DAIRY CLUB PRESENTED WITH NEW SERVICE FLAG

Banner Dedicated Thursday Evening—Contains 13 Stars

Thursday evening, February 7, the University of Nebraska Dairy club held its regular monthly meeting. A special program was rendered and the new service flag was presented to the club with appropriate services.

After the opening of the meeting Mr. J. D. McKelvey gave a short biography of each man whose name is on the honor roll and who is represented by a star on the service flag. The honor roll now holds thirteen names of former club members. After each of these men were properly remembered the service flag was unfurled and presented to the club by Eli Duncombe, acting president of the club.

Professors Give Addresses

Prof. J. H. Frandsen, in a very appropriate talk, accepted the flag for the club and presented the club with the stars and stripes bought by the faculty of the dairy department. The two flags may now be seen at the entrances of the dairy building.

Prof. Frandsen spoke about the boys gone to the camps and how they were missed at home. He also told of the kind of a life the soldier is having, and what a great work the Y. M. C. A. is doing to make the soldier's life all it should be. He also told of the high class of entertainment that is furnished the soldiers through the sale of "smileage books," and suggested we furnish some books for absent members.

Professor Nevens gave a talk on milking machines in relation to the labor problems on dairy farms. Prof. Nevens showed much data which has been collected in making a study of the use of milking machines. This data tended to prove that the milking machine is a good investment on the larger dairy farms and can become a good investment on smaller farms by giving the small dairyman an opportunity to increase his herd.

Elect New Officers

After the program, a short business meeting was held and officers for the rest of the year were elected.

Mr. J. D. McKelvey was elected president; J. R. Shepherd, vice president; J. C. Higgins, secretary-treasurer, and Wayne T. Gray as sergeant-at-arms.

The club will hold its next meeting the first Thursday evening in March. A special reception will be given all new members.

WAR FILMS WILL BE SHOWN IN LINCOLN

Entire Set of Six Pictures at Oliver and Orpheum Next Week

"Gas and Fire," one of the Six United States official war films, was shown last night after the annual meeting of the Nebraska Press association at the Commercial club. Preceding the pictures Mr. Ross Hammond, editor of the Fremont Tribune, gave a talk on his visit to the war front.

These war films are now ready for distribution by the Auxiliary Motion Picture committee of the Nebraska State Council of Defense. The entire set of six so far received will be shown at the Orpheum and Oliver theatres beginning next Monday matinee and ending Wednesday matinee—five exhibitions in all.

Experienced film men are giving valuable time in supervising the work of distributing these films. Here in Nebraska, as elsewhere, the State Council of Defense pays the cost of the films exhibited. Any proceeds over the original cost will be turned over to the Red Cross. It was decided that the Orpheum theatre would be the best place in Lincoln to start the public exhibitions of the pictures, thus, information regarding the progress of the world war for democracy—and our part therein will be conveyed.

"Gas and Fire" is a one-reel film showing in detail the work of the now famous 30th regiment of engineers. It portrays the method of using the smoke screen, gas and liquid fire in the war zone.

"Messengers of Mercy," consisting of two reels, shows the work of the medical corps, the Red Cross and first aid. The medical men in training camps and the base hospital, are well shown, as is the establishment and setting up of base hospital camps. "Soldiers of the Sea" shows various phases of the training of the marines. "The Spirit of 1917" shows a sham battle between sailors of a warship making a landing and an attack upon a land force. "Submarines" shows views on our navy and submarine and large battleships.

ACHIEVEMENT

Twenty-five years ago the General Electric Company was founded. It has set free the spirit of research. Since then, electricity has sent its thrill through the whole structure of life. It has given tangible form to invention, in apparatus of infinite precision and gigantic power. Eager to turn wheels, to lift and carry, to banish dark, to gather heat, to hurl voices and thoughts across space, to give the world new tools for its work—electricity has bent to man's will. And it has gone forth, co-operating with every industry, to command this unseen force and fetch it far to serve all people. By the achievements which this company has already recorded may best be judged the greater ends its future shall attain, the deeper mysteries it yet shall solve in electrifying more and more of the world's work.
