SPECIAL ARTICLES

The Daily Nebraskan will print from time to time articles by members of the faculty, articles dealing with various phases of the war.

RED CROSS REPORT

Dressings made yesterday... 550
Dressings previously reported... 5188

Total... 5738
Just twenty girls worked yesterday afternoon, averaging almost 28 dressings apiece. This is an unusually fine record for so small an attendance.

THE COLLEGE WOMAN'S PLATTSBURG

Four scholarships have been given to the Vassar Nurses' Training camp by the class of '13 of Vassar in memory of their classmate, Anabel Roberts, who recently lost her life in active service with the Presbyterian Hospital Unit in France.

These scholarships of $350 each include expenses of the training camp and of the subsequent two years training at a hospital. The purpose of these scholarships, the Vassar Alumnae Recruiting Committee has announced, is to enable some girls, who might otherwise be prevented, to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the training camp.

Applications should be sent to Professor Herbert E. Mills, Dean of the Camp. Professor Mills' address is Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York. College graduates of colleges of high standing who are members of the class of '18, or belong to classes of the last ten years including '09, are eligible for this course. All candidates for admission must be in sound health.

The student fee, which the scholarship includes, is $95, and provides for registration, board, room and laundry. It covers the actual cost of tuition and maintenance. Students are asked to provide their own uniforms.

The camp opens Monday, June 24th, and closes Friday, September 13th, 1918.

A STATEMENT PREPARED FOR MRS. McCLARY BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Europe, fighting with us, is cold, hungry, wounded, and bleeding. Shall we, warm, well fed, luxurious, and sound, we, the gratuitous beneficiaries of all Europe's suffering and sacrifice, not scant something of our opulent abundance to give a little to those who, giving their all, help make our welfare and liberties secure?

Our own at the front will soon be likewise bleeding and suffering. Shall we let ours be cold and hungry?

The greatest part of all we can really do for our own and for our allies in this titanic conflict is giving the excess of what we produce over what we consume. It is only the wheat we raise and do not eat, the clothing we make and do not wear, the metals we mine and do not use, that we can give to them and ours. It is this which stands possibly between them and starvation and defeat, and between us and our peace, security and liberties. We can increase that which we give, first, by producing more, second by consuming less. No one is so humble that his own making and his own saving do not affect the result. If you and I each eat a loaf less, Europe and ours have two loaves more. Israel in her travail in the Wilderness never more truly suffered in whole for a single sin than we as a nation and a people will suffer now for a single slacker. It is your war and my war.

You and I must win it by our saving, our industry, our patriotism.

HALF AND HALF

A Good Guess

Teacher had just finished reading the Charge of the Light Brigade. "Who," she asked, "were the six hundred referred to in the verse, 'Into the jaws of death rode the six hundred'?"

"I think, ma'am," said one pupil, "they must have been dentists."—EX.

To Friend Husband

I've beamed when you hollered, Oh, Girlie!

I've hopped when you bellowed "Oh, say!"

I've fallen for "Dearie" and "Missus" And everything else till today; But there's one thing that's got to be different:

From now till the Great War is done—

Unless you're prepared for a riot— You've got to quit calling me "Hun!"

—The Missouri Miner.

"You said you'd go through fire and water for me."

"Show me a combination of the two and I will."—Arizona Wildcat.

Old Friends Best

"Hello, Bill."

"Hello."

"Who was that new girl with you at the Prom, last night?"

"New! Say that was the old one painted over."—Minnesota Daily.

When I was a girl, I thought as a girl, I acted as a girl, I knit on girlish fluddubs, I ate girlish candy, but now that I am a co-educated woman I have put away girlish things—I do soldier knitting.—Daily Kansan.

"The Lord knows how Binks made his money!"

"No wonder he always looks worried."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Naturally Offensive

Codfish, garlic, a German, and a mule are hard to denature.—Indiana Daily Student.

"What became of that young man who used to win all the debates in college?" "He married, and hasn't won a debate since."—Detroit Free Press.

It's a good thing there were no submarines at the time of the Mayflower, or lots of people we know would have to find another alibi.—Washington Daily.

Speaking of Spring—

Ed: "Look at that hat—looks like a palm tree, doesn't it?"

Bill: "Run along, Ed, maybe you can get a date from it."—Minnesota Daily.

Doctor "Well, my boy, I'll soon have you on your feet again."

Young Man (just recovering from illness): "I guess you're right, doctor, I'll have to sell my automobile to pay your bill."—The Bison.

Progress

"Washington threw a silver dollar across the Potomac"

"Wilson's got him beat. He throws them across the Atlantic."—University Daily Kansan.

MEN'S MEETINGS SECURE FAVORABLE ATTENDANCES

Lincoln's Most Prominent Business Persons are Patrons at Wednesday Discussions

On every Wednesday night since the beginning of school, with few exceptions, there has been a Men's Meeting in the Association rooms in the Temple from 7 to 8 o'clock. These meetings are semi-religious in nature, but at the same time practical and interesting. The speakers have been prominent business men, professors, alumni, and students, every one with a message of interest for University men.

The number of attendants at these meetings have been gradually growing and so much interest is being manifested that some of Lincoln's most prominent men have consented to address the meetings. From now on until the end of school there will be a meeting every Wednesday night, this Wednesday expected, due to vacation. The slogan is "Every Man Come and Bring a Pal."

Will Open New Class In Surgical Dressings

A new class in surgical dressings, under Miss A. D. Redford, will be open April 15. It will meet from 7 to 10 o'clock twice a week, probably on Monday and Wednesday evenings. One hour's credit will be given and no previous training is required.

Cadets Get Checks for Commutation of Rations

Tuesday the government checks for commutation of rations were given out to the cadet officers who have signed the R. O. T. C. contract.

GROUP OF TURTLES WILL BE DISPLAYED IN MUSEUM

A beautiful display of a new turtle group will occupy the central position just inside of the entrance door of the museum.

Professor R. W. Ellis and Miss Carrie Barbour have begun the work. This is the first university to have such an exhibit and this will be the first group of the kind attempted by any museum.

A case twenty feet long, thirteen feet wide and six feet deep will be filled with square-tailed turtles, including specimens of old, middle-aged, young, and eggs of the giant fossil turtles, orthopygia of Nebraska, of which some twelve or fifteen are ready on exhibition. Some of these fossil turtle shells are nearly four feet long.

Their habitat will be shown by the modelling with plastic scenes representing the Sioux county bad lands, the effect of which will make a showy addition to the University museum.

Acre Day

A statewide "Acre Day" is being suggested as a means of increasing Nebraska's food supply this summer. Under the plan the men in the small towns in the state would each rent an acre of ground and agree to care for it during the summer. One day every week would be observed as "Acre

Day" when the stores and business houses would close and every man spend the day working on his acre. It is believed that during most of the summer business is not pressing enough but that the business week could be shortened one day. Besides helping out the food supply of the nation, each man would derive a nice income from his summer's work. The agricultural extension service suggests that some of the extra labor of the towns might be made available to the farmers, either by offering workers part time during rush seasons or by rearranging town work so that a portion of town workers could move to the farm.
