UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1917.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

TODAY SET BY PRESIDENT AS LIBERTY BOND DAY

Two Hundred University Men
Helping With Big Drive

STUDENTS MAY BORROW

State Treasurer Hall Will Loan Money
at Four Per Cent for Eight Months
to Bond Purchasers

Today has been proclaimed by President Wilson as Liberty Bond day and University men will do their part by adding in the big drive to be made in Lincoln. Nearly 200 men are giving their whole time today in the interest of the liberty bond sale.

All the men who are canvassing today met at the Commercial club last night to organize for the work. The city has been divided into districts and a captain appointed to take charge of each section. Most of the men at the head of the divisions are prominent business men who will direct the students in their work. The entire program is in charge of the city Commercial club.

The list of bond sales on the campus has been steadily growing. Fraternities, especially, have been active in urging the sale among their members. The Nebraskan is keeping a list of all organizations that have purchased bonds and will publish it as soon as it can be completed.

Treasurer Hall's Plan

Students who have been wishing to purchase liberty bonds but have been kept from it because immediate payment was necessary may now buy them on eight months time according to a plan worked out by State Treasurer George E. Hall. Fifty thousand dollars of the state's money has been set aside to be loaned to students at 4 per cent for purchasing bonds. This is the same interest that the bonds will be bringing during that time beginning November 15.

The amount borrowed must be paid back within eight months from the time that it is taken out but no specific system of payments is required. It may be paid back in installments or all paid at the end of the time limit. A deposit of 2 per cent is required at the time the loan is taken.

Application must be made for these bonds before Thursday evening. Cards may be obtained at the State house. The order will then be sent to Washington for the number desired.

The bonds will be kept by the state until they are paid for at the end of eight months. And the interest on them will accrue to the state as owner until the purchasers have finished paying for them. The students who buy bonds in this way will not be charged interest while completing the payments.

JUDGING TEAM MAKES HIGH MARK AT NATIONAL SHOW

Wins Scholarship and Silver
Trophy in Holstein Judging
—Milk Exhibit First

The Nebraska judging team won a $400 scholarship and a silver trophy for the highest man in judging Holsteins at the national judging contest held at Columbus, O., Friday according to a telegram received yesterday. The high man was not named. The medal for the best cheese judging was also awarded the Husker team.

The team stood second in the judging of all dairy products and the University milk exhibit won a gold medal and the highest honors in a class open to all colleges of the country.

The men of the team are J. D. McKelvey, L. F. Lindgrin, E. Duncombe and J. R. Shepherd. The highest individual point winner will probably be known today.

UNDERCLASS MEN ELECT MINOR OFFICERS

Freshmen and Sophomores in
First Meetings of Year
Yesterday Forenoon

Genevieve Addleman was elected vice-president of the sophomore class at the meeting yesterday. The other officers chosen were, Irving Chapin, treasurer; Radondo Newhall, secretary; Kenneth Saunders and Herman Schroeder, sergeants-at-arms.

The sophomores decided to carry on the traditions of their class and have a hop as usual. They plan also to have a class mixer some time during the semester.

The freshman class election yesterday morning turned out to be one of the strongly contested affairs ever staged by the in-coming class. The successful candidates were Dorothy Doyle, vice-president; Horace Talcot, treasurer; Fuller Austin, secretary; Elmer Hincle, sergeant-at-arms. On the first vote for the office of treasurer Richard Hadley received the largest number of votes. Through a misunderstanding it was thought that Elmer Talcot did not receive a correct vote. After some discussion a motion that Talcot's vote be retaken was made. In this vote Talcot received more votes than Hadley had received, and he was declared elected.

Indiana—The Women's league will, as in past years, conduct dancing classes both for beginners and advanced dancers. The classes are held on Friday nights at 7 o'clock and last for an hour. After the first hour, regular dancing is indulged in, and inasmuch as "stags" are permitted, a good number has always turned out for the instruction and taken advantage of the opportunity to dance.

FOUR HUNDRED UNIVERSITY WOMEN IN RED CROSS WORK

Make Gauze Bandages, Pads
and Handy Comfort Kits
for Soldiers

Nearly 400 University women have registered for Red Cross work. Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons in room 202 in Nebraska hall. Over seventy-five worked during the three days of last week. They sit at long oil-cloth covered tables, and draw threads in the gauze for bandages and pads. Others are making muslin slings and bandages. In an adjoining room the useful comfort kits are made and filled with needles, pins, buttons and thread, with a piece of adhesive stuck in. The Orcutt company has given enough felt for the padding of about sixty kits.

There is one sewing machine for the class and there is great need of another. A high voltage iron is a new gift.

There are not enough helpers for the classes, but it is hoped that some of the University faculty women who are now taking the course in bandage making will give their assistance, as soon as it is finished. If there are enough helpers an evening class will be started.

Copies of Historical Volume Arrive

The Historical society has received five hundred copies of its latest historical volume, volume 18, from Milburn and Scott, at Beatrice.

Professor Pfeiffer Speaks For Liberty Bond Sale

Miss Laura Pfeiffer of the European history department went to York Monday afternoon where she spoke on the liberty loan to the women of the First Congregational church.

She then went by automobile to McCool Junction where she talked to the students in the high school. As a result of her talk, the fifty people in the high school took a liberty bond for the school, the interest to buy books and pictures.

Miss Pfeiffer talked to the citizens at a patriotic meeting in the evening.

Faculty Members Speak In Lincoln Theatres

Among the "Four-Minute Men"—accredited speakers of the U. S. government—who addressed theatre audiences Monday evening were: Prof. M. M. Fogg at the Rialto; Prof. J. E. Le Rossignol at the Magnet and Lyric, and Prof. G. N. Foster at the Strand. Last evening Prof. Lawrence Fossler spoke at the Colonial and Magnet, and Prof. Le Rossignol at the Rialto and Wonderland.

Michigan—Class athletics are to give way to inter-company contests this year. The former would probably have interfered with the military training program, but according to the new plan, the games will be a part of the military course.

NEW COMMUNITY SINGING ENJOYED AT CONVOCATION

Movement Originating in East
Promises to Become Popular with Nebraska Students

University students and faculty were given an opportunity to take part in community singing, a movement which is attracting the attention of a large number of people, particularly in the cities of the east, at 11 o'clock convocation yesterday morning in Memorial hall. The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, director of music, led the singing.

An eight-piece orchestra accompanied. Harold Lewis played the piano, Ada Stidworthy, Harold Nickerson, Lawrence Metzger, Clara Shulte, Kathryn Sneath, Helen Newmeyer and Helen Palmer played violins.

Although the attempt to organize a students' orchestra last year only partially succeeded, it is expected that the plan will succeed entirely this year. Considerable enthusiasm is being shown, especially by those who wish to learn community songs.

Dr. Hyde Makes Statement

Dr. Winifred Hyde, professor of psychology, who has studied music intensively, said yesterday:

"At convocation yesterday morning a movement was inaugurated which deserves the hearty support of both faculty and student body. The University chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond, led in the general singing of well-known patriotic folk songs."

"The audience was not large as two classes had been permitted to schedule class meetings for 11 o'clock, but all who were there sang with enthusiasm. They even stayed to sing the Cornhusker after the meeting had been closed."

"The Nebraska spirit seems to be revived that gradually these singing stronger than ever before and it is be-convocations will become very popular. Nebraska students like to sing and Mrs. Raymond is offering this opportunity to every student to become acquainted with the well-known college songs."

An interesting feature of the program was the introduction of a Nebraska song written by Mrs. Minnie T. England and Professor W. F. Dann. The song, "A Song of Freedom," was sung by the chorus alone, as no words were available for the audience. Mr. Dann was called upon to rise to the vigorous applause of the audience.

The songs that were sung were: Columbia. Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes, Nebraska. (From the 1915 pageant, words by Dr. H. B. Alexander.) All Through the Night. America.

Professor Grumann Writes Article for Poet Lore

The second of a series of four articles by Prof. P. H. Grumann, director of the school of fine arts and professor of German literature, on "Isben in His Majesty," appears in the autumn edition of Poet Lore. The article deals with "The Doll's House" and "The Lady from the Sea."

The first of the series, which appeared in last summer's issue of the magazine, discussed "Ghosts" and "The Enemy of the People." The third article will deal with "The Master Builder" and "Hedda Gabler"; the last of the series will discuss "John Gabriel Borkmann" and "When We Dead Awaken."

SPEAKS ON SOCIAL SERVICE OPPORTUNITIES AT VESPER

Mrs. T. F. A. Williams Says University
Girls in Excellent Position to Help in Work Among Lincoln Children

Mrs. T. F. A. Williams, of the sociology department spoke on "Social Service Opportunities in Lincoln" at vespers Tuesday evening in the Y. W. C. A. rooms in the Temple. Susie Souther, '18, presided and Esther Ord, '17, sang.

"It is necessary that you have a point of contact," said Mrs. Williams in speaking of social service work. The finest evidence that one is receiving the most out of life is when the wish is expressed for social service. There are several activities which afford opportunities for this sort of work. They are the night schools, the social centers and the guidance departments.

"Last year a number of Y. W. C. A.

girls volunteered to teach English to the foreigners at the night schools and it was a great success. They cannot afford to have many paid teachers, and therefore must rely on volunteer help.

"There are three buildings opened as social centers in Lincoln. In these there will be an opportunity for the giving of programs and other recreation. We need everywhere volunteer help because so much of this work is personal.

"The attendance in the public schools this year has decreased because of the need of the boys on the farm and in various other places. Help for these must come from people really interested in them. A list of names and the questions to be asked are given to each individual, who immediately makes the different calls. In this way, the contact is made and help is given.

"There are great opportunities at the juvenile court and detention home for help from the students. There is also a new institution, the State Home for Dependent Children, where there is a calling need for girls who would spend Sunday afternoons entertaining the children.

"It is a question of faithfulness and regularity. Those who wish to help must conform to the established rules or standards. It is not necessary to be an expert but one should feel a sense of responsibility."

WILL RALLY FOR MICHIGAN TOMORROW

Plan Big Send-off for Team at Convocation Hour—Squad
To Leave in Afternoon

To give the team a big send-off on the morning of its departure for Ann Arbor, where it will play the hardest game on its schedule with the Michigan Wolverines Saturday is the purpose of the football rally called for tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in Memorial hall. Interest in the game Saturday is expected to make the mass-meeting attendance the largest of the season.

The rally will be very short and the speakers will be few. What students want is to show the team their enthusiasm, their faith in the ability of this year's Cornhuskers. This they can do shortly and concisely. Those who will talk, however, will have some very important things to say. Assistant Coach Owen Frank, who was a star in the Michigan game of 1916, Dr. Stewart and Captain Shaw are the football men who are on the program. Besides this trio, a member of the faculty and probably a Lincoln business man will talk.

The approach of the big test for the Cornhuskers finds students increasing speculative, although they have never lost any of their confidence in the team. Because of the long trip to Ann Arbor and the economical program of war time, only a few will go with the team, but students will follow the game by wire Saturday.

The team will leave at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon and students who do not have 4 o'clock classes are planning to march down to the station behind the cadet band to give the men a last word of advice before the train pulls out.

Painting of First United States Homestead Arrives

The oil painting of "The First Homestead in the United States" has been uncrated and hung in the Historical society's rooms.

The picture at first appears as a study in deep rich browns. Further examination reveals a typical Nebraska background partially hidden by evergreen trees. The sky is in delicate tones, in strong contrast with the deeper tones of the foreground.

Dartmouth—The dubious outlook for the Green before the Springfield game last Saturday was justified by the loose play shown in the contest. Although victors by a 14-0 score, it was more through the Massachusetts aggregation's weak defense than through the Green's offense that the later were able to make their downs. The Dartmouth eleven, however, was powerful defensively and should, with a more aggressive offense, offer competition to the succeeding teams on the schedule.

Cornell—Disappointment was expressed at the lack of enthusiasm displayed at the latest athletic "pep" meeting. Scarcely 1500 undergraduates turned out for the rally.

RIDDELL LOST TO TEAM FOR REMAINING GAMES

Doctors Report Injury Will Keep Him From Field

MAY BE BACKFIELD CHANGE

Coach May Start Michigan Game
With Dobson, Day, Kellogg and McMahon in Backfield

Ted Riddell, veteran end on the Cornhusker football machine was lost to the team for the remainder of the season when he dislocated his knee in yesterday's practice scrimmage. This is the second time within the month that Ted has been injured. Doctors reported that he would not be in the lineup again this season. Hubka, who has been playing left tackle this week will probably be shifted back to the right end.

Every eligible varsity candidate was on the field in uniform at yesterday's practice for probably the first time this season. Kriemelmeier, a giant substitute guard, who has shown that he has real football ability is still "in bad" with some of his studies but expects to get by the rough places in time to make the Michigan trip.

Schellenberg, Otoupalik, Kositzky and Captain Shaw were not permitted to get into the scrimmage, although all of these except Schellenberg are in fair condition. The star left half has a bad attack of "charley-horse" and will probably not start the game Saturday.

Coach Stewart is not certain yet how many men he will take to Ann Arbor. It is probable that nearly twenty players will be in the party. Following is an unofficial list of the men who will make the trip: Captain Shaw, Wilder, Kositzky, Day, Hubka, Rhodes, McMahon, Dobson, Cook, Kellogg, Schellenberg, Otoupalik, Munn, DuTeau, Kriemelmeier, Young, L. Shaw, Teter, Triplet, Anthes.

Backfield Lineup

From his last two nights' practice lineups it would seem that the coach expects a backfield composed of Dobson, Day, Kellogg and McMahon, to start Saturday's game. Just what effect that will have on Michigan cannot be guessed as their scout here last Saturday saw only Dobson, of the quartet work from a backfield position. The shifting of three new men into the backfield works both as an advantage and as a disadvantage to the Cornhuskers. More speed is added to the team, but experience is taken away. The line, however, has enough veterans in it to make up for the lack of experience in the backfield.

APPOINT COMMITTEES FOR SECOND UNIVERSITY PARTY

Dance—J. G. Fowler.

NEBRASKAN FREE TO UNIVERSITY SOLDIERS

Believing that Nebraska men actively engaged in the war are just as anxious for news from the campus as their former classmates are for word from them, the management of The Nebraskan will send the paper free of charge to every Cornhusker soldier whose address is known. You can help by sending lists of addresses to The Nebraskan, either mailing them to Station A or telephoning them to the business office, B-2597.
