ANNOUNCE FIRST OF YEARBOOK FEATURES

Major-General Leonard Wood Has Written Foreword

STAFF IS HARD AT WORK

Asks That Students Hand in Everything Possible to Build up Military Section

In carrying out its pronounced policy of making this year's Cornhusker the best annual ever, the management of the year-book announced Tuesday that Major-General Leonard Wood, late in command of Camp Funston and now on active service in France, had written a foreword for the book.

The securing of this contribution follows out the regular plan of the staff to emphasize the military situation. The book will contain as many military pictures as it is possible to obtain. In response to the request of the management but few students have contributed to the military section and the representation of University soldiers obtained has been through the efforts of the staff alone.

Nevertheless a large number of pictures have been obtained and University men in service will be adequately represented. A number of University men now in the training camps and in the national army cantonments, as well as in the navy, have written descriptions of the life in their various branches of service.

Contributions From France From France have come numerous contributions to the Cornhusker. The latest consisted of a number of pictures a prominent University student now in the aviation service, accompanied by a description of air training in the belligerent countries.

Work on the Cornhusker has gone on intensely during the last two weeks. The various organizations have responded heartily to the appeal to aid in getting out the delayed annual. The photographers have stated that they were more prompt in getting pictures taken after notice was given than in any previous year. There are still a few organizations which have not as yet completed their payments for their pages. They are urged to do so since these pictures cannot be sent to the engravers until payment is made. Delay in the payment will result in delay in issuing the book.

Subscription Campaign to Start

The subscription campaign for the Cornhusker will start soon, perhaps within two weeks. The price of the book has been reduced to $2. In thus eliminating the more expensive edition, the management has placed the price within the reach of every student. Student sentiment dictated the type of book that was to be published and student support must make the book a success financially. More books must be sold this year than previously. Representation of each organization and every student activity makes the annual a personal record for every student. With the added feature of sections devoted to the University soldiers, the book will be one that all will want to preserve as a record of the war-time activities of their University and of their fellow students who have gone and are going "over there."

RODMAN NEW BOSS OF JUNIOR LAWS

Unsuspected Candidate Defeats Spear's Tammany Machine—Served Strenuous Term

At the semester election of the junior laws yesterday morning old Tammany leader, Wallie Spear, lost his seat as chief justice and executive of the junior laws. Long before election day two parties appeared on the field each supporting a worthy candidate for the office of chief executive. The campaign was hotly contested, each side exerting every possible effort to secure the necessary electoral votes for their candidate.

Wallie Spear, who for five long months, has held the presidential chair called the meeting to order. The James party immediately nominated their candidate, Marwin Holland, and the opposing Nationalist party nominated Rolland Rodman. After the smoke of the battle had cleared away Rodman was found the new political boss. The other officers elected were Holland, vice president; Carter, secretary-treasurer, and Ward and Parry, Inc., sergeants-at-arms. The Ward-Parry combination was the biggest littlest political unit in the race.

Wallie Spear gave up the reins of authority after a most brilliant political career, having successfully withstood the terrible bolshevik uprising a few weeks ago. It is rumored around the law shop that Wallie may be after bigger game.

Prof. L. W. Chase to Speak at Columbus

Prof. L. W. Chase has gone to Columbus, O., to deliver two lectures on traction engines at the University of Ohio. On his way to Columbus he is to meet at Chicago the manager of the tractor demonstration committee of the National Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers' association and confer with him relative to extensive tractor tests which that association expects to have done this summer. In returning from Ohio, Professor Chase will stop at Kansas City and give a short talk to the society of automotive engineers relative to the tractor question as related to the farmer this year. He also stops at Kansas City to visit the tractor and automobile school which is in session there.

HOLD MEMORIAL FOR LATE DEAN E. W. DAVIS

Large Number Pay Tribute at Special Convocation Yesterday

Memorial services for the late Dean Ellery W. Davis, head of the college of arts and sciences, were held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in Memorial hall. A large number of faculty and students paid tribute to the former co-worker and instructor.

All classes were excused and laboratories and library were closed. Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond with the string quartet, opened the services with the musical number "Adagio," by Reinecke. Rev. S. Mills Hayes, pastor of the former Dean Davis', offered prayer. An address was then given by Prof. W. F. Dann, head of the department of fine arts.

Prof. Dann spoke of the versatility of Dean Davis. He was not only a leader in mathematics but was deeply interested in art, music and literature. He had a wonderful creative imagination.

Students will always remember the late dean. "He was what he was, and stood four square to all the winds that blow."

A musical number "Andante Con Moto," by Schubert, followed the address. Rev. Hayes gave the benediction.

UNIVERSITY ORCHRETRA TO APPEAR WITH COMING PLAY

Campus Musicians Will Furnish Entertainment for "The Builder of Bridges"

The new University orchestra will make its first appearance at the "Builder of Bridges" the latest production of the University Players, to be given at the Temple theatre February 21, at 7:30 o'clock. The orchestra will furnish music during the intermissions, and will add materially to the enjoyment of the evening, especially helping to fill up the waits between acts, caused by the time taken to shift scenes.

H. H. Lewis has been appointed leader of the orchestra and Glenheim (Continued on page two)

More Light On the "Hatchet" Dance

George Washington was born February 22. (For further particulars see any good history.) This date this year will occur the first annual P. A. T. Hatchet dance. Although several have suggested it would be more appropriate to hold a P. A. T. dance on Saint Patrick's day it was decided for several reasons to hold the dance on Washington's birthday.

The name which has caused some excitement among the more prominent figures on the campus (the names of the same may be had on applications at this office) was chosen for two

ALL IN LINE FOR TRACK MEET

Fraternity Men Complete Plans for Saturday Contest

STAGE THIRTEEN EVENTS

Plenty Room Given Organizations to Capture Honors—Skins to Be Awarded

The entries for the inter-fraternity indoor track meet are beginning to come in. About eight fraternities have completed their entries for all events. The other fraternities should do this as soon as possible. The lists of entries may be left at Dr. Stewart's office any time up until Friday.

A good deal of enthusiasm seems to be surrounding the meet. The rewards to the first and second fraternities will be two excellent skins. Besides these valuable rewards, the fact that the results of this meet will be used in choosing the spring track team should give importance to the meet.

The tourney is to be held Saturday, February 16 at 2:30 o'clock in the gymnasium. It is urged that all the students turn out for the events whether they have a particular interest in any team or not. The contests should be very interesting and the best men in school will participate in the events.

Any students who are adapted for any events should enter them. Furthermore there are several events which are new to everyone, and in these all should have an equal chance of showing up well.

List of Events

This list of events is as follows:

1. Twenty-five-yard dash.
2. Twenty-five-yard hurdle.
3. Rope climb.
4. High kick.
5. Relay race.
6. Broad jump (running).
7. Broad jump (standing).
8. Cross country run.
9. Shot put.
10. Quarter-mile.
11. High jump.
12. Three-legged race.
13. Tug-of-war.

WAR-SAVINGS CAMPAIGN TO CONTINUE THIS WEEK

Every Student Not Solicited May Purchase Thrift Stamps at Activities' Office

The War Savings campaign is still on. The committee of 200 conducting the All-University campaign has decided to continue the drive until noon Friday, February 15.

The committee found it impossible to conclude the campaign last Friday as way originally planned, on account of many changes in addresses and the time required to explain the mysteries of the government's war savings stamps to each student. This extension of time will make it possible to have every one solicited. If, however, on account of changes due to re-registration, any student is overlooked he will be expected to call at the student activities' office to purchase his stamps.

Anyone can buy a thrift stamp and a thrift card to stick it on for twenty-five cents. The card holds sixteen stamps, and when it is full you get a government war savings stamp for 13 cents more, as the price this month is $4.13. The war savings stamps are redeemable in cash, and bear interest, making a safe profitable investment and giving one the comfortable feeling of having done another bit each time he buys one.

The committee of 200 under Prof. R. D. Scott, permanently formed to canvass students for Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, and other patriotic benevolences is proving itself an efficient means for this.

This permanent committee will insure the patriotic necessity of any financial canvass of the student body by having it under their direction.

Former University Colonel to Speak at Men's Meeting

This week's men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms will be of special interest to those taking drill. Mr. H. G. Hewitt, a former University colonel, will be the speaker. Mr. Hewitt has completed a six-year law course in the University of Nebraska.

All who have been to recent meetings have found them well worth while. Topics of interest to young men have been discussed by prominent Lincoln men. Young men who want to make the most of their college opportunities should form the habit of attending these meetings. They start at 7 o'clock and close sharply at 8 o'clock so there is ample time left for study.

PLANS NEARLY COMPLETE FOR UNIVERSITY NIGHT

Tickets on Sale at 11 O'Clock Tuesday Morning, February 26

With each society that is to take part in the University Night program, schedule for March 2, hard at work on its "skit" arrangements are rapidly being completed for the annual stunt night.

George Driver, stage manager, will have charge of all "props" and should be consulted in the near future by every organization that will need anything in the way of stage furnishings.

The annual scramble for tickets for the big event will start at 11 o'clock Tuesday, February 26, at the Temple. Each student will be allowed only one ticket and the faculty will fare likewise, not being given the preference in the reservations as in former years.

Fifteen cents will be the price of admission to the University night performance, this price including the war tax. About two thousand seats will be sold.

Iowa

Curtains for the Y. W. C. A. hut at Camp Dodge is the latest "bit" of the co-eds of the State University of Iowa. A fund of $30 is being raised and the work of cutting out and making the curtains will be done by the advisory board.

LITTLE SISTERS SHOULD HAVE MORE ATTENTION

Dean Amanda Heppner Outlines Duties of Senior Women in Caring for Freshman Co-Eds

Dean Amanda Heppner spoke to the senior girl advisors Thursday evening in the music hall, Temple, about the "little sister" plan.

An executive board of senior advisors was elected as follows: President, Harriet Ramey; secretary, Orpha Bidgood; other members, Hazel Hedblom, Nellie McKessen, Dorothy Adamson, Vesta Mawe, Hedwig Bonekemper, Christene Hansen, Julia Terrence, Winifred Perkins, Georgian Adams and Ruth Merrick. This committee will meet with Dean Heppner to perfect plans for the senior, freshman girls party to be given by Miss at the Temple Saturday afternoon, Heppner, assisted by the committee, February 16, from 2 to 6 o'clock. A program will be given in the theatre. Then there will be games, dancing and refreshments in the faculty and music halls. No admission will be charged.

This party is for every senior girl and every freshman girl. Miss who are not well acquainted be there Heppner especially desires that girls as it is to be a very informal affair. All senior girls who have little sisters should bring them and those who have (Continued on page two)

HUSKERS TO MEET OLD-TIME RIVALS

Kansas Tossers to Appear for Two-Day Schedule

FAST GAMES PREDICTED

Nebraska Five Has Strengthened Sufficiently to Bid for Victory Over Jayhawkers

Coach Stewart is giving the basketball squad a stiff workout at every practice this week. In the practices held so far, the team has shown up well, and seems to have got into a steady stride.

The practices have been entirely devoted to the building up of a strong offense to balance the splendid defense the team displayed in the games last week with Washington and Missouri universities. This defense of the team is almost air-tight, and it is not expected that many opposing tossers will get close shots at the baskets. In fact, all baskets made in the games with Missouri last week were thrown from nearly the center of the floor. On the other hand, the team is badly in need of an effective offensive. There is not a man on the team who could be termed an expert at locating the hoop, and even those who were the best shots have apparently lost their eye for the basket. In order to be safe, Coach Stewart must build up an offensive based on a defensive game, and owing to the inexperience of the players, it must be comparatively simple. Every effort will be bent towards accomplishing this before the end of the week.

Friday and Saturday nights of this week, the team will meet the Kansas Jayhawks in two games that will materially affect the standing of both teams in the Missouri valley rankings for the season. The dope on these games is in a confused state. Kansas stock took a decided rise here yesterday, when it was learned that Monday night they beat Washington by the overwhelming score of 51 to 22.

Last week Missouri beat Kansas twice on the Jayhawks' floor, by narrow margins. Washington beat Nebraska, 44 to 17, at Washington, and Missouri beat Nebraska 23 to 9, and 16 to 8 at Missouri. The games with Kansas will be played on the local floor, with the local crowd, and that will be a material aid to the Huskers, so most fans are expecting two very close games this week. In fact, many declare that Nebraska's chances for a double victory depend largely upon the support given the team by rooters. Since Kansas is the old-time pet enemy of the University, it is expected that this support will be given in no little degree. For their part, the team is promising to fight from the first tossup, and do their best to down the Jayhawk aggregation.

CONVOCATION

Carl Frederick Steckelberg, professor in music at the conservatory, will give a violin recital at Convocation Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Steckelberg will accompany him on the piano. He will play the following numbers: "Valse Bluette".....Drigo-Aver "Bee".....Schubert "Kol Nidru".....Bruch "Liebesfreud".....Kreisler "Viennese Melody".....Gartner-Kreisler

NON-SORORITY WOMEN WILL HAVE TOURNAY

Captains Appointed for Teams in Barb Basketball Race—Cup to Be Awarded

A basketball tournament, in which the non-sorority girls will play for a cup, the award of Jessie Behtol Lee, will be held in the Armory, February 23, under the auspices of the Women's Athletic association.

Six teams have been entered and a seventh will be formed. Any girl whether she is taking physical training or not may enter and if she cares to may form a team of her own. Practice periods are at 10:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. every day except Wednesday. (Continued on page two)
