entitled "The Problem of the Conscientious Objector," appeared in the last issue of the Wellesley magazine. Miss Hinman, was a member of student at Wellesley. She is a daugh-

GERMAN GESELLIGE VEREIN DISBANDS

pose of our organization, would take a hostile attitude toward the University for allowing us to continue our meetings even though such prejudices were from our point of view entirely unfounded.

But since, contrary to our expectations, our motives have been mis-judged, and misconstrued and we ourselves have been falsely charged with being disloyal to our flag even by our fellow students, we do not hesitate to abandon our organization. We should never have continued our club thus far, in fact, had we known that any considerable student opinion was that we should disband. It has been my purpose, and I think the purpose of all of us, to work hand in hand with the other organizations and groups of the student body in promoting the best interests of the school and of the government, and we are very glad to yield to that sentiment as expressed in the recent issues of The Nebraskan.

Would Not Be Tainted

But I would ask, and I think my request is but reasonable, that the unfounded charges and inferences of our disloyalty and pro-Germanism be rescinded for I think our fellow students have wronged us grossly in endeavoring to taint us as such for we wish to be recognized as that which we truly are, namely, pure Americans in every sense of the word joined by common ties with all our countrymen who have now and will continue to have the best interests of America at heart."

The member when interviewed seemed anxious to emphasize the fact that although he thought that the club had been grossly misjudged still the Gesellige Verein was perfectly willing under the circumstances to disband in accord with the sentiment as expressed in the Nebraskan.

The Deutsche Gesellige Verein has been long organized in the University and was previous to the war recognized as being composed of students proficient in the German language.
Many of its members were of German parentage although a large number were not. Professors Fossler, Alexander, Alexis and Thiel, Dean Heppner and others were patrons of the club.
Its meetings were social in character and its programs consisted of musical numbers, lectures and other forms of entertainment.

All properties of the organization will be left at the students activities office and the club itself will be suspended for the period of the war at least.

JACKIES BAND TO APPEAR IN LINCOLN

members of the famous U. S. Navy band from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station down Fifth avenue at the head of the gigantic Red Cross Parade, the band participated in the memorable pageant at Rosemary on the Conklin estate at Huntington, Long Island.

Inspires People to Patriotism

Hon. Joseph Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, sat beside Captain Moffett in the reviewing stand on Fifth avenue and as the band passed he appeared dazed. The secretary declared that the Great Lakes band truly is the greatest body of musicians ever assembled. Requests poured into the Navy Department from all over the East—everyone, it seemed, wished to receive the band. A tour was arranged. Philadelphia was visited. The good people of the city of brotherly love were thrilled and dazed and they marveled at the Jackie band. Baltimore wept when the young sailormen swept through their city and raised twenty millions of dollars for the Liberty Loan in a single night. Every important official in Washington gave his aid when the band reached the capitol. President Wilson declared that "the band is the greatest demonstration of American spirit that it is possible to conceive and certainly is the greatest band in the world."

And Lincoln is not going to be surpassed by the Eastern cities in her reception to her Navy boys. Sousa and his band will be granted every opportunity to thrill the people of this city.

MINNESOTA MEET
PRESENTS PROBLEM

crowd out to cheer the Cornhusker athletes on to victory. In case the meet should go to that place, the high school would take care of the ticket selling, together with the Commercial club and practically every business man of the town.

Must Have Consent of Conference.
There is one thing, however, that still stands in the way of the transfer, and that is the fact that in order to effect it, Nebraska must get the consent of the Missouri Valley conference. Coach Stewart is in communication with the Missouri Valley authorities now and should have an answer within a very few days. So that all of these plans are yet in a tentative state. However, it is hoped that some satisfactory solution of the problem will be found as it is anything but desirable to have to cancel the meet altogether.
