BASKETBALL PROSPECTS GROWING DARKER DAILY

Lack of Material Continues to Worry Coach

FIRST GAME JANUARY 19

Only Three Weeks to Prepare Inexperienced Men for Funston Battle—Every Athlete Should Help

Prospects for a winning Cornhusker basketball team this year are growing darker with every practice. All but two of last year's men are gone; there is not enough material on hand for this season, and the material that is out is sadly inexperienced.

Of last year's squad, Captain Riddell and Cable Jackson are the only men left. The others either graduated last spring, or have entered into war service of some kind. Riddell will probably be out of the game for the entire season, on account of injuries received in football this fall. Jackson the other veteran, has already cinched his place on the team, and is developing form that should rank him among the best of the conference forwards for the year. He is fast on his feet, uses his head well, and is a sure basket shot. Of the other candidates, Schellenberg and Kellogg are showing up well. Schellenberg is at present out of the game with football injuries, but will be back in earnest soon. There are several others who will make good men after they have had the necessary experience, but who will not show up very well this season.

Men Should Support

To make matters worse, there are several men in school who are real basketball players, but who are not out for the team. Last night there were about twenty-five men out, the largest number of the season. Coach Stewart is already under the handicap of having nothing but green material to work with, and if he is to develop any kind of a team he must have more candidates out for both teams. Fifty would be none too many. And he must have these men at once. The first game of the season will probably be on January 19th, leaving the squad only about three weeks of practice. This game will be with an army team from Camp Funston. After that the team will enter into an unusually stiff schedule, including games with Kansas, Kansas "Aggies," Missouri, Washington, Drake, Ames and several other teams, all of them with strong teams.

On the other hand, the freshman team this year is all that could be wished for. Every man was a high school star last, and they are all working together smoothly. In last night's scrimmage, they bested the varsity in every department of the game. They were superior in offense and defense, and their team work was all that could be expected at this stage of the season. Two more high school stars from last year have announced their intention of getting out for the team, and it is probable that the first-year men will soon be able to give the varsity a sound drubbing daily.

STEWART ISSUES FIRST CALL FOR TRACK MEN

Athletes Asked to Meet in Coach's Office at 11 O'Clock This Morning

Coach Stewart has issued his first call for 1918 track.

This morning at 11 o'clock in the coach's office there will be a meeting of all men interested in track to discuss the possibilities for the coming spring. All men who have any ambition to become runners, jumpers, hurdlers, vaulters or shot-putters should be at this meeting, according to Doctor Stewart as it will be important.

A scheme is being gotten under way by the coach whereby the student body will have a chance to provide some money to help secure athletic equipment for Camp Dodge and Camp Funston. The coach will schedule basketball games on the home floor with each of these teams if he can depend upon the student body to turn out in large numbers to see them. The student tickets will not be good for these games as the money is needed by the soldiers, and every one will be charged the regular 50-cent rate.

The coach believes that the cause is a worthy one as all the camps have been paying a great deal of attention to athletics and are in need of proper equipment.

Three Nebraska captains are regular members of the Camp Dodge team. Henry Campbell and Harvey Nelson of last year's team are playing forwards and Ed Hugg, a guard of two years ago, is playing one of the guard positions. They have started the season by defeating three Iowa college teams, including Ames and Drake, two teams on the Cornhusker schedule.

Sigma Delta Chi Initiates Four Men

Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, initiated four new members last evening at the Lincoln. The new men are:

Dwight Kirsch, '20, Lincoln. Herman Thomas, '20, Hebron. Leonard Kline, '19, Blue Springs. Kenneth Saunders, '20, Lincoln. The fraternity has seven active men in college besides the four new members to carry on its work this year. They are: Dwight Thomas, Wayne Townsend, Ivan Beede, Walter Johnson, Robert Wenger, John Charles Wright, N. Beachy Musselman.

RED CROSS DRIVE ON IN EARNEST

Every Student on Campus to Be Canvassed

FRATERNITIES ARE VISITED

Squad Leaders of "Committee of Two Hundred" Have Charge of Week's Campaign

The work of the University committee which is to conduct the Red Cross drive on the campus was started yesterday. Every person on the campus, faculty and students are to be approached personally by some member of the committee, which is composed of one hundred girls. Fraternity and sorority houses were canvassed yesterday evening and the individuals will be called upon today, or tomorrow, as it is the desire of the leaders to make this a short active campaign.

A card catalogue of the entire campus body has been prepared by the committee, on which the record of the person who is asked to subscribe will be kept. In case of a refusal to subscribe the reason for the refusal is to be quoted on the card, and turned over to Prof. R. D. Scott, who is managing the drive at the University. The "working committee" has been divided into squads, composed of ten girls, with a squad leader who is responsible for those in her division. Each of the girls in the squad is assigned the names of fourteen persons, all of whom are to be called upon and asked to subscribe.

Many University people are assisting in the town campaign. Soror-ties and other school organizations have been assigned streets which are to be covered with a house to house canvass.

The committee in charge includes Helen Giltner, Frances Whitmore, Katherine Kohl, Hannah McCorkindale, Daisy Parks, Genevieve Adleman, Helen Minor, Marion Hompes, Lenore Hendricks, Elizabeth Doyle and Marion Hall.

Two More Cornhuskers Enter Country's Service

The two following men are reported to have enlisted in the service last Friday, December 14. Both have withdrawn from the University:

Frederick N. Wells, enlisted in the signal corps. H. Parmenter, enlisted in the aviation section.

Law College Responds to Nation's Call for Men

The law school again responds to the nation's call for men. Members of the college have been dropping their courses from time to time since the beginning of school this year and during the last week seven more withdrew to join the service.

The law college with the engineering college ranks highest in the University in the percentage of students which it has contributed to the service during the present struggle. According to the American Law Review the Nebraska college of law suffered last year a decrease in enrollment of 37 per cent, but this has been greatly augmented by the later withdrawals which were not taken into account.

After the draft has taken its toll and those already enlisted are figured in the records the average will no doubt take on greater proportions.

HEAVY SCHEDULE IN STORE FOR HUSKERS

Coach Stewart Secures Big Teams for Gridiron Contests

BIG TEN GAME PROBABLE

Notre Dame and Syracuse Here Again—Iowa, Missouri and Kansas on List

No sooner was the Syracuse game finished on Thanksgiving Day than Coach Stewart immediately started on the trail of next year's schedule. In fact, three games had been arranged for before the big battle on Turkey Day. The Syracuse eleven was lined up for another game next year, before it had left Lincoln following this year's battle.

Iowa, Kansas and Missouri are already on the schedule and many other schools are being considered. Some big surprises will be forthcoming when it is known just what teams will be on the schedule for next year. Coach Stewart returned from his week-end visit to Chicago with the news that he would have at least one Big Ten game outside of Iowa. Just what team he is expecting to line-up was not given out by the coach, but it is known to be one of the largest in the conference. This game will be played in Lincoln on November 23.

May Have Eastern Game

When the coach goes east during the Christmas vacation he will in all probability line-up one of the biggest eastern teams for a game in Lincoln early in the year. Michigan could not come to Nebraska next year because of her obligation to the Big Ten and the coach is looking for a game to take her place. Among the schools to be asked for games will be Pittsburgh, Georgia Tech., Pennsylvania and Washington and Jefferson, the schools with the best teams in the east this year.

Notre Dame will probably be on the schedule again next year, although the coach does not like the attitude the Catholic coach took following his defeat here this year and may seek a team to put in its place.

In addition to all these a game with a far western team will be arranged for Lincoln if satisfactory dates can be fixed up. California, Washington, Washington State, Oregon and Oregon Aggies, are being considered for this game. Washington State was the champion team of the coast this year and would make the best opponent next year, probably.

The Probable Schedule

If the coach carries out his present plans the schedule for next year will look something like this:

- October 5—Preparatory game, probably Wesleyan.
- October 12—Iowa at either Iowa City or Lincoln. Doctor Stewart to have choice.
- October 19—Far western team.
- October 26—Notre Dame or eastern team.
- November 2—Open.
- November 9—Missouri at Columbia.
- November 16—Kansas at Lincoln.
- November 23—Big Ten team at Lincoln.
- November 28—Syracuse at Lincoln.

CONVOCAATION

Dr. Adrian Newens, newly elected director of the University school of music will give a twenty-minute lecture followed by a few readings at 11 o'clock Convocation this morning in Memorial hall.

Dr. Newens is a speaker and reader of national fame. He has done lyceum work and has appeared on chautauqua programs.

"My lecture has no exact title," Dr. Newens told a reporter yesterday. "I suppose I could name it," he added. "It is about the war, of course, and deals with the relation of my sort of work to the great world struggle."

Dr. Newens' interpretation of "A Message From Mars," brought him recognition throughout the world.
