SPRING WEATHER WRECKS CO-ED FIGHTING SPIRIT

University Women Fail to Take Advantage of Best of all Outdoor Sports

Whether spring weather has overcome their spirits or whether they have an aversion to the fresh air or whether they have simply forgotten all about the fun, can not be determined but for some reason the co-eds have lost the peculiar amount of vim which they possessed during the basket ball season and but few are turning out to make base ball a real go in athletic circles this year. It is quite probable however that by tomorrow the fever of the baseball fans will have spread sufficiently about the campus to guarantee a good attendance at the next practice. Unless such proves true predictions are that it will not be possible to form two teams for practice for the numbers so far are not great enough to compose two nines. Those signed up on the bulletin board are expected to turn out for regular practices and thus promote this the most ideal of all the co-ed sports.

SECOND SERIES OF TRYOUTS HELD TODAY

Aspirants to Nebraska Track Team Find Increased Competition for Drake Relays

The second of the series of tryouts for the Drake Relay Carnival teams will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Athletic field. Last Saturday when the first tryouts were held, the weather conditions and due to the fact that most of the men took part in the Liberty Loan Parade, a number of the members of the team were unable to be out on the track in the afternoon. However, the tryouts were of an exceptional good caliber then and with the addition of the other men on the squad the events this afternoon should prove very interesting. The events for which places will be competed will be places on the four relay teams and in the 100-yard dash. There are a number of new men coming out every week and it looks as though Nebraska would turn out a cracker-jack of a track team.

The spring football practices are still in progress, although most of the men are out for the different places on the track team, Coach Stewart is very anxious that as many of the men who are planning on getting out for the team next fall turn out now and get the advantage of the spring workout.

WAR PAGEANT TO FEATURE IVY DAY

Patriotic Production Written by Dr. H. B. Alexander

TO BE HELD MAY 11

One of Most Impressive Programs Ever Prepared to Be Presented—Name of Ivy Day Queen Withheld

Ivy Day, the big annual spring event of the University calendar with the customary ivy planting, speech making, poetry spelling and queen crowning, in addition to a big special feature, a patriotic pageant written by Dr. H. B. Alexander will be held May 11 on the city campus in the morning, and a big vaudeville program, supper and dancing at Capital Beach in the afternoon. The climax to the afternoon festivities will be the tapping of the Innocents and Black Masque.

Indications point to the biggest and best program ever given on Ivy Day. The patriotic pageant is a new thing and will be one of the big numbers of the celebration. The interest in the day's events is heightened by the question of who the May Queen will be and who will be chosen for the Innocents and Black Masque. Both facts are withheld from the inquisitive public until the events come off. The May Queen is the choice of all the senior girls and to be elected for this office is one of the most coveted honors which come to University students. To be chosen for membership in the Black Masque, the honorary senior girls' sorority, and the Innocents, the honorary senior boys' fraternity is also one of the highest and most coveted honors to be awarded to a student. The members of the latter organizations themselves do not know who they will be and so all the more tense excitement is aroused.

The morning festivities held out of doors on the campus will be inaugurated by the presidents of the sen-

MUST REGISTER FOR SENIOR PLAY TODAY

Tryouts Will Be Held Immediately—Men are Especially Needed for the Cast

The senior play committee has planned to begin work on the senior play immediately, although the class is somewhat handicapped because of war conditions, it decided at its last meeting that this tradition should be upheld at all costs.

Today the senior play committee is asking that every senior who wishes to see his class uphold the tradition, to register for the play tryouts. This applies especially to the men. There are very few senior men left in school and upon them will depend in a large measure, the success of the play. Registration for the tryouts will be made at the Dramatic Arts room, U 106, today only.

GOVERNMENT WOULD BUY UNIVERSITY EQUIPMENT

Asks Chancellor for Terms Under Which Physical Testing Apparatus Could Be Had

Acting Chancellor Hastings has received a communication from Washington asking for an inventory of all physical testing apparatus on hand at the University.

He is also requested to state upon what terms this apparatus could be sold to the government or for what period it could be loaned. It is reasonable to suppose, of course, that the government must need much such equipment at this time and the University will co-operate as much as possible in supplying the necessary materials and equipment.

STUDENT PASTOR WILL SERVE IN ARMY CAMP

Dean R. Leland to Leave Soon to Take Up Work at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania

Dean R. Leland Presbyterian student pastor of the University, is to leave about May 1 to take up governmental duties acting as camp pastor at Gettysburg, Penn., under a national service commission of the Presbyterian church. Rev. Leland's duties at this place are general in their nature being to serve the soldiers of his denomination. In this work he will co-operate with other camp pastors, the army chaplain and Y. M. C. A. workers.

Gettysburg is a post of the regular army at which no less than 30,000 men are now in training for trench service so Mr. Leland will have a big field to cover in his work. He has been very successful in his position as student pastor at the University and will without doubt find favor among the fighting forces. He will remain only during the summer months at Gettysburg, returning again to take up his duties here in the fall.

BARS LET DOWN FOR UNI. NIGHT

Joy to Go Unrestrained Next Saturday Evening

KID TOYS WANTED

Everybody to Co-Operate in Making Nebraska University Base Hospital Carnival Best Affair of Season

All religious scruples will be let down and joy will be unrestrained at the Nebraska University Base Hospital carnival at the Armory next Saturday night. Two hundred fifty dollars are to be raised by lottery wheels, fish ponds, white elephant sales and auctions to go to the Nebraska hospital unit now in training at Ft. Des Moines, in preparation to service in France.

Every student and organization in school must dig up all the childhood toys, trinkets, nick nacks and play things he can lay his hands on and turn them over to the carnival committee.

Students have accepted with firm resolution the task of doing at least something for the only official representative unit of the University the Nebraska Base Hospital and the prophecy of yesterday seems already fulfilled—the last of the University parties for the year, the Base Hospital Carnival to be held in the Armory Saturday night, is to be the biggest and best of the year.

The entire proceeds of the carnival will go to purchase equipment for the hospital unit now stationed at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, in a two months' period of training before their leave for France. The unit at present has scarcely its required minimum of equipment and the University has as yet done nothing for the fifty men who left school two weeks ago.

Rather than conduct another tag day on the campus the committee decided that students be given a chance to get together in the work and at the same time be able to get some added pleasure out of the giving. For that reason there have been provided raffle wheels of all descriptions and auction sales and an endless variety of fun-machines to which the students may contribute what they consider their share of the equipment fund.

Students and faculty members or others interested have been asked to contribute articles to be sold to the auction committee. These are to be left at the Student Activities' office. The decision to ask for contributions from the students came from the belief that there were many who would want to give who did not have the money but possessed some article which they felt they could give. It is hoped that every student who can possibly give any thing that could be raffled off or sold at auction Saturday evening will leave whatever they have at the activities office as five hundred articles are necessary to insure the success of the carnival.
