SENIORS VOTE $25 FOR SWEATER BILL

ONE HUNDRED GRADUATES DISCUSS LAST-MINUTE PROBLEM

The senior class voted $25 toward the $100 bill out-standing on a dozen class football sweaters yesterday morning at the last business meeting of the year.

The money was voted, Marguerite Kauffman, president, said after the meeting, as a token of appreciation from the class to the men who won the interclass football championship. She said the sweaters were ordered through the athletic board and that although the class was anxious to give the football team proper recognition, it was not responsible for the sweater bill.

The situation arose through the fact that the sweaters were originally voted to the football men at a meeting of members which was not authorized by the president.

About one hundred were present at the meeting, and discussion was diverse and varied. The general opinion expressed was that the class was not only not responsible for the bill, but that under the circumstances should not be expected to stand good for it.

"Business As Usual"

We are making every effort to keep it so. To this end we have installed the latest labor-saving and efficiency devices. Prospective students and employers are invited to investigate. Several students placed in good positions the past week.
