THE TRAINING DETACHMENT

Even in the hurry and confusion of the first few days of the opening of the University and the preparation of the machinery for the students' army training corps and the students' naval training corps, the work of a body of soldiers already inducted has not been unnoticed by the student body and the members of the faculty. Over two hundred men, especially fitted for mechanical work, from Nebraska and Colorado counties, are stationed on the campus; barracked in the old Nebraska hall; fed in the Temple and instructed in the engineering laboratories. On the farm campus are nearly four hundred more of the trainers and at the Hayward Military academy another two hundred are stationed.

These 927 men, picked by local boards for the ability along mechanical lines, are now a part of the University and Nebraska is glad to welcome them as such. During the summer months, Summer School officials in connection with the Red Triangle secretaries provided entertainment for the student soldiers on every Saturday and a number of programs were given in the Temple theatre and the auditorium.

August 15, the first group of trainers were graduated and their members sent to every part of the United States for further training. Many of them were college men, some from Nebraska and some of other states, but all carried with them the memory of the hospitality of Nebraska University.

In the second group probably fifty per cent are college men and many of them have left their regular work in the University to take up specialized training which is to be a mighty factor in the winning of the war. Their stay here and the time in which Nebraska may provide for their entertainment is short.

In view of this fact, committees are already at work preparing programs for these men in connection with those for the members of the S. A. T. C. and the S. N. T. C. Captain

MILITARY ORDERS

Captain MacIvor issued the following orders late Wednesday afternoon:

"Men who were examined for the S. A. T. C. Monday and Tuesday will appear at the west end of the Army building at 10 o'clock Thursday morning."

"Drill schedule for the S. A. T. C. students at the University will be split up into two periods as follows: From eight to ten in the morning and from five to six in the afternoon. Those who can not arrange their classes to attend all drills in the morning may drill from eight to nine and from four to six."

"No colored men will be allowed in the S. A. T. C. unit of the University of Nebraska."

"Those prospective S. A. T. C.'s who have not yet applied for physical examination may do so on Saturday at eight o'clock in the morning."

Newest Fall Apparel

Fashionable Garments
 Newest & Best Fabrics

Style
 Correctness

From fashion designers whose names dispose of any doubts as to their "style correctness" we are daily receiving new fall modes in Suits, Coats and Dresses.

And not only are styles new, but there is a wealth of variety, which makes the selection of becoming fall and winter apparel an extremely simple matter.

Suits at $30.00

While many are tailored along youthful lines, others are of that smart, conservative type, always in good taste. Fabrics are chosen for their beauty, as well as practical wear.

Dresses at $27.50

The materials are as good as the dresses are good looking. You will find scarce serges, jerseys, wonderful silks and attractive combinations of satin and serge for every purpose.

Coats at $25.00

There are styles to please the most particular; smartly tailored from warm, heavy fabrics suitable for motoring and general wear. Some have plush collars or cuffs; others belts.

Rudge & Guenzel Co.

MacIvor, head of these units and of the University Training detachment, has expressed his desire that none of the University spirit be lost this year, insofar as it does not interfere with the military training, and it is the plan of the committees to see that a feeling of unity and co-operation exists between every man on the campus no matter what the branch of his service.

The select trainers are playing a big part in the country's military program and the University is glad to be able to turn its laboratories and organization to their use.

The Daily Nebraskan takes this opportunity to say that, as part of the University, it is here to serve every member of the University training detachment as well as the regularly enrolled students. Its columns are open to them at all times and contributions, from news items and forum letters to camp jokes, will be gladly received.

Motor Corps Assists

The motor corps composed of patriotic Lincoln girls saw to it that half of the company did not march to the dance hall or make use of the tramway. These girls helped in many other ways. They provided the soldiers with lady partners and saw to it that all who came as bachelors had good dancers before they had taken their hats off.

The canteen girls served punch freely all the evening long. They also distributed the 100 cakes that had been made and presented by Lincoln mothers.

Mrs. E. J. MacIvor, Mrs. A. O. Buck, Mrs. G. B. Hamilton, Mrs. F. J. O'Neil, and Mrs. William G. Murphy acted as patronesses. They are all wives of officers connected with the local detachments. They too helped the good work along by introducing the soldiers.

Mrs. Paul Bartlett, Mrs. T. J. Doyle, Mrs. J. Deutsch and Mrs. G. Gerard, were the civilian patronesses. They did what they could to invite girls and then introduce them to the boys.

A number of high officers were present as special guests. Among them were Captain E. J. MacIvor, commandant of the S. A. T. C. at the University, G. B. Hamilton, and A. O. Buck. All the officers of Companies A, C, and D were present.

The committee in charge was George Chapman, Earl Goodwyn, Charles Whittaker, Kenner George, Carl Kattelman and Earl Linder.

The boys of Company B expect to leave Lincoln between the 13th and 15th of October. They have been doing radio work.

War Department Order

The telegram: "War Department, Committee of Education and Special Training. Dean C. J. Ferguson.

"After the definite establishment of student army training corps units, it is likely that students enlisted in the signal reserve and engineering reserve will be called to active duty and transferred to the S. A. T. C. A student will then be on full active duty and will receive pay, subsistence, and housing as all other members of the unit. As soon as definite orders are issued, they will be transmitted to the commanding officer of the University. Those men who are over twenty-one and well along in their training will likely be called to active duty in order to meet the demands of their corps.
