

The reservists are required to join the U. S. naval unit or the naval section of the student army training corps, and shall be subject to the same regulations promulgated for the control of students voluntarily inducted into the navy on or about October 1. These men are not to be considered a part of the quota assigned to an institution.

The strength of the U. S. naval unit or the naval section of the student army training corps assigned to the University of Nebraska is 150.

It is the commandant's intention that these students receive the same intensive training as the men of the S. A. T. C. Unless a naval officer is detailed for duty at the university, commandant has decided to make the training as thoroughly as possible within the time allowed for military tactics.
