Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN ON TODAY

Association Plans to Give Every University Man a Chance to Help

BUDGET FOR LAST YEAR

The University begins its annual membership and finance campaign this morning and in today and tomorrow plans to see every man in the University and give him a chance to become a member of either the city or the University Y. M. C. A., or both.

A meeting of the workers in the campaign was held at the city association rooms last night, and plans were discussed. It was agreed that this year especially was a year in which the Y. M. C. A. was rendering a special service, not only locally, but in the war camps and among the soldiers, and for that reason the support of all students should be expected.

Expenses this year are larger than formerly, but the association intends to render the same kind of service that it has been rendering in the past and a good deal larger amount. Nearly all students know of the varied phases of the work done, and know where the money is going that they give with their membership.

For membership in the University there is no special fee, but each member is asked to give a voluntary subscription to its support. The work is financed entirely by students, faculty, citizens and interested friends. A combination membership in both the University and city associations is also offered. A part of this goes to the University Y. M. C. A., and a part goes toward a fee which allows students all the privileges at the city building.

That the student may know where the money goes that he gives to the University association, the following budget for last year is given:

MUSICAL CONVOCATION GIVEN YESTERDAY

Nearly Five Hundred Hear Program of Overtures by String Orchestra

Nearly 500 students, faculty members and townspeople attended the overture recital given by the string quartet and organ yesterday morning in Memorial hall at 11 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, director of music.

The program:
Mozart—Overture to Figaro.
Von Weber—Overture to Der Freischutz.
Schumann—Overture to Manfred.

ODGERS WRITES FROM RANGOON, BURMA

Says Mail From States Is Two Months Old When it Reaches Him

George A. Odgers, '16, headmaster of the Methodist Boys' high school at Rangoon, Burma, writes the alumni office: "The home papers are two months old when they reach here. Mails via the Atlantic are very irregular. More time is required for it to come via Vancouver and Hong Kong, but it is sure of reaching here some time. That is much better than having Neptune censoring it."

Many of our circles here deplore the action of the nation. But I wish that I were there to be with the other men who are ginning to the trenches. While they fight with fire and explosives, I will have to use the ruler and soap as my weapons."

There are 800 boys in the college. Odgers has charge of the classes in English and higher geography. His address is 36 Creek street, E. Rangoon, Burma.

DRAMATIC CLUB HOLDS TRYOUTS AT TEMPLE

Eighty Students Working for Membership—Those in Charge Pleased at Talent Shown

Nearly eighty students tried out for places in the English Dramatic club at the Temple last night. The list of those making places will probably be known Monday.

The tryouts were in charge of a committee headed by Gwyne Fowler, '18. Pleasure was expressed with the work done and at the amount of excellent talent to fill the places left vacant last year.

Kansas Prospects Improve

Varsity football chances improved a bit yesterday with many of the old men out for practice on Hamilton Field, along with several veteran players from last year's freshman team. George Nettels, a Topeka youth who tips the scales at nearly 200 pounds, who is fast and kicks the ball in true K. U. style; was out for left tackle, which is his favorite role. Robert Hunter, a new man and a sophomore, was playing end. Louis Hull was holding down center, the position he played on the varsity squad a year ago.

Walter Zoellner, who played good ball for the juniors last fall in the class games, was out for left guard. Wenzel did well at fullback on the team which had the offensive, and Nielson played his usual fierce offensive game. Marquis, a quarter for the same team, made several good plays, through holes in the line. Ziegler played the tackle opposite Nettels. Pringle went through for some smashing gains in his play for this team. Gorrill showed good head work playing halfback.

A feature of the practice last night was a pass of twenty-two yards by Pringle to Shinn. Shinn is playing his usual wide-awake game at end, grabbing the passes out of the air consistently. Davis, Simons, Bunn, Woody, Lonborg and Idol also were playing good ball. Jones was back at his position of left guard and his weight is a great aid to his fierce playing.

Mandeville and Miner are now in Topeka working on a contract job which will end October 1, and both are expected back immediately after that. Frost is expected out any day.

First freshman practice found twenty-two men trying for the team. The new freshman coach, Jay Bond, reported a light squad, but the men were willing workers and play with snap. Passing the ball, going down under punts, and falling on the ball, along with training orders made up the first day's work.

The varsity will scrimmage with Haskell the first part of next week, and the first year men are also expected to be in good enough shape to mix the regulars the same week.—The Daily Kansan.

Instructor Beck in Montana.—E. C. Beck, who was an instructor in the English literature department here, is now teacher of athletics and English in the normal college at Dillon, Mont.

Portrait Received.—A fine portrait of the late Regent Charles W. Kaley has been donated to the University museum by the faculty. The portrait has been framed and now hangs in the Museum office.

Clifford Lundgren, '20, is visiting at the Alpha Tau Omega house.

BIGGEST SCHEDULE IN YEARS FACES HUSKERS

Student Tickets Same Price—Business Men to Have 5,000 People at First Game

PROFITS TO RED CROSS

Nebraska faces this year one of the biggest schedules in her football history. The opening of the 1917-18 football season comes next Saturday with the Wesleyan game. Practically the only practice game is the first one and the Notre Dame game comes third on the list. The big games come right at first and last till Thanksgiving.

Next week the business men of Lincoln will launch their campaign for raising the total receipts of the fall's football schedule to over $25,000.

The board of regents, who have charge of athletics this year, have announced that the receipts from the ticket sales, after the necessary expenses are deducted, will be donated to the Red Cross fund. As soon as this was made known, the business men of Lincoln, seeing an excellent chance to help a good cause, took up the idea, and are now boosting it hard. Committees from the Lincoln Commercial club, the Rotary club and the Ad club are in charge of the work. These committees will have the handling of most of the advertising for the season games. In many instances, business men as individuals are doing a great deal towards advertising the games, on their own account.

Former attendance at the Wesleyan game has been about 500. The business men intend to have at least 5,000 people in the stands! Students so far have bought 75 season tickets or about $300 worth.

The tickets sold to outsiders will cost $9.50, while the student may purchase one for $4, and the extra amount for reserving a seat at the biggest games. The students' tickets are good for all athletics for the rest of the season. They save money in the end. They are on sale in the Student Activities office, in the basement of Administration building.

DESIRE REVIVAL OF COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

National Secretary Asks Organization Here—Those Interested To See Prof. Hrbkova

Thomas E. Oliver, general secretary of the National Cosmopolitan clubs, has written asking to have the Nebraska Cosmopolitan club revived. Mr. Parks, the president of the local club, has returned to Korea and Mr. Carlson, the other member of the executive board has left school.

The twelfth annual convention is to be held at Oberlin college Christmas week, and it is desired that the Nebraska club organize and send a delegate to the convention.

All persons born in other countries who are interested in the revival of the club will please communicate with Prof. Sarka Hrbkova immediately.

Aviationist at Iowa

Iowa State freshmen have an amateur aviationist in their ranks in Hale G. Smith of Osage, Ia. He has built a complete 18-foot monoplane during his spare moments in the past year. With the exception of an air-cooled 16-h. p. two-cylinder motor, weighing 64 pounds, propeller and wheels, he has constructed the entire machine himself. While no flights have yet been attempted, he has been learning to fly by making short glides over the surface. Next spring, he hopes to continue this practice which was interrupted by entering college—Iowa State Student.

"High brow" music is to be a part of the jackies' training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, where five-eighths of the new American navy personnel is being instructed. The famous Great Lakes Navy band which is being "tutored to toot" under the personal direction of Lieut. John Phillip Sousa, is specializing in the operas.

String marches are necessary, according to Lieutenant Sousa, to rouse patriotism and the fighting spirit, but if played exclusively they may lead to a disregard of the finer principles. Therefore the band leader is combining with the martial music a considerable amount of classical music. This combination keeps the men in excellent morale, refines them, and does not place uppermost the frightfulness of warfare, as is true when only the martial music is played, he says.—Daily Illini.

XI DELTA ELECTS FOUR TO FILL VACANCIES

Honorary Sophomore Girls' Society Chooses New Members for This Year

Xi Delta, the honorary sophomore girls' society, has elected four new members to fill the places left vacant by those not returning to school. Those chosen last year and not returning are May Conn, Dorothy Ryon, Eva Parker and Alice Shea.

The four chosen this year are: Elizabeth Brown, Alice Buntz, Helen Downing, Lorene Hendrick.

Wants Pharmacist—Dean R. A. Lyman, dean of the college of pharmacy, has received a letter from Frank R. Elred, head of the department of pharmacy of the Eli Lilly Co., of Indianapolis, asking for a Nebraska pharmacist to fill a position on the experimental staff of the company. A beginning salary of $75 per month is offered.

UNIVERSITY PARTIES TO ENTERTAIN ALL

Committee Decides That Social Entertainment Will Have Emphasis This Year

The all-University parties this year promise to be some of the most popular student gatherings to be held. About 40 student and faculty members of the general all-University party committee appointed by Prof. Amanda Heppner, dean of women, met last night to discuss the plan of student entertainment.

Emphasis this year will be given to the necessity of providing entertainment, real entertainment, for all students in the University. Those who dance will be given an opportunity to dance; those who do not dance will be furnished with the best entertainment that is possible to obtain.

Detailed plans have not been completed as yet, but the policy will be to provide real talent to fill the evening.

There is a large amount of talent in the University that can be used, and when this is exhausted it is probable that those in charge will find professional help. At least it was the view of the committee that instead of being dancing parties only, as Mixers have been characterized, there shall be equal entertainment for all at the new all-University parties.

The first one of the parties will be held October 6 at the Armory, and committees are already at work on social entertainment, dancing, and a good time for every one.

K. U. Offers Aviation Course

The Kansas university's co-operation with the government in the present war crisis has taken the form of a five-hour course in aviation. The course is open to all students of the university, men and women.

One purpose is to aid in training aviators for the army. The other is the possibility of general air transportation when the country will need trained men in this new field.—Kansan.

Prof. H. H. Stoek, head of the department of mining engineering, at the University of Illinois, has been appointed by the president of the American Institute of Mining engineers as an associate member of the War Minerals committee. The purpose of this committee is to increase the production in the United States of minerals which have heretofore been largely imported and the importation of which ceased wholly or in part due to the war.

The department of mining has already made a contribution to this work through a bulletin prepared by Prof. E. A. Holbrook, entitled "The Utilization of Pyrite from Illinois Bituminous Coal," giving the results of experiments made in the mining laboratories by the students and faculty in connection with the regular class work extending over a period of several years.—Daily Illini.

George N. Lamb, '09, M. A. '11, of Washington, D. C., has written extension bulletins on "Marketing Farm Woodland Products" in Georgia and in Maine. The bulletins are published by the universities of the states in co-operation with the department of forest service.

Eva Sherdeman, '05, is teaching Latin and German in the Salt Lake high school.

Louis S. Wilson, '98, is practicing law in Raton, N. M.

STUDENTS WILL SEE REAL GAME TOMORROW

Varsity and Freshmen Will Mix in First Battle of the Season

LINEUP IS TAKING FORM

By Dwight P. Thomas.

For the first time this season the scrubs scored on the varsity in yesterday's practice. Of course it was not exactly a legitimate score, the scrubs being given more than four downs in which to make ten yards at times, but it showed that the first year men are beginning to get some real fight and will be able to give the varsity some hard battles before the season is much older.

The new life shown by the scrubs in the last few days makes it plain that the game scheduled for Saturday between the scrubs and varsity will be no slouch affair. With Owen Frank to guide them and to carry the ball occasionally, the first year men will be able to throw several scares into the varsity bunch. Jobs, playing at left half for the freshmen, had the best luck in breaking through the varsity forwards yesterday, and was good for gains every time he was called on to take the ball.

Nebraska field, which for a long time was feared to be in a bad condition for football, having no sod on it, has been in fine shape the past few days because of the recent light rains. The grass on the field was killed during the winter and the seed which was planted in the summer failed to produce a stand. Clover was sown just before the start of the season, but it did not have time to produce a covering for the field before the anxious candidates were out trampling what little there was, under foot. As long as the field is kept wet enough to keep the dust down it offers a fine playing surface. In past years the sod on the field has lasted little longer than the start of the playing season at best, and there will be no difference in the field this year from other years, by the time the big games are being played.

A rather regular lineup has been used by the coach in the practice this week. It has lacked some of the men who will undoubtedly occupy regular berths later in the season, but owing to injuries have been kept out of scrimmage this week. A few of the men have taken the positions that they will keep all through the season unless something very unexpected happens. At the ends are Rhodes and Riddell, who have held the wing positions since the Notre Dame game last year, and will probably be holding throughout the Syracuse game this year. At right tackle is Captain Shaw, who has shown more stuff than ever this year. At left tackle Munn, Young and DuTeau have been appearing. At the guards, Kositzky and Wilder have been doing most of the work, but occasionally they give way to Shaw, Young or Teter. At center Day, Shaw and Henry have been alternating. Hubka, probably the most promising line prospect from last year's freshman team, has been played at end and tackle and looks good at either place.

In the backfield the great trouble has been to keep enough men without injuries on the field to fill the places. Dobson, Otoupalik and Cook have been holding their places steadily with Henry and Day as steady but alternating between center and backfield. McMahon, Schellenberg and Kellogg, three speedsters, will gradually work into places in the backfield if their injuries yield to treatment. Triplett, the last man out, and Kriemelmeyer, a giant guard, have been given work at guard positions in all the practices.

Mrs. R. E. Emerson, 90, of Washington, D. C., visited the alumni office yesterday. Mr. Emerson is instructor of aircraft with the U. S. navy.

NEBRASKAN FREE TO UNIVERSITY SOLDIERS

Believing that Nebraska men actively engaged in the war are just as anxious for news from the campus as their former classmates are for word from them, the management of The Nebraskan will send the paper free of charge to every Cornhusker soldier whose address is known. You can help by sending lists of addresses to The Nebraskan, either mailing them to Station A or telephoning them to the business office, B-2597.
