STUDENTS ARRANGE FOR SPECIAL TRAIN

Tickets for Kansas Trip on Sale This Morning

$12 DOLLARS COVERS COST

Union Pacific Agent Will Be in Student Activities Office Today and Tomorrow

Round-trip carfare and Pullman reservations for the Union Pacific student special which will carry Cornhusker rooters to Lawrence go on sale at the student activities office this morning at 9 o'clock. An agent of the railroad will be in the office beginning at 9 o'clock this morning all day today and tomorrow. Reservations for the trip will close Thursday noon, by which time the company must know the number that will make the trip.

This is the train that will make the direct run from Lincoln to Lawrence and return. There will be no side trips. It will leave here Friday evening at 10 o'clock, arriving at Lawrence Saturday morning at 6 o'clock. The special will start back to Lincoln any time Saturday evening, whenever the students desire—anytime from 10 o'clock until midnight.

The special has been arranged for the special convenience of student rooters, although there are a number of Lincoln people who are also planning to make the trip on this train. The cadet band of thirty-five pieces will occupy one of the cars.

The round-trip carfare, including the war tax, is $9.70. A standard Pullman lower berth, in which there may be two occupants, costs $4.40 and an upper berth under the same arrangements, may be had for $3.50. Tourist reservations are $4.40 for a section, in which there may be four travelers.

The University will send a big delegation to Kansas, if early indications be reliable. Rooters are happy that the valley race has narrowed itself down to a battle between the Jayhawkers and the Cornhuskers, for students believe they will enjoy seeing Nebraska revenge for the catastrophe of a year ago. Besides sending the band, the University will also send Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, and Executive Dean Engberg, to take care of the men and the co-ed sections of the train.

The student committee in charge of making arrangements for the special train is headed by Ivan Beede. Under him is a men's committee including Ralph Sturm, D. V. Stephens and Russell Best. Frances Whitmore is chairman of the co-ed committee. Catherine Pierce, Marian Hall and Jeanette Thornton are the other members.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN NEED BROADER PROSPECTIVE

Miss Blanche Conde Tells Reporter Girls Should Think Less of Self

"University women need to get a new sense of the perspective of things, a perspective in which they loom a little less, and other people loom a lot more," Miss Blanche Conde, National Y. W. C. A. student secretary, whose headquarters are in New York, declared in an interview yesterday.

"They need to get a new sense of the value of things," she continued. "Most college women do not put first things first. They spend their money and time foolishly. Not only do individuals do this, but groups as well."

"The girls in the eastern colleges are giving up party dresses," Miss Conde said. "College women should realize the influence they have upon younger women. They should realize they are establishing ideals that younger and less experienced girls will live by."

"Do you think the girls who are going without their lunch in some of the schools are doing right?" the reporter asked.

"Decidedly not," she answered. "I do not believe in college girls doing things which will result in a physical breakdown."

Should Stay in College
"I think every girl ought to stay in college to the last 'dot,'" she asserted. "Women will be needed economically more in the next few years than they are now," she said. "When it comes to cutting down your education you are cutting down your life."

"We're living in an age when you and I have got to be dead sure of something," Miss Conde said in her address on "A Life of Spiritual Adventure," in the Y. W. C. A. rooms last evening. "Everything and everybody are turning hand-springs. You can't tell which is right side up."

"Prepare yourselves so that when the days of reconstruction come, you will be ready, an efficient worker."

Miss Conde has had an unusually interesting life. She spent several months in Russia several years ago, with young women there. She has written two books, which are very well known, "The Business of Being a Friend," and "The Human Element in the Making of a Christian."

The Y. W. C. A. has fourteen secretaries in France and seven in Russia at the present time. Their principal work is furnishing recreation for nurses and women who are working in munition factories. In the United States they have established "hostess houses" near the various camps where families and friends of the soldiers may go to visit.

STUDENT DIRECTORIES PROMISED THIS WEEK

Editors Say That They Will Be Ready for Distribution Thursday Morning

The student directories have been promised to the students definitely by Thursday morning. The final proofs have been read and the last sheets of the book are being printed.

The directories this year will be far more accurate than in former years since students have been given two opportunities for correcting mistakes. Soon after late registrations had been completed books were placed on the campus in which changes of address might be recorded. The first proofs of the books were in the window of the College Book store for two days and a book was placed inside in which changes could be made at that time.

Fewer copies have been printed this year because of the smaller number of students in school but owing to the great demand they will probably be sold out by the end of the week. Students who wish the books will probably find it wise to get them Thursday.

SEVERE RULES FOR STUDENT MANAGERS AT KANSAS

Additional credit for graduation or the loss of the degree is the penalty which is to be imposed henceforth on student managers and committeemen of various activities of the University of Kansas, in case of their violation of regulations established by the board of administration. In this way they hope to obviate all graft for students in charge of the finances of student organizations will be held closely to account for the conduct of their finances.

Will Sew Clothing for French War Orphans

The Normals of the physical education department voted to purchase material with which they will make clothing for the homeless French orphans, at a luncheon held during the noon hour last Wednesday. The materials are already cut after the French pattern and ready to sew. All the members of the organization contributed to the fund for the purchase of the necessary equipment and agreed to make at least one garment. The work is being done through the reconstruction department of the Red Cross.

After the business had been conducted and the dinner served, a short cabaret feature was given by four members of the club, Ruth and Ruby Swenson, Phe Nelson and Mary Shepherd.

The officers of the club which were elected at a previous meeting are: Ruth Hutton president; Gertrude De Santelle, vice president; Louise White, secretary and treasurer.

NOTED JOURNALIST TO ADDRESS NEWS WRITERS

Charles E. Russell Speaks in Lincoln Banquet Room Tonight

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED

Was Member of Russian Commission—Students Will Cover Address on "Disloyalty and the War"

The journalism students of the University will be addressed this evening in the banquet room of the Lincoln hotel by one of the country's foremost journalists—Charles Edward Russell, member of the United States commission to Russia last summer. The meeting is open to the University public, and Lincoln newspaper men are invited. What Mr. Russell's exact subject will be was not indicated in his telegram last evening to Professor Fogg.

The news-writing course will meet at 7:15 o'clock in the Banquet room of the Lincoln hotel instead of in Law 101.

The members of the course will also "cover" the meeting at St. Paul's church beginning at 8:30 o'clock where Mr. Russell will give an address under the auspices of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, on "Disloyalty and the War," writing a report as part of the practical work of the course. A block of 125 seats has been reserved for them.

Mr. Russell, who was socialist candidate for governor of New York in 1910 and 1912 and who was expelled from the Socialist party because he supported the war and accepted the appointment by President Wilson on the commission to Russia, has been an active journalist for thirty-five years. He was publisher of the Chicago American and in 1902 became editorial writer in the New York American. For a dozen years he has been contributing to magazines articles on political, social and economic questions.

Among the dozen or more books of which he is the author are "Such Stuff as Dreams," "The Greatest Trust in the World," "The Uprising of the Many," "Lawless Wealth," "Songs of Democracy," "Business the Heart of the Nation," and "These Shifting Scenes."

Mr. Russell, who is on a tour of the country, is a vigorous speaker.

CONVOCATION

Art Gallery, 11 O'clock

In the art gallery at 11 o'clock this morning, Prof. Blanche Grant, associate professor of drawing and painting, will criticize the collection of eighty photographs of the paintings of John W. Alexander of Pittsburg, which the art department received last week.

Professor Grant was in Pittsburg last summer and saw the original paintings which are hung in the Carnegie institute there. This collection includes a series of forty mural paintings showing the development of trades and industries in Pittsburg.

Among the pictures are "The Crowning of Labor," "The Tenth Muse," "The Butterfly," "The Portrait of Grover Cleveland," "June Memories," "The Ray of Sunlight," "The Birthday," "The Gossips," "The Green Gown," "The Ring," and "Peonies." Six large photographs, representing the "Apotheosis of Pittsburg," are also in the group.

German Dramatic Club To Meet for Initiation

"Schwerhoerig," a one-act comedy, will be presented at the meeting of the German Dramatic club, Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in Faculty hall of the Temple. After the performance all new members will be initiated.

Professor Fogg to Have War Bulletin Board

Professor M. M. Fogg of the department of Rhetoric and intercollegiate debate coach for Nebraska since 1902 has sent out letters to the 137 members of the debate seminary from that time until the present asking those who are in the service to send him the name of the department in which they are working, their rank, the manner in which their commission was secured and their present address to be used in compiling the honor roll which the University wishes to make of its graduates and former students who are in the military or naval service of the country.

Professor Fogg will have a war bulletin board at his office in University hall in which to post communications from these men and The Daily Nebraskan will publish a number of the letters that are sent in.

Fourteen of the debating seminar alumni are already in the service according to Professor Fogg.

Library for Manila

The Philippine library at Manila has received the publications of the Nebraska Reference library at Omaha.

American History Courses

Courses 1, 2 and 3 in American history will be offered for the special semester beginning December third or fourth if ten or more students register for each course.

THANKSGIVING VACATION AS ORIGINALLY PLANNED

Official Holiday Begins Tuesday Evening and Ends Saturday Evening

Thanksgiving vacation will be given as originally planned and will officially begin Tuesday evening, November 27 and end Saturday evening, December 1. A report was circulated on the campus yesterday that the vacation would probably be shortened but this was denied last evening by the senate committee on student organizations and social affairs which is in charge of vacation changes.

The committee, acting with the executive dean is to meet some time this week, probably Thursday afternoon to determine the fact of the minor holidays of the school calendar this year. A meeting for the same purpose had been scheduled for last Thursday, but was not held because some of the members were unable to be present.

The committee is acting at the request of the University senate. At a meeting held some time ago, the senate voted to shorten the Christmas vacation by one week and to eliminate all other holidays and vacations possible. The committee will go over the entire calendar and cancel all holidays that may be expediently omitted. Thus, the school work will be completed early in the spring, and the men can get back in time to help with some of the spring work on the farms.

Exactly what action will be taken by the senate is not known. However, it is thought that the departmental holidays, in particular, will be discontinued. It is not believed that any of the old University customs will be interfered with, and it is thought a spring vacation will be granted, although it may be shortened two or three days.

Engineering President Enlists in Ordinance Work

R. B. Saxon, president of the engineering society and secretary A. S. M. E. Student section, left at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon for the arsenal at Rock Island, Ill., where he will serve as mechanic in the ordinance department of the army, receiving preliminary training before going to France.

Saxon would have graduated in February. He has been tool keeper in the M. E. department and was also gathering valuable information for the state council of defense, covering the heating values of various coals sold by Lincoln coal dealers.

Tillman to Washington

Mr. B. T. Tillman of the United States bureau of soils, who has been working in the offices of the geography and soils survey department on county reports, has gone to Washington to finish up his work. From there he will go to North Carolina for work during the winter.

PROSPECTS FOR HARD FIGHT WITH JAYHAWKS

Riddell, Shaw and Otoupalik May Enter

NEBRASKA IS OUTWEIGHED

Varsity Put Through Hard Scrimmage Yesterday—Men in Good Condition Except Young

For the first time since the Iowa game, Captain Shaw lined up with the varsity in scrimmage last evening. Although taking part in both the Notre Dame and the Michigan games, the captain has not been engaged in a practice bout since the battle with the Hawkeyes. Ted Riddell, the sidekick of Shaw since the two entered school three years ago, was also in the lineup yesterday after having taken part in only one scrimmage since early in the season. The return of these two veterans with the possible addition of Otoupalik will allow the Cornhuskers to present as strong, if not a stronger front to the Jayhawks than has been assembled at any time this season.

It is doubtful if Kositzky will get into the game Saturday. Coach Stewart has practically announced that he will not risk using the veteran guard. If injuries can be prevented in the workouts of the week it will be a powerful team that will meet the Kansas on McCook field Saturday afternoon. On the other hand the Jayhawks will have an eleven on the field at the start of the game that will have weight, speed and valuable experience. They have met but one defeat this season and that was suffered just for the purpose of getting "big-league" experience to prepare them for the Cornhusker conflict.

Kansans Working Hard

Coach Olcott introduced the habit last fall of taking on the Illinois team to prepare his men for the Nebraska game. How well it worked the first year is shown by the score of last year's game. Whether the same tactics will repeat for the Jayhawks this year is a question that is troubling Coach Stewart.

Pringle, right half on the Kansas team, has been causing trouble for all the opponents of the Jayhawks this year by his off tackle smashes. With him in the backfield is Neilson, captain of the crew who was given that honor last year because he was the first Jayhawk to cross a Cornhusker goal line since 1909. The other members of the team are big and reported to be fast. The Kansas team will outweigh the Nebraskans on an average of at least ten pounds to the man.

Coach Stewart started his men off with a hard scrimmage last evening

AWGWAN STARTS SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN

Subscriptions to Humorous Magazine Will Be Taken by Co-Eds

Yesterday began the four-day subscription campaign of Awgwan, University humorous magazine.

With a free trip to Kansas as the reward for the one who sells the most subscriptions as an incentive a dozen co-eds are soliciting the campus in the interests of the magazine. A subscription for the rest of the year, including the 32-page Homecoming number issued Saturday has been cut from one dollar to seventy-five cents, a liberal offer on the part of the management.

Awgwan has been for several years a well-established institution at Nebraska. It covers a field peculiarly its own, a field which is an intrinsic part of every college. Campus chatter, the latest offerings of the younger humorists, clever cartoons and a brisk editorial column are what the magazine offers the student.

Wayne L. Townsend, '18, of Cook, editor of The Cornhusker, the University year book, is also editor-in-chief of Awgwan. John C. Wright, '18, is business manager. The paper is in the hands of Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity.
