through the influence of a girl undertakes to make good. How he succeeds to the last moment, wins the girl, deceives the detectives and then is confronted with the necessity of opening a safe to save a life, brings out a number of amusing and dramatic situations that has made the play, an "actor proof" never fail production.

The only change in the original cast will be Neil Brown as Bill Avery in place of Lad Kubik, who leaves this week to enlist. Several others of the cast expect to leave within a few days after the production for Fort Snelling.

It is expected that this will be the last dramatic production of the year. Other plays in progress in Miss Howell's department have been postponed for the year and every effort will be made to produce "Jimmy Valentine" as the star offering of the year's work.

The Leading Parts

Clark and Miss Schavland need little announcement to the University public and their appearance should insure a worthy interpretation of two difficult characters. Gardner as Doyle, Wilson as the warden and Gwynne Fowler as Red, received much favorable notice throughout the state and Olive Means and Elizabeth Brown as Kitty and Bobby Lane have speciality work that generally brings the house down.

Tickets will be sold at the College Book store and on the campus beginning today.

NO SENIOR INVITATIONS AFTER 6 O'CLOCK FRIDAY

H. B. Porterfield, chairman of the senior invitation committee, has announced that all booklets and announcements must be ordered by 6 o'clock Friday. No extra copies will be published.

Orders for the invitations will be taken at tables on the campus today and tomorrow and at the College Book Store. Payment is in advance.

RICHARD COOK CALLED TO FT. SNELLING CAMP

Richard C. Cook, '20, of Council Bluffs, military reporter for The Daily Nebraskan and a member of the reportorial staff of the Nebraska State Journal, received orders yesterday to report at once to the officers' reserve training camp at Fort Snelling, Minn., to take up the duties of adjutant. Cook left last evening for the camp.

While there Cook will act as The Nebraskan's representative, and will send daily news of the camp and the activities of University men.

Another Nebraskan reporter, H. J. Murfin, '19, of Lincoln, has withdrawn from the University for farm work.

HUSKERS TO BATTLE AMES ON DIAMOND

FIRST HOME MO. VALLEY GAMES FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Army Call Hurts Nebraska Chances—Rutherford Looks for Wins

If "Old Sol" can be persuaded to show his smiling face during the next few days, the baseball fans of the University will have a chance to see their team in action Friday and Saturday afternoons when the Cornhuskers are scheduled to meet the Ames "Aggies" in a pair of games on Nebraska field.

Dry weather today and tomorrow will leave the field in fine shape and should produce some real "big league" baseball.

The game Friday will be the second Missouri Valley game of the season, and the first game between the two schools for several years.

The team is not in exceptional shape because of the poor weather of the last two weeks and may be weakened by the loss of several of the regulars who have been accepted at Fort Snelling. Coach Rutherford is confident that the men will give a good account of themselves and if favored in the breaks of the game should be returned the victors.

John Pickett will probably be picked to start the first game. Pickett should be in fair shape, which means that the Hawkeye "Aggies" will have a hard time collecting the runs. Riddell, Mackey and Bergquist will be the candidates for the hurling job in the second game.

FORFEIT CORNHUSKER UNLESS BALANCE PAID

The Cornhusker management has called the attention of students who are leaving school because of the war emergency that the first payment of $1.50 is forfeited unless the balance is paid within a week after the book is issued. The announcement was made some time ago that those who leave their address and the balance of the money due at the student activities office before their departure, will receive the book by mail.

KREBS MADE PRESIDENT OF PHI ALPHA TAU

August C. Krebs, '16, law '18, of Friend, was elected president of Phi Alpha Tau, the public speaking fraternity, at its last meeting for the year at the Windsor Wednesday evening. Earl C. Jeffrey, '18, of Lincoln was elected vice-president and W. C. Cull, '18, of Oakland, secretary-treasurer. The time was taken up with the plans for the work of the fraternity for the coming year.

CONVOCATION

Beethoven's sixth (pastoral) symphony, played on strings and organ by Edward J. Walt, first violin; Ernest Harrison, second violin; William Quick, viola; Lillian Eiche, cello; Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, organ, will be played at Convocation this morning at 11 o'clock in Memorial hall.

There are five distinctive movements in this symphony, titled by Beethoven himself, and therefore may be regarded as authoritative hints of what the composer means to say. They are:

Allegro ma non troppo. Awakening of cheerful feelings on arriving in the country.

Andante molto mosso. Scene at the brook.

Allegro. Merry gathering of the peasants.

Allegro. Thunderstorm.

Allegretto. Glad and grateful feelings after the storm.

The girl who gets first place in any of the events will receive twenty points toward the 100 necessary for admission into the women's athletic association and the "N" sweater. For second place ten points will be given, for third, five points. The girl who totals the highest score will be given 100 points, second highest, fifty.

CO-ED TRACK MEET MAY 17

Annual Girls' Olympics and Baseball Games on Nebraska Field

The annual University of Nebraska girls' track meet which was to have been held Thursday afternoon, May 10, has been postponed until May 17. This has been done to give more time for the preliminary baseball games which will be played before the meet.

The entire afternoon will be taken for the meet which practically closes the women's gymnastic work for the year. The final championship baseball game will open the afternoon. There will be the relay race, hurdling, the shot put, baseball throw, basketball throw, pole vault, javelin throw and the sprinting.

Blanche Higgins, '18, has general charge of the meet.

Engineers to Hear Curtis.—A. J. P. Curtis, director of the extension division of the Portland Cement association, will give a talk on concrete work, to the civil and agricultural engineering students Friday morning at 11 o'clock in Mechanics Arts 102. ## 115 PASS EXAMS. FOR TRAINING CAMPS

LIST GROWS RAPIDLY AS TIME DRAWS NEAR

Applications Made Directly to Captain Parker Now—Camp Commander to Select Recruits

One hundred and fifteen students had passed the physical examinations and were eligible for the training camp at Fort Snelling last evening. There are still more than fifty awaiting examination.

An order from the war department received by Captain Parker advises all those who intend to apply for permission to attend the camp that all applications will be made to Captain Parker and not forwarded to Chicago as before. As one of the members of the examining board for this district, the commandant will himself conduct the general examination, and send those who pass to Captain Davis for their physical test.

Camp Officer Notifies Candidates

The order from Chicago instructs Captain Parker to call the attention of all candidates to the fact that the camp commander at Fort Snelling will select and notify candidates who are authorized to attend the camp. The orders state that the camp will open May 8, and that accepted applicants may report not earlier than that date and not later than May 14.

Following are the instructions:

Chicago, Ill., April 30, 1917.

"Captain Samuel M. Parker, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.

Hereafter you will have all candidates who apply to you make out applications and you will conduct examinations of such applicants without referring their cases to these headquarters. The full names, addresses and branch of all accepted candidates so examined will be transmitted daily by mail to these headquarters. Strike out on all approval cards under second endorsement words "and has authorized him to report with his duplicate copy to the camp above indicated." Invite attention of candidates to directions on back of card requiring camp commander to select and notify such accepted candidates as are authorized to attend. Camps will open May 8. Accepted applicants may report not earlier than May 8 not later than May 14."

VARSITY TRACK MEN TO MEET FIVE TEAMS

WESLEYAN, COTNER AND DOANE COMPETE WITH 3 HUSKER TEAMS

Freshmen and Alumni to Take Part—Regulars in Good Shape and Expect to Win

The varsity track team will be hosts to five other teams at a track meet on Nebraska field next Saturday afternoon when the men making up the varsity will compete with teams representing Wesleyan, Cotner, Doane, the alumni and the freshmen.

There is sure to be some real competition in the sprints in which both Doane and Wesleyan will have men who hold some fine records.

It is not possible to say who the alumni entries will be as yet, but it is probable that Guy Reed, Otto Zumwinkle and Herb Reese, all former sprinters, will take part in the hundred and two-hundred yard races.

The team as a whole is in good condition and with the track in any sort of shape will do some fine work Saturday. Owen, Werner, Finney and Overman will be looked upon as sure winners in their races while Graf and Grau should win first if they run true to form. Reese in the weights is increasing his distances at every workout and should win the shot and discus without much trouble. If pole vaulters are as scarce in the other schools of the state as they are here the freshmen will have an easy time winning both first and second in this event.
