GOVERNMENT TAKES OVER CONTROL OF VALLEY SPORTS

Uncle Sam to Control All of the Valley Sports This Fall

Syracuse Game is Given Up—Other Big Games to Take Its Place

The big-bugs that hold the reins in Missouri valley athletics unconditionally surrendered the control of valley sports to Uncle Sam at a meeting at the Baltimore hotel in Kansas City Saturday night. They let the authority rest entirely in the governing board of S. A. T. C. under Colonel Rees at Washington because of the government ruling that the commandant shall have full charge of the physical training of the men under his command.

Three recommendations were passed and will be submitted to the authorities at Washington:

First—That athletic competition be open to members of division "A" of S. A. T. C. or S. N. T. C. units only. This will exclude the soldiers in the vocational training detachments and civilian students.

Second—That contests be played on home fields of the contesting teams only.

Third—That the valley schools be permitted to play their schedules out as already arranged.

Considerable feeling was displayed in the discussion over having all contests played on the home fields of one of the contesting teams. Omaha has been in the market for Cornhusker big games for years, and Kansas City has always put in a bid for Kansas and Missouri battles. Des Moines is anxious to get a few Iowa contests but the argument at the Missouri valley meeting finally resulted in a unanimous vote in favor of the recommendation.

The exclusion of all men outside of the training corps is not expected to hit Nebraska's chances very hard, as nearly all men in the squad will be in either the S. A. T. C. or the navy branch.

Syracuse Game Given Up

Although it was recommended that the schedules be played as already arranged, the Nebraska-Syracuse game set for Turkey day has practically been abandoned. Professor R. D. Scott, director of athletics at Nebraska, received a communication from Syracuse saying that the matter rests entirely with the commandant there, and he is not in favor of making the long trip to Lincoln. When it was suspected that the New Yorkers would not come, the Great Lakes eleven was considered for an opponent on Thanksgiving, but that has been given up also as Head Coach Olcott of the sailors informed Assistant Coach Paul Schissler of the Huskers, that he had scheduled a game with Camp Grant for that date.

Assured of Six Games

Nebraska authorities are scouting around and a formidable opponent will be found. Season ticket holders are assured of six big home games. The chances of the Nebraska eleven making the trip to West Virginia are up in the air, but the matter rests with Captain MacIvor as to whether the jaunt will be made.

Music Class Will Not Meet

Classes under Professor Jacob Singer, in harmony and history of music, will not meet this week. Professor Singer is attending a convocation, where he is taking part in the program. Extra work has been assigned to students taking these courses.

Hawkeyes Coming Saturday to Stage Big Scrap With Huskers

Schissler Promises Cyclonic Battle—Nine Veterans on Iowa Squad

The Iowa Hawkeyes are coming en-force to clash with the Cornhuskers on Nebraska field next Saturday, October 5, and nothing short of an official order from Washington or a whoopingcough epidemic at the Iowa camp will be able to block the battle. Head Coach Howard Jones and Captain Roberts, the military commandant at the Hawkeye institution, have given their guarantee that their proteges will play. They have figured train schedules and are planning to leave Iowa City Friday night and start for home immediately after the game Saturday evening. They have received no orders from Washington against the game and like the Nebraska authorities, will go ahead with their schedule until notified from headquarters.

Paul Schissler, assistant to Coach Kline, returned from Iowa City Sunday where he witnessed the Great Lakes sailors trounce the home boys 10 to 0. He was full of bear dope concerning the Iowa warriors and realizes that the Huskers must prepare for a cyclone battle.

Nine Veterans at Iowa

They have nine veterans back in the line-up and their new men are stars from last year's freshman squad. The line averages 180 pounds, is well balanced, and works together well. Coach Jones says the team is 50 per cent better than last year.

Although defeated by the blue jackets the Iowa boys showed real class. They gained the same amount of ground as their opponents and put up a superior brand of team work. The Jackies out-booted them in a spirited punting duel but Iowa surpassed in forward passing. The Hawkeyes did not use any freshmen in the game, and against Nebraska the first year men will probably strengthen that department considerably. Slater, the negro tackle, punctured the sailors' line repeatedly and made one thirty yard run through their defence.

The Cornhuskers wallowed around in a drizzling rain Monday evening but with good weather they can get in the gruelling practice necessary to put them in the proper condition to trample the visitors under foot next Saturday. Sport circles Monday had it that a tentative first team would be composed of: Ends, Martin and Swanson; tackles, Lyman and Duteau;

SPANISH INFLUENZA MAKES APPEARANCE AT UNIVERSITY

Authorities May Have to Adopt Severe Preventive Methods

Already a Dozen Cases Have Been Reported to the Commandant

The epidemic of Spanish influenza which has visited army camps and cities all over the country, and which is piling up a huge death toll wherever it makes its attacks, has reached Lincoln and now has made its appearance in the University. Every effort will be made to check the epidemic before it gets a foothold on the campus. In spite of precautions now being taken eleven cases are already known to be among students. One student was sent to the hospital Tuesday and several others are confined to their homes.

All cases among S. A. T. C. men should be reported to Captain Hamilton as soon as known. Any other cases, whether among students or not, should be reported immediately to Dr. R. G. Clapp, in order that any necessary precautions or quarantines can be made.

Play Safe

Dean Carl C. Engberg when asked what he considered was the best thing to do in the present epidemic said: "The safe thing to do is to play safe," and follow the precautions outlined by Dr. Clapp. These precautions were read in all classes Tuesday. He emphasized the care that should be exercised in regard to expectorating in and about the buildings. He has recommended that signs be put about the campus reminding students of this danger.

The private rooming house at 535 No. 16th street reported more cases than any other one place. There has been six cases of sickness there, although all but one, William Karl, are now practically recovered. The Lincoln Commercial club may designate a temporary isolation hospital, where new cases will be rushed immediately upon discovery. If the new serum recently discovered, proves to be a preventative of the disease, school authorities may insist upon vaccination.

guards, Ross and Kriemelmeier; center, Munn; quarterback, Lantz; halfbacks, Schellenber and McMahon, and fullback, Hubka.

NOTICE TO FOOTBALL MEN

All men who received football equipment and who are not out for practice must turn it in at once.

Xi Delta Meeting

UNIVERSITIES OVER COUNTRY IN IMPRESSIVE S. A. T. C. CEREMONIES

Men to Be Put Through Inoculations Immediately Upon Becoming Soldiers

Medical Treatment Starts Tomorrow—Regular Classes to Continue Through Week

The inoculation of the student army training corps men will be begun on Wednesday morning. From that time on the men will be treated as quickly as practicable.

The effect that the inoculation will have on the University classes and routine has caused much consideration on the part of the school authorities. Should the classes be dismissed altogether or should only S. A. T. C. men be excused, were questions confronting the school authorities. It was finally decided to excuse every S. A. T. C. man who becomes sick as a result of the treatment.

Regular Classes to Be Conducted

Executive Dean Engberg wants to announce emphatically, however, that regular classes will be held all of this will. Any one not in the S. A. T. C. who does not attend classes will find himself one week behind when he returns next week.

In case a professor finds that his class is composed of nearly all S. A. T. C. men, he may dismiss the class in order to keep the class at the same place in the work. In any case the individual teachers will notify the students.

The complete details have not been given out about the inoculation on Wednesday. In Wednesday morning's Nebraskan a complete schedule will be published.

DAILY NEBRASKAN MADE OFFICIAL S. A. T. C. BULLETIN

Commencing today The Daily Nebraskan will be the official S. A. T. C. bulletin. In its columns will be found all orders and information for members of the corps.

Captain E. J. MacIvor holds every man responsible for notices published in The Nebraskan from now on.

Those who have not already subscribed for The Daily Nebraskan should do so at once, at Student Activities' Office, basement Administration building.

English History I

English history I will meet Monday at 11 o'clock in room 201, Bessey hall.

Approximately 1500 to Be Inducted Into Army at University of Nebraska

150,000 Students of United States Will Take Oath of Allegiance to Their Flag

While over four hundred universities and colleges in the United States are witnessing today the induction of their youths between the ages of 18 and 21 into the student army training corps, University of Nebraska will see approximately fifteen hundred of her Husker lads transformed from civilians to soldiers of Uncle Sam.

Every educational institution will observe today by conducting a program arranged by Provost Marshal General Crowder. This program will include singing of the Star Spangled Banner, taking the oath of allegiance to the flag by the applicants to the corps, and reading of orders to the inducted soldiers from Provost Marshal Crowder.

At Nebraska applicants will assemble on the athletic field promptly at 10:30 to rehearse their part of the program.

Neither rain nor storm will prevent the authorities here from inducting the men into the army according to orders.

150,000 Take Oath

At the same time that the local unit is being sworn in 150,000 other young Americans from all parts of the country will be taking the same oath. Four hundred bands will be playing and all the young men will be repeating the words of America's national anthem.

The newly organized S. A. T. C. band will be present with fifty pieces to participate in the national affair. The director, William Quick, assured the commandant that the band would be able to play notwithstanding the fact that it has had only two practices.

The S. A. T. C. unit at the University will consist of nearly 3,000 men. These will consist of S. A. T. C. men, S. N. T. C. men and the vocational detachments which have been stationed at Lincoln during the summer.

The national ceremony which will be conducted this morning is unique in the history of the United States and of the whole world. At no time has a country ever picked 150,000 men to prepare them in military and technical lines in order to furnish an army which would go out and uphold the principles of democracy and freedom.

It is now rumored from reliable sources that this plan will be carried on after the war in order to develop our country along scientific lines and at the same time be prepared for emergencies. The plan eliminates the bad feature of continual military training and combines the good features of training and education in an extremely satisfactory manner.

Viking Meeting

The Vikings will hold a meeting at the Kappa Sigma house Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Musical Convocation

The first musical convocation of the year will be held Thursday, October 3, in the Temple theatre. Haydn's "Symphony in E Flat" will be given.

Freshman Convocation Postponed

Annual freshman convocation has been postponed from Tuesday, October 1, to Tuesday, October 8, on account of the military exercises to be held today.

How To Guard Against Spanish Influenza

The Spanish Influenza is spread by close personal contact, primarily, through the spray thrown out from the nose and throat in sneezing and coughing; therefore, a handkerchief should be held over the nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing. Upon the first signs of a cold in the head, sore throat, fever, chills, the student should consult a physician without delay and isolate himself from others so far as possible.

The following precautions will tend to decrease susceptibility to the disease:

1. Avoid crowded street cars, rooms, etc.
 2. Gargle the throat and spray or douche the nasal tract with normal salt solution (1 teaspoonful to a quart) or some one of the common weak antiseptic solutions, information regarding which may be obtained from any physician.
 3. Keep the bowels free.
 4. Keep up a state of high individual resistance by hygienic living. Eat a moderate amount of plain, wholesome food. Get plenty of sleep and exercise under the best possible air conditions.
 5. Some physicians recommend inoculations with the influenza (grippe) vaccine.
- Every suspicious case in a class room, fraternity, sorority or rooming house, should be reported at once to Dean Engberg's office and the same will be promptly investigated by the medical authorities. You will be doing the general University public a real service by so reporting every case which comes to your attention. Dr. Halle Ewing may be consulted daily from 10 o'clock to 12 o'clock and from 1 o'clock to 3 o'clock at Soldier's Memorial hall, room 204, by the young women. Members of the S. A. T. C. should consult Captain Hamilton in Nebraska hall. Both men and women may consult Dr. Clapp in G 206 from 11 o'clock to 12 o'clock and from 2:30 o'clock to 4:30 o'clock daily.
