HUSKERS REACH FINAL STAGES OF PREPARATION FOR SYRACUSE BATTLE

Only Light Signal Practices After Monday

EASTERNERS WORK HARD

"Bear Dope" Distributed in East Rates Nebraska Line at 200 Pounds Per Man and Backfield at 185

But one hard scrimmage remains on the varsity schedule before they meet the Syracuse eleven on Thanksgiving day, that being next Monday night. After that time and until that time only light signal practices will be held, or possibly a dummy scrimmage or two.

Coach Stewart feels that it is not safe to run the risk of injuries that would be possible if several hard tussles were held with the freshmen next week. Varsity men are threatening all sorts of punishment for the first year men when they meet in the last workout. From the results of the scrimmages of this week, however, when the freshmen have been having the best of it most of the time, it looks as if the first year men were going to have a good deal to say about what is to occur Monday night.

The scrimmage last night was the first one of the week that has appeared anywhere near satisfactory. In all the other workouts of the week the varsity has been hitting the line and tackling like a second rate high school eleven, but last night they got to work and played some real football.

More Gloom for Nebraska

Reports from Syracuse indicate that the easterners are coming to Nebraska with a fear of the Cornhuskers that is going to make them fight hard throughout the game. This is bad news for the followers of Nebraska, and something that was rather unexpected. It was hoped that the easterners would go into the Thanksgiving day game with a feeling of overconfidence and thus give the Nebraskans a chance to slip something unexpected over on them.

Amusing "Bear Dope"

These same reports also indicate that the idea has been distributed throughout the east that Nebraska has a line that will average 200 pounds and that the backfield will average 185 pounds. Twenty pounds cut off of this weight for the line will still be one pound heavier than the heaviest line Nebraska has had on the field at any time this season. Fifteen pounds cut from this backfield average will give almost exactly what the Cornhusker's heaviest backfield will average. These bear stories about the weight of the Nebraska team will tend to make the easterners come here with all the fight they can muster and will in this way help them materially in winning the game.

Plans Variegated Attack

Coach Stewart has been combining Hubka's weight with McMahon's speed in the backfield this week in an attempt to get a versatile form of offense which will keep the Orange eleven guessing as to whether a line smash or an end run or some form of an aerial attack will be used on each play. It is generally conceded that the easterners have the best line in the east, and it is supposed that they will make the best use of it when they meet the Cornhuskers. At least one veteran, Riddell, will be absent from the Nebraska lineup and it is possible that one other will be ineligible to play on that day.

Dr. Stewart will look the Syracuse team over when they meet the Michigan Aggies next Saturday and hopes to discover a few secrets that will be a help to his men in the big Turkey day battle. The easterners are expected to have an easy time taking the Michigan farmers into camp, but the coach is hoping that they will have to show enough to give him some sort of an idea as to the style of play they use.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY TO BE HELD DECEMBER 15

Night Closed to Further Scheduling — Committee Votes $100 To Red Triangle

To have the annual all-University Christmas party on Saturday, the fifteenth of December, was the decision of the University party committee, at a meeting last night.

One hundred dollars, of the profits made on University parties this year, was voted to be turned over to the Y. M. C. A. Red Triangle fund, to be a part of the University's contribution to that work.

It was the decision of the committee to close December 15, to all organizations for social affairs, except those who have already made arrangements for parties for that night, and have them scheduled with Dean Heppner. It has been the custom formerly this year to close nights for all-University parties to all organizations without exception, but inasmuch as the committee decided on the date for the Christmas party so late, the freshmen hop, at the Lincoln, the Alpha Delta Pi party at Roseville, and the Gamma Phi Beta, and Sigma Nu house parties, which have been scheduled, will be allowed to have their parties as planned, with merely a request to change the party date if possible.

The entertainment for the first part of the Christmas party has been turned over to the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., who will provide for the singing of the Christmas carols, and the Christmas tree celebration.

At the suggestion of Leo McShane it was voted to have a University flag of service with a star for every University man who has left school to serve his country. The expense of the flag will be cared for by the money raised by all-University parties.

SNELL EXPLAINS NEW INSURANCE FOR ARMY

N. Z. Snell talked before students of insurance yesterday on the present policy of the government in insuring soldiers and sailors of this country in accordance with an act of the legislature passed upon recently.

This policy has met with the severest opposition from the regular established insurance companies in the United States. Previous to this act the government was insuring American vessels on marine policies, but the last step has come as a rather elaborate measure in the line of life protection.

The government offers one of the cheapest insurance policies written and forms a company with which the

DEAN HEPPNER DISCUSSES TREATMENT OF CHAPERONES

Fraternity and Sorority Representatives Resolve to Show Every Courtesy Possible

Dean Amanda Heppner discussed with representatives of all organized houses, the proper treatment of chaperones at social functions, and the University rules which provide the necessity for chaperones at University parties.

It is the suggestion from the office that all parties be scheduled in the office a week before the date, and the names of the chaperones filed in the office on the Monday before the party. The University has received lately, some very severe criticisms for its treatment as a school, of the men and women who have been asked to give up their time to serve as chaperones. At the meeting last night the representatives decided to take the matter of providing for the entertainment and ease of these special guests with the different sororities and fraternities, to see if the University as a whole could not dispel the impression that University students lack in showing the proper courtesies and respects to all patrons, chaperones and guests.

Dean Heppner suggested to the fraternity men that they have service flags in the windows of their houses to show respect and appreciation to the men who have gone to the front. She said that the practice of having such patriotic flags was much in evidence in fraternity houses in Lawrence, Kansas.

Women May Earn Hike Credits During Vacation

University women may earn hike credits in the W. A. A. during their Thanksgiving vacation. Arrangements may be made with Helen Hewitt to have temporary hike leaders appointed in the town where those who interested will spend their recess. Twenty-five points in the W. A. A. are given those who walk forty miles in one semester. University girls are urged to take advantage of the vacation for earning these required credits.

UNIQUE BOHEMIAN FETE IS ART CLUB PROGRAM

Unusual Entertainment to Precede Dancing—Profits to French Orphans

"Plans have been completed" the Art club committee in charge of the Bohemian fete to be held in Art hall Saturday evening, said yesterday.

The program, which will precede the dancing, promises to be one of the most novel and unique of the school year. The proceeds will go to the support of the French orphan adopted by the club.

The program will include two short plays, "The Art Club as Others See Us," and "Such Luck." Professor Blanche Grant, associate professor of drawing and painting, will give a "four-minute talk. Dwight Kirsch, '19, president of the club, will give a chalk talk.

There will be a clown dance, gypsy story telling, a Bohemian dansant, and a real gypsy fortune teller. Refreshments will be served from booths after the program.

LAST RALLY COMES MONDAY EVENING

Rooters Will Hold Council of War in Armory for Syracuse

At 7 o'clock next Monday evening in the chapel, Cornhusker rooters will gather for the last time this season to cheer the team on to victory in its biggest battle, that with Syracuse, Thanksgiving day. It is planned to make the rally the largest of the season so that it will be fully in line with the big preparations the Cornhuskers are making for the final game of the season.

The mass meeting will not only be devoted to a council of war as to what Nebraska is to do with Syracuse when the eastern team comes out to visit us, but will also be the occasion for rehearsing the Kansas game which brought Nebraska another Missouri Valley championship. It will be the one chance rooters will have to demonstrate their pride to the team.

In some ways the hour set is inconvenient, but it has, on the other hand, some advantages. It is not too far distant in time from the battle, and yet not so close upon it that Coach Stewart will object to having all the team up on the platform for the audience to admire. A special row of seats will be placed upon the platform for the varsity squad and coaching staff.

In arranging the hour from 7 to 8 o'clock Monday evening, the committee in charge made the only choice possible under the circumstances, and it has asked that student organizations make some sacrifice of plans in order to make the attendance at the last rally a record-breaking affair. Fraternities have been asked to hold their weekly meetings at another hour and some have decided to postpone their sessions altogether until after vacation, since there will be but two days of school next week. It is the belief of the committee that Nebraska students will gladly bear this inconvenience that the team may be given the monster rally it deserves.
