ALUMNI NEWS

Partridge entered the University in the fall of 1912 and was graduated at the mid-term of his fourth year with Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi honors. He was assistant in organic chemistry and was working for a master's degree at the time of leaving the University for government service.

Word has been received from Edwin Partridge, '16, graduate of the chemical department, stating that he has "arrived safely overseas." Partridge entered government service in August, 1917, as a member of the 356th ambulance company, Camp Funston, Kan. In December he was sent to Camp American University where he carried on important investigations until the latter part of March when he was sent to France as a member of the chemical service, U. S. N. A. A. E. F.

HALF AND HALF

He Was Shock-Proof

Pat and Mike were in a front line trench which had been under continuous bombardment fifteen hours. Suddenly Mike jumped up, grabbed Pat and shouted above the shriek of the bursting shells:

"For heaven's sake, Pat, scare me. I've got the hiccoughs."—New York World.

"Why is Holland like Germany?"
"Because it is a low, lying country, damned on all sides."—Ex.

Ma: "You've been drinking. I can smell it on your breath."
Pa: "Not a drop. I've been eating frog legs. What you smell is the hops."—Ex.

Mother (calling from head of stairs at 11:30 p. m.): "Lucile, don't you think it about bedtime, dear?"
Lucile: "Why, yes, mother; why on earth haven't you retired before?"—Nebraska Farmer.

A Bit Heady

Presiding Genius: "What is the charge against Private Jones?"
Sergeant: "If yet plaze, 'e's been drunk, an' 'e's been breakin' things, an' he won't obey no orders. In fact, 'e's been behavin' ginrally as though 'e wuz the bloomin' colonel himself."—Southern Woman's Magazine.

In a railroad station eating house out in a lonely spot in the west, they pass a basket of sandwiches and you are to help yourself. It happened that Big Bill got a sandwich without any meat and he yelled out:

"Say, Jack, shuffle them again, I got the joker."—Ex.

"And have you lived here all your life?"
"No, mam, not yet."—Ex.

The profiteer who has a knowledge of Latin adopted this motto, even in this fair town:
"Soc et tuum."—Ex.

Insurance Examiner: "What did you say your grandfather died of?"
The subject: "Well, sir, I can't remember rightly, but I know it was nothing serious."

Uncle Ezra: "So ye just got back from New York. What's the difference between the city and the country?"

Eben: "Wal, in the country you go to bed feeling all in and get up feeling fine; and in the city you go to bed feeling fine and get up feeling all in."—Ex.

"The tenor who sang last night reminded me of a pirate."
"Why so?"
"Because he did murder on the high C's."—Ex.

FOUR-MINUTE MEN BEGIN THIRD LOAN CAMPAIGN

Moving Pictures of Patriotic Parade to Be Shown at Rialto all Week

The Lincoln branch of the Division of Four-Minute Men of the Committee on Public Information opened its Third Liberty Loan campaign in the Lincoln theaters last evening. The eleven speakers included Prof. Geo. E. Condra, who was at the Orpheum and the Oliver, where moving pictures of the Lincoln Third Liberty Loan parade last Saturday were exhibited, and Prof. J. E. LeRoussignol, who spoke at the Rialto and the Wonderland. The pictures of the parade will be shown at the Rialto all of this week.

The Nebraska branch of the Division of Four-Minute Men starts into the Third Liberty Loan campaign with organizations in 215 cities and towns. At these centers nearly 1200 speakers—official representatives of the Government—have enlisted. Thirty-seven local chairmen have been appointed by Prof. M. M. Fogg, the state chairman, the last two weeks.
