What report of Nebraska in China will go to Grace Coppock when this week is over concerning her Alma Mater?

The Red Cross rooms are open all day today. Bandages are needed. Have you spent your hour there this week?

CONVOCATION TODAY

Even the busiest student can not afford to miss hearing Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, discuss "What's the Use of Religion?" at Convocation this morning at 11 o'clock in Memorial hall.

Dr. Chapman is a world figure. He is an eloquent speaker. He recently spoke at Convocation at the University of Kansas and his audience was the largest Kansas Convocations have known for years.

Students who were at the luncheon given in Dr. Chapman's honor yesterday noon, and who heard him speak them, are enthusiastic about the man. "He is wonderful," "I could have listened to him all afternoon," were some of the comments of his hearers.

Most of us will appreciate a straightforward discussion of the use of religion by a man who is a recognized authority on the subject. Students often realize that they can no longer sincerely believe as they have formerly believed. Just as races of people often undergo religious reformations as they reach higher states of civilization, so often must the individual change his religious beliefs to fit his changed intellectual level.

Perhaps Dr. Chapman will answer the very problem we have been vainly trying to solve.

DEMOCRACY AT WAR

By Hamlin Garland

Our Flag's Abroad!
Let railway stocks now bleed like widow's sons
And money vaults give up their hoarded gold
As freely as the farmers give their grain.
Let dollars be less sacred than the artist's eyes
And ingots less than sculptors' cunning thumbs—
America's at War.

All, All for War.
Let capital no longer order brawn to die,
Let wealth and pride touch elbows in the ranks,
Let taxes fall against ancestral parks
As now they fall against the small tilled fields
Of farmers toiling to maintain a hearth.
Let bankers give, not loan, their monstrous stores—
Democracy's at War!

NEBRASKA BOOSTER SENDS WORD FROM CAMP MEAD

Frederick W. Schultz Describes Officers' Training School at That Place

The following letter from Frederick W. Schultz, now in the officers' training school at Camp Mead, Md., gives an interesting account of the life and work at the eastern camp.
Camp Mead, Md., Mar. 13, 1918.
I have been keeping in close touch with the University with the aid of The Nebraskan which the school is kindly sending me; and as I am very interested in the University, if I can ever help you in any way, I will gladly do so.

I am at present stationed at the officers' training school, which will soon end, there being only four more weeks; and then I will know my fate.

I joined the Twenty-eighth Engineers November 2, being shipped here from receiving station, Fort Logan, Colo. My battalion of the Twenty-eighth Engineers left for France February 2, and is now stationed "somewhere in France."

I came here January 5, and have been here since. I like the work immensely, although it is hard work, it is very interesting.

Camp Mead is a very nice camp, being situated between Baltimore and Washington, D. C. Cars run to both cities, therefore you are sure in thinking that there are few men remaining in camp Saturday and Sunday.

We are having very fine weather here, although it is raining today. Hoping that good work will still go on in the University of Nebraska, and hoping I may be with you soon, I remain a Nebraska University booster.

FREDERICK SCHULTZ,

First Platoon, Third Company, Officers' Training School, Camp Mead, Md.

Low Registration May Stop Swimming Classes

At least 15 more girls must buy swimming tickets if the season is to be continued. Swimming is a new sport at Nebraska, the swimming meet held last year was the first one of its kind here, and to make this year's meet a success it should have the support of every girl in school who can swim. This is your chance to make points toward an "N" sweater and show your class spirit by getting on a swimming team. The class will meet in the high school from 4 to 6:30 o'clock on Saturday, and from 7 to 9:30 on Thursday.

'JOAN D' ARC' FEATURE OF SPRING RECITAL

Portrayal of French Romance by University Chorus—Men and Women Practice Tonight

The spirit of France in all its romance and glory is to be portrayed in the cantata, "Joan d'Arc" in the near future at Convocation when the University chorus renders its big Spring recital. Weeks and weeks of faithful rehearsing are beginning to show the polish and finish with which this concert will be presented, and the director, Mrs. C. B. Raymond, is having the men and women practice together as the home stretch is neared. Tonight at 7:00 o'clock the entire organization will meet and Mrs. Raymond urges all members to be present promptly so the parts can take their pitch as the clock strikes 7. This rehearsal will take the place of the one set for Friday evening.

This is the first time that "Joan d'Arc" has been given in cantata form in Lincoln and the chorus is doing splendidly on it. There are over a hundred members and although the boys are greatly in the minority they are holding down their end of the harmony in great style. Practices are held in the art hall, the men and women on alternate days.

CHANCE FOR NEBRASKA WOMAN TO SEE FRANCE

Co-Ed Trained in Agriculture Needed to Direct Reclamation of Ruined Fields

An opportunity for a Nebraska woman to go to France to serve in a position other than that offered by the Red Cross comes in a communication received by Miss Blanche Grant of the Art department recently saying that there was at present a demand for a woman trained in agriculture to direct in the reclamation of the ruined fields of devastated France.

This offer to a Nebraska woman was sent by the officers of the society for civilian relief work in France of which Mrs. Dike and Miss Anne Morgan of New York are directing and largely financing. The work is recognized by the Red Cross and is auxiliary to it.

The appeal is made to Nebraska since it was evident that the college girls from Smith and other eastern institutions fall in the requisite knowledge of soil and growth.

Many small French villages have already been rebuilt and families which were scattered by German invasions have been brought together in small homes provided with all the necessities to begin life anew. The lands destroyed were among the most fertile in France, hence, the agricultural phase of restoration becomes of prime importance.

Nebraska Heads List

Nebraska stands first among all the states in the Union in the per capita subscriptions to the War Savings Stamps. In the big drive that will commence about the 6th of April, for the third Liberty loan, Nebraska intends to hold this record, or even better it. At any rate it is certain that the University of Nebraska will do its share. Already the Faculty Patriotic league is making plans for a big drive in University circles, and the Business Women's league is planning to make a thorough canvas of University women. The latest Liberty Loan is likely to exceed in size the others that have gone before. Some believe that 6 or 7 billions will be the sum asked for. The interest rate will also be higher than on the other loans. This will be the last chance for University people to give to the government, as a distinct body, and it is expected that they will surpass all previous records made.
