HELP CAMPAIGN FOR FOOD SAVING

"CAN ALL YOU CAN" HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT SAYS

Publishes Recipes for Co-Eds and Folks at Home—Asparagus, Rhubarbs, Dandelions in Season

"Can all you can" is the slogan of the home economics extension service, which is co-operating with food officials everywhere in helping to conserve the nation's food supply as well as to increase its gross amount.

Besides teaching young women in the University how best to help during the summer to prepare against the rainy day which government experts say is sure to come, the department is sending out handy recipes for the 1917 canning season, a canning season which is destined to be more vital than any in the memory of an American housewife. Co-eds are advised to cut out the recipes and send them to the home folks, and also to make use of them during week-ends at home.

The first bulletin announces that rhubarb, asparagus and dandelions are now ready to be put up for winter use. How to can these three "eatables" successfully and easily, as prescribed by the home economics extension specialists, is as follows:

How to Can Asparagus

Wash your jars and lids well. Put your washbottle on the stove and fill with water to depth of 7 or 8 inches. If you are going to use quart jars. Also put on a teakettle of water to heat.

Then go out in the garden and cut your asparagus. Wash it and tie it up in a thin cloth. Put on the stove a good sized kettle for which you have a false bottom. Put water in the kettle so that it just covers the

ANSWERS COME TO QUESTIONNAIRE

UNIVERSITY RESOURCES ARE BEING TABULATED

Prof. C. J. Frankforter of the chemistry department, who has been appointed adjutant for Nebraska by the intercollegiate intelligence bureau, has received over 450 answers to the questionnaires he sent out to the alumni and juniors and seniors. They are coming in at the rate of thirty a day and this rate will probably increase as the importance of the information they contain becomes more evident.

The alumni are responding especially well, not only filling out the cards but writing letters giving much fuller information than could be crowded on the cards. All branches of service are represented in these offers. Some offer themselves as mechanics, others as commissary department helpers, some as officers and others as secret service agents.

Professors Offer Services

University professors are also responding well. Large numbers of them have sent back the blanks filled out and several have offered their services in person.

The bureau, which now has its headquarters in Washington, in its latest instructions to Professor Frankforter, gives notice that the next big duty will be the assisting of the governor in getting the registration completed in preparation for the selective draft.

DEAN SHERMAN ON SHAKESPEARE TOMORROW AT CONVOCATION

Dr. L. A. Sherman, dean of the graduate college and head of the department of English literature, will give a "Shakespearean Spectacle" Tuesday morning at Convocation at 11 o'clock in Memorial hall.

The spectacle was written to commemorate the three-hundredth anniversary of the death of Shakespeare, and emphasizes the five vital points in the life of the dramatist.

FETE DAY COMES NEXT SATURDAY

HIGH SCHOOLS WILL BE UNIVERSITY'S GUESTS

State Debate Championship Decided In Morning—Track Meet in the Afternoon

Fete Day, the day on which the University is host to the track athletes and debaters of the state high schools, is scheduled for next Saturday. The state championship debate occupies the morning, while the afternoon is given over to the track meet in which the supremacy of the state is decided.

"Dope" is practically lacking in regard to the comparative merits of the track teams of the state, although it is a foregone conclusion that Omaha and Lincoln will put pretty good teams in the field. Entries for the meet were completed last Wednesday and Dr. Clapp will proceed to make up the program and appoint the officials this week.

Prof. M. M. Fogg, who is the founder of the Nebraska high school debating league, has been busy for some time preparing for the final tussle between the twelve district champions who have won the right to compete for the state championship. The league, the largest debating league in the country, has a total membership of nearly ninety schools. Eliminating debates have been carried on during the winter and spring until only twelve are left in the running.

Five Years Ago Today

The Kosmet Klub was completing arrangements for "the Diplomat."

PHARMACY WEEK BEGINS TODAY

COLLEGE WILL HOLD ITS ANNUAL CELEBRATION

Pharmacy week, the annual week of festivities in the college of pharmacy, begins today. Like the engineers, the future druggists celebrate the week with a banquet, a Convocation and other minor events.

Prof. Albert Schneider of California is to be the guest of the pharmacists this year. He will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet, which is to be held Thursday noon at the Commercial club.

The pharmaceutical society's arm band, bearing the monogram and the druggist's sign, announcing that the week of celebration is here, will be a familiar sight about the campus beginning today. The college expects a number of alumni to visit the University in the course of the week and take part in the festivities.

The program for the special Convocation and for the other events which will complete the celebration will be announced tomorrow.

ONE HUNDRED MORE QUALIFY FOR CAMP

GRINDING OUT ELIGIBLES FOR FORT SNELLING

Forty-Seven Pass Examinations Friday and Seventy Get Through Saturday—Will Apparently Be No Letup

One hundred and seventeen "found suitable for camp" is the result of examination of applications and physical fitness for Fort Snelling Friday and Saturday in the commandant's office. The expected rush as the day of the opening of camp approached started in earnest Saturday when the office was crowded from morning until evening. The results for the two days were Friday, 47; Saturday, 70. Applications will be received at the commandant's office until orders come to suspend examinations. Taking the rush of Saturday as an event which casts its shadow before, the office is preparing for a land-office business until this order comes.

Largely Students

As usual, by far the larger number of those who were granted applications were students. One instructor, S. D. Babbitt, an assistant in the department of rhetoric, qualified Saturday. Loren Caley, varsity football quarterback, and a member of the baseball nine, was also one of those who passed the examinations.

Following is a list of the candidates found suitable for camp Friday and Saturday:

700 WITHDRAWALS UP TO SATURDAY

REGISTRAR'S OFFICE STILL RUSHED WITH APPLICATIONS

Five Co-Eds in the List—Farm Takes by Far the Most Students

An even seven hundred students, of whom five were co-eds, had withdrawn from the University "on account of the war emergency," by 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Permissions granted Friday numbered 68; Saturday, 19. The big drop Saturday is considered only temporary by the registrar's office, which expects the rush to begin again Monday. The high point, however, is thought to have been passed.

Many to Farm

Of the 87 who secured their releases Friday and Saturday, by far the most of them will go to the farms. The officers' reserve training camp at Fort Snelling will call the next largest number. In addition there will be some who go into the coast artillery service and other branches of the regular army, into the national guard, and at least one, Leo L. Pace, '18, of Guide Rock, will go to prepare himself to enter the naval academy at Annapolis.

One Co-Ed Goes

One co-ed was granted permission to leave Saturday. She was Lillian A. Hendee, '20, of Sloan, Ia., who will go to her home to help supervise the farm.

Following is a list of those who withdrew Friday and Saturday:

- |                    |                    |

Why The Rag Is Called The Rag

Editor Daily Nebraskan: A recent issue of The Daily Nebraskan fell into my hands, in which some one wanted to know "Why The Rag Is Called The Rag." I think the honor (if it can be so called) belongs to Chancellor Canfield. One day some 23 years ago while in his office I referred to The Nebraskan as "The Rag." He paused in characteristic pose, his glasses half raised—but remained silent. The following Friday afternoon while a group of us were waiting, just before drill time, in front of the "Co-Op" for the boy to bring up the first copies, the chancellor came half way down the east steps, leaned over the railing and chortled to me: "Well, Riley, is 'The Rag' out out yet." Harry Oury, Charley Elliott, Joe Beardsley, Howard Parmelee, Tabor Teele, Elmer Pearson, Bill McKay and others let out a shout. It did not take them long to spread the news. From that moment I was Rag Riley, and the Nebraskan was "The Rag." I did not know the name had stuck to The Nebraskan, but it has to me. The happiest thrill of my life comes when Eddie Morrison, Elmer Pearson, and Orville Martin, classmates, now located in Kansas City, drop in with a "Hello, Rag!"

Very truly,
FRANK T. RILEY, '98.

ART DEPARTMENT RECEPTION IN GALLERY SATURDAY

The members of the Manual Training Art Teachers' association were the guests of the art department at an informal reception given in the gallery Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Some examples of the work of the classes during the year were exhibited.

VARSITY TRACKSTERS MAKE SHOWING

THREE NOTABLE PERFORMANCES IN MEET SATURDAY

Graf Breaks University Record in 2-Mile by Seven Seconds—Finney and Werner Shine

Three notable performances featured the "free-for-all" track meet held on Nebraska field Saturday afternoon. Graf ran the two-mile in nine minutes and fifty-nine seconds, Finney scrambled over the high hurdles in sixteen seconds and Werner made a leap of twenty-two feet four inches in the broad jump.

Graf's time was the most sensational, for it broke the former Nebraska record, held by Louis Anderson since 1909, by seven seconds. The feat was all the more remarkable because he ran most of the distance without competition, being paced for three laps.

Finney Presses Record

Werner's jump was within four inches of the local record, held by Wiley. Finney's time is one-fifth of a second slower than that made by MacDonald in 1909.

The time in other events was nothing exceptional although none of them were slow.

Rutherford, Corey and Zumwinkle were the only alumni to score. Rutherford took first in the javelin, Corey first in the discus and second in the shot and Zumwinkle took third in the broad jump.

The summary follows:

- |  |
|--|
| 100-yard dash—Owen, Werner, McMahon, 10:2.   |
| 220-yard dash—Werner, McMahon, Bryans, 23:1. |
| 440-yard dash—Owen, Jackson, Bryans, 53:4.   |

ATTEND MEETING OF ENGLISH TEACHERS

FACULTY AND STUDENTS TAKE PART IN SESSION SATURDAY

The Nebraska section of the national council of English teachers held its second annual meeting Saturday in the banquet hall of the Lincoln hotel. The sessions were attended by a number of University instructors and students. The program for the morning session was as follows:

"The Selection of Reading in the High School Course," Miss Eeva Moreland, Franklin Academy.

"Socializing the English Recitation," Miss Sarah Muir, Lincoln high school.

"English for Vocations," Superintendent F. M. Hunter, Lincoln.

In the absence of Mr. Hunter, who is in California, his place was supplied by Miss Lenore Burkett, '16, and Prof. Louise Pound, who gave, by request, a recital of "Western Tra-

PREPARE POST FOR COMING RECRUITS

PICTURESQUE FT. SNELLING READY FOR FUTURE OFFICERS

Most of Those Who Attend Camp Will Be College Men—Many From Nebraska

BY RICHARD COOK

(Staff Representative)

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—When more than two thousand embryo young warriors of the middle west gather on the green at Fort Snelling this week, the fort will appear like a mixing pot into which college men of every type, disposition, "frat" and situation in life will have thrown themselves. To a great extent the officers' training camp at Fort Snelling will be a college camp. Men are coming from the state universities of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, the Dakotas, and a few from Illinois and Wisconsin. Grinnell, Drake, Morningside, Carlton, St. Thomas Military Academy, St. Paul, are but a few of the smaller institutions sending quotas Fort Snellingward.

Officers at the camp have noted the large number of men the Cornhuskers are furnishing. Most of Nebraska's men in camp are coming from Lincoln and Omaha; the majority of them are University lads.

In Picturesque Country

One might sit here in St. Paul and try to write about the beauties of the country about Fort Snelling, but he couldn't begin to picture the scenery as it will unfold itself before the boys who Nebraska will send soon.

Fort Snelling is such a big reservation that three or four Lincoln city blocks would be lost in it. Congress has been muckraked in recent years for giving big "pork" outlays to build the structures for barracks, officers' homes and other purposes at this post; now every one of these buildings will be used and used soon.

The post overlooks from a high cliff the Mississippi, which is a rather narrow and fast Father of

TOWNSEND TO HEAD AWGWAN STAFF

N. B. MUSSELMAN BUSINESS MGR.—SIGMA DELTA CHI ELECTS

Wayne L. Townsend of Cook, Neb., was made editor-in-chief of the Awgwan, Carlisle Jones of Neligh, was made managing editor, and N. B. Musselman of Arkansas City, Ark., business manager, at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, the journalistic fraternity, Saturday afternoon at the Commercial club. The fraternity owns the publication, which is the University humorous magazine, and has been edited during the past year by Ted Metcalfe.

Walter Johnson of Omaha was elected associate editor and John Charles Wright of Lincoln assistant business manager of the publication.

Election of officers of the fraternity for next semester resulted in the choice of George E. Grimes of Omaha, president; Ivan G. Beede of David City, vice-president, and John Weststrand of Wahoo, secretary-treasurer.

The fraternity decided to place the management of the Awgwan in the hands of a board of five members, to be composed of the president and secretary-treasurer of Sigma Delta Chi, and the editor-in-chief, managing editor and business manager of the Awgwan.
