ALICE BRADY IN "THE MAID OF BELGIUM"—ORPHEUM TODAY

At the Orpheum theatre today is a very remarkable picture, "The Maid of Belgium," with Alice Brady in the stellar role. This picture tells of the thrilling and surprising experiences of a pretty Belgian girl whose memory is destroyed by her sufferings and who is brought to America by a kindly American couple. In this country a child is born to her. Later her memory is restored by a shock. "The Maid of Belgium" grips attention at the very start of the picture and holds it constantly throughout.—Adv.

 Quality Is Economy

The Fact that We Have Reduced Prices on
Suits and Overcoats
 In This Annual
After-Inventory Sale

does not alter the fact that we didn't have to!

The standard, stereotyped arguments for reducing clothes once a season are no longer valid. We are not reducing these clothes to make room for incoming shipments or because they are no longer salable at regular price.

We could sell every one of them at their former prices!

We are reducing these clothes because we have clothes to sell and because we have never violated the principle of "Selling all Goods in Season." Our patrons expect it and we do not propose to disappoint them.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO PUBLISH FARM BOOK

Ask Help in Compiling Record of Farm Organizations in State

It is the intention of the Nebraska State Historical Society to publish a book of about 500 pages upon the history of the various farmer movements and organizations in Nebraska.

A large amount of valuable material for this history was secured at the annual meeting of the Historical Society held in Lincoln, January 15-16. Representatives of the Early Grange, the Farmers' Alliance, the Anti-Monopolists, Farm Mutual Insurance Companies, Farmers' Cooperative and Educational Union, Farmers' Elevator Companies, the Reform Press and Non-Partisan League presented papers of very great value.

It is the plan to follow up this meeting at once by securing from hundreds of other persons in the state who were connected with these organizations, their reminiscences upon the subject. Many of these are readers of your paper. We do not know their names, but we ask through your columns each person interested in the truthful history of these farmer movements to write, this winter, a letter to the undersigned. The special points we wish information upon are these:

1. When and how long were you a member of a farm organization
 2. Write us your recollections on the following points:
 Social meetings.
 Economic discussions.
 Election of public officials.
 Securing better prices from local merchants.
 Establishing local stores.
 Incidents and persons.
 3. We especially wish recollections or names of those who conducted local stores or organized local buying or selling clubs.
- Write at once giving us what you know—give us the names of others who can furnish more information. Several thousands of letters from men and women who had part in these Grange and Farmer movements will be welcomed. Address the undersigned.
- ADDISON E. SHELDON,
 Secretary Nebraska State Historical Society.
