Life of Cornhuskers at Funston Camp Filled With Many Interesting Experiences

Camp Funston, Kansas, October 22, 1917.—I have been here now over two weeks and really enjoy it. Of course it's all different and every move you make is only by order but there certainly isn't much responsibility about it. Haven't all my uniform yet and until I get all that expect I won't look much like a soldier.

Got a new camera in Lincoln and have been quite busy with it taking pictures of camp life. Am anxious to see them and see for myself what I look like as one of Uncle Sam's fighters. At present time, I am in the medical department of the army, and in the medical division, am in the ambulance company. The name itself signifies about what our duties are. We go up in the ambulances, take the wounded out of trenches and carry them back to the rear hospital.

Life hasn't become monotonous for me yet, although somewhat similar day by day. We learn quickly and after we make one mistake, we avoid that thereafter. For instance the first day we were here, the sergeant came in the barracks and announced thirty men wanted for dinner. I grabbed my mess kit and rushed frantically for the door. There was a wild rush by all the boys, and three of us lucky enough to get in were very much surprised when we found out that we were wanted not to eat as we supposed, but to swat flies, and after we had performed bodily execution on all the venturesome flies we had to march to the foot of the line for dinner.

The boys are drilling this morning but I was excused from said drill because of my shoes, some of us haven't received our army shoes yet, and my feet are in the ground, so I don't have to drill until they fit me out with shoes. Are many interesting events

Scenario Writing at Illinois
A course in scenario writing may be offered at the University of Illinois. Many of the members of the English department think that such a course would be advantageous but that it should not be introduced for some time.

Kansas—A movement is on foot to erect a memorial tablet in honor of Lieut. W. T. Fitzsimmons, '12, the first University man to fall in battle since the entrance of this country into the war.

Wisconsin—The freshmen, outnumbering and out-scraping the sophomores, won out in the annual class sack rush by a score of 8 to 5. The battle was fair and clean throughout from the sportsmanship viewpoint, but a muddy field made the majority of the participants unrecognizable after the first two minutes of the fray.

Yale—The sophomore class has collected $7742.50 and secured pledges for $214.50 more toward the purchase of a Liberty Bond. A spirited canvass will continue with the aim of securing $1,000 as soon as possible.

RALLY FOR BIGGEST GAME OF SEASON

Students, Faculty, Team and Coaches Work at Big Team to Defeat Wolverines

A "send-off" rally for the football team and coaches, who left yesterday afternoon for Michigan, was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in Memorial hall. Coach E. J. Stewart, Executive Dean C. C. Engberg, Assistant Coach Owen Frank and Prof. R. D. Scott, were the speakers. Ivan Beede presided.

"I can't give you any too hopeful views of Saturday's game," Dr. Stewart said. "I wish I could. Nebraska would win prestige by defeating Michigan. Michigan has won the six games it has played this season. I hope you folks feel about the game next Saturday as I do. I feel that it is the big game of the year."

"You folks at home can do as much to win the game Saturday as the team can," he continued. "Gather in the Armory, let the team know they have your support every minute."

Dean Engberg expressed approval of the attitude of University students in regard to football. "If there was ever a time when those men need courage it is right now," he continued. "They need to be made to feel that we expect them to come back with Michigan." (Continued on page two)

STUDENTS TO HAVE SPECIAL REPORT OF MICHIGAN GAME

Leased Wire Direct from Ann Arbor Tomorrow

FIRST REPORT AT 2:15

Ivan G. Beede, Special Representative of The Daily Nebraskan Will Send Progress Play by Play

The first reports of the Nebraska-Michigan battle will be received at the Armory tomorrow afternoon promptly at 2:15 o'clock direct from the Ann Arbor field over the Daily Nebraskan leased wire. Ivan G. Beede, special representative of The Nebraskan will send the report of each play as it is made. As the team goes on the field a message from the students gathered in the Armory will be sent in care of Coach Stewart to show that Nebraska spirit is still behind them.

The plan of the special wire originated last year for the Iowa game as a special service feature for the students. The reports for that game were received by paragraphs but this year an agreement has been made to secure the report play by play, and thus enable students to keep in much closer touch with the progress of the game. A football board with a miniature football will be installed and will indicate the march of the ball on the field.

Boost for Team
The cheer leaders will be out and every thing possible will be done to give the students a real football party. Coach Stewart credits the enthusiasm of the students gathered together and the psychic waves sent out by them as big factors in victories in foreign territory last year and he may be assured that students will do their best in this way to help their team win the game which is the center of football interest tomorrow.

A large number of tickets have already been sold on the campus and it is expected that the Armory will be filled. The admission of 10 cents is only sufficient to cover the cost of the special wire. Profits, if any, will be given to Red Cross. Tickets may be secured at The Daily Nebraskan office, the College Book store or the following students: Jean Burroughs, Fern Noble, Eleanor Fogg, Eva Miller, Helen Dill, Dorothy Colburn, Katharine Newbranch, Beachey Muselman, Dwight Thomas, Wayne Townsend, Fred Wells, Leonard Kline, Forrest Estes, Arnold Wilken, Merrill Vanderpool, R. A. Ellsworth, Harriet Ashbrook and Jack Landale.

IN SOIL SURVEY

B. W. Tillman of the United States soil survey, is back from the Phelps county area, where he was working this summer in the interest of the state soil survey, and is preparing a final report on Phelps county. Mr. Tillman is a graduate of the University of Missouri, and was at one time captain of the football team of that school. He was a spectator of the Notre Dame game.

GERMAN SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL INITIATION

Nineteen Students Made Members of Deutscher Gesellige Verein Last Evening

The Deutsche Gesellige Verein held its annual initiation of new members last evening in Faculty hall, Temple. The greater part of the evening was spent in the initiation program as there were nineteen to be initiated.

The new members are: Emil Anderson, C. Baumgartner, Katherine Kies, George Haslam, G. W. Hufsmith, F. G. Jensen, Elsie Johnson, Mabelle Holz, Minnie Lawson, Leo Lionberger, Carl Liebers, Euphonia Marty, Ruth Miller, Gayle Pickell, Elizabeth Rabe, Arthur Schmidt and David Sell.

Honorary members: Caroline Nielson and Juanita Campbell. After the initiation a short business meeting was held and L. H. Redelfs was elected vice-president of the organization. Professor Fossler then gave a short talk on the distinction between German literature and German politics. This was followed by a social hour during which refreshments were served.

Has Position at Washington
Miss Viola Weatherill, president of the University Business Women's league the first semester of last year, has received a position in the adjutant general's office at Washington. She will leave the latter part of the week.

Massachusetts Tech—The largest freshmen class in the history of the University has completed registration. The entire decrease in enrollment will not be more than fifteen per cent, the junior class suffering most heavily.

Columbia—The football squad is growing by leaps and bounds and with it the hopes of the student body. There are ninety candidates for the varsity squad—more material for the coach to pick from than ever before.

California—A main shop and two branches of the Associated Students' store are showing a steady increase in sales. The total sales for two months are in excess of $50,000. The stores are run entirely upon a co-operative basis and enjoy a great percentage of the student trade.

MAY OMIT VACATIONS AT CHRISTMAS AND EASTER

Probable That Full Vacation Will Not Be Authorized by Board of Regents

Following the recommendation of the educational conference, held Monday, the University authorities are considering plans by which students may be released at least two or three weeks early in the spring. No definite decision has been reached as yet, but there is some thought of omitting one week of the Christmas holiday and all of the Easter recess to make this possible. It is believed that there will be practically as much need on the farms for help in the spring as at present and that the University would be rendering a needed service by following some such plan as the above. The regents have taken no action on the cornhusking vacation since the meeting of the conference, but it is not likely that the University will be closed for all students. Those students who wish to leave to help will be given furloughs and all possible aid by both faculty and executive department in making up their work. The early date set for the mid-semester examinations will make it possible for them to complete one period of the year's work before leaving and thus help in keeping their records clear.

PLEHN ELECTED BUSINESS MANAGER OF AGRICULTURE

Nearly Forty Students at Second Ag Club Meeting Last Night—Dean Burnett Speaks

Kenneth Plehn, '20, was elected business manager of Agriculture at a meeting of the Ag club held in the Temple last night. By a unanimous vote it was decided to purchase a liberty bond. Nearly forty students were present.

Dean E. A. Burnett in a short talk told of the shortage of help and the causes. He stated that it was not only due to the men at the front, but a great deal of it was caused by the decrease in the number of immigrants. At a recent meeting the following officers were elected: President, C. Graw, '18; vice-president, Ralph Thorpe, '19; treasurer, W. F. Roberts, '18; secretary, H. Bigelow, '19; sergeant-at-arms, H. Jensen, '20; editor of Agriculture, Ralph Thorpe. The next meeting of Ag club will be held in November when an effort is to be made to secure Dr. F. N. Fling as speaker.

Initiation of new Ag club members will be held November 10.

Tickets for Ag club dance to be held at the Lincoln, November 2 will go on sale to Ag students today and will be open to all students Monday.

MINNESOTA HAS FOUR YEARS MILITARY COURSE

A four-year course in military training has been started at the University of Minnesota. The first two years which are compulsory are devoted to the more practical side of military science and the last two which are elective to the more theoretical. The more advanced course consists of three hours drill and two hours lecture. Those who are not taking drill are members of the officers' reserve and will be given commissions at the end of their four years course.

CRUCIAL TEST OF SEASON FACES HUSKERS TOMORROW

Squad of Nineteen Men Leaves for Michigan

GAME CENTER OF INTEREST

Standing of Cornhuskers After Season Depends on Outcome—Eckersall Recognizes Team

Nineteen men including two cripples composed the squad that Coach Stewart hustled to the train yesterday afternoon to Michigan for the battle with the Wolverines Saturday. But a small handful of students were at the depot to cheer the men as they left for the season's crucial battle. Following is the list of men who were taken as members of the squad: Captain Shaw, Riddell, Wilder, Day, Kositzky, Hubka, Rhodes, Dobson, Schellenberg, McMahon, Cook, Otoupalik, Kellogg, Munn, DuTeau, L. Shaw, Young, Teter, Kriemelmeyer and Anthes.

There was an air, half of confidence and half of fear about the party as it left. Most of the men were willing to say that they would be on the winning end of the score when the game was finished Saturday but all of them agreed that it would be one big fight from beginning to end.

A brief practice was held on Nebraska field early in the afternoon and from there the men were hurried into their street clothes and to the depot. With the exception of a short signal drill on Stagg field at Chicago university this morning that will be the last workout the men will have until they meet the Wolverines.

The Probable Lineup
The probable lineup of the team as it takes the field Saturday will be as follows. Hubka and Rhodes, ends; Shaw and Munn, tackles; Kositzky and Wilder, guards; Cook, center; Schellenberg and McMahon, halfbacks and Dobson and Day, fullbacks. Young, DuTeau, Otoupalik, Kellogg, Shaw and Kriemelmeyer will be the probable substitutes if any are needed. Kriemelmeyer, a giant guard was declared eligible by Dean Engberg just before the train time. He will prove a valuable man if either of the first string guards are injured.

Center of Interest
The Nebraska-Michigan game will be the center of football interest throughout the country tomorrow. The standing of the Cornhuskers at the end of the season will depend more on the outcome of this game than on any other one on the schedule not excepting the Syracuse game on Thanksgiving day. Walter Eckersall has conceded to notice the Nebraskans this week and has already passed his judgment on Schellenberg, declaring him a better man at carrying the ball than Chamberlain.

Secure Large Collection For January Art Exhibit

Forty pictures by Jonas Lie, the famous artist of New York city, have been secured by the art department for their January exhibition. These pictures make a total of ninety-one pictures for the exhibition, a number far larger than has ever been secured before.

The painting, "The Autumn Fleet," by Lie, was the dominating picture in the exhibition of last year. Other pictures by him which have been shown by the department are "The Norwegian," "The Village" and "Sunlight."

The proceeds of the exhibition will go to Red Cross.

Bowdoin—The courses in military training prescribed for all men in college this year require drill two times each week from 3:30 to 6 o'clock, besides classes in tactics.

NEBRASKAN FREE TO UNIVERSITY SOLDIERS

Believing that Nebraska men actively engaged in the war are just as anxious for news from the campus as their former classmates are for word from them, the management of The Nebraskan will send the paper free of charge to every Cornhusker soldier whose address is known. You can help by sending lists of addresses to The Nebraskan, either mailing them to Station A or telephoning them to the business office, B-2597.
