FACULTY PATRIOTIC LEAGUE ENDORSES Y. M. C. A. WORK

Votes to Aid Publication Board in Sending Nebraskan to Soldiers

The Faculty division of the Patriotic league endorsed the Y. M. C. A. war-work campaign and pledged its help at a meeting held Saturday evening in Faculty hall.

Prof. Laura B. Pfeiffer spoke on the Armenian relief campaign and urged all girls to help with the tag day which will be organized on the campus Monday.

The Faculty division of the Patriotic league will support the students in the campaign to raise $15,000 for the Y. M. C. A. war fund. This was decided at a meeting held in Faculty hall Saturday.

The promise of the Daily Nebraskan to send the paper to all University soldiers was discussed and it was decided to refer it to the student division of the Patriotic league. The Nebraskan is financially unable to carry out its promise. There are 350 soldiers on its list and it will cost forty cents for each paper sent for the semester. The faculty suggests that a collection for this purpose be taken, and they promise to help as far as possible. It was also suggested that this would make an acceptable Christmas present as all of the boys are anxious to get the paper.

Dr. Alexander read a most interesting letter from the Polish Relief Fund committee and it is hoped that later a fund may be raised to help these people who have suffered perhaps more than any other people and have received less aid.

Establish Quartermasters' Cantonment in Florida

During the past summer a number of the large universities and colleges of the country instituted courses for the purpose of training men who wished to qualify for non-commissioned offices in the quartermaster corps of the army. At the time Prof. J. E. LeRossignol wrote to the war department expressing the willingness of this University to co-operate with the department in establishing like courses. It seems that nothing further was done about the matter by the department of war until a letter was received by Professor LeRossignol last week stating that a large quartermaster cantonment had been established at Jacksonville, Fla., accommodating 15,000 men, and saying that this would now relieve the universities of the task of training these men.

Ten of the leading universities of the country are now giving these courses to men preparing for the quartermaster department. These institutions are as follows.

- Amos Tuck School, Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.
- Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa.
- University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.
- University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.
- University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.
- Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.
- Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa.
- University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.
- University of Georgia, Athens, Ga.
- Columbia University, New York, N. Y.

Now that the large cantonment has been established at Jacksonville, and it will be unnecessary for the universities to give training courses, the war department is not in a position to give financial aid to the University and the total expense will fall upon the state of Nebraska is to have a new department for the work.
