S. A. T. C. RECRUITS IN FIRST DRILL

Students Are Given Orders and Put Upon Strict Military
Basis

New Soldiers to Report Every Morning at 7:30 and at 11:30 O'clock

At 7:30 Wednesday morning, the ninety-two S. A. T. C. men who had been fully inducted on Tuesday, were standing at the west entrance of the Armory ready for the first drill. The air was damp and chilly and the sun was hidden behind black clouds but the anxious recruits answered the first roll call in a manner that meant business; and defeat to the Kaiser.

The first thing on the routine consisted of lengthy military orders and instructions. The orders can not be published, but if students observe closely they may be able to deduce them from the actions of the privates. This much we can say, every one was made to understand that military orders were to be obeyed at all cost and sacrifices. The boys were told that no debates would be allowed between privates and officers. Some men who wore medals won on the Demosthenian platform were disappointed for a while, but soon they recovered as they saw the meaning.

The men were all privates. The proverbial high private of the rear rank was also there. The scene presented by the small sized company is worthy of special mention. Rich and poor, stars and average boys were there, all soon to be uniformed alike and all to be known as privates.

Nearly one hundred men were fully inducted Wednesday in addition to the 92 of the previous day. These men will be required to report Thursday morning at 7:30 and at 11:30 o'clock. They must do this every day.

Thursday morning the drill will be much more complete. The men present will make a good sized company, not far from the regulation unit of 250 men. Special instructions will be given then to the new men. The routine will be outlined and each man will know just what to do.

As soon as any registered S. A. T. C. man receives the summons from his draft board, he must report to the Armory for final induction. Failure to do this is punishable according to army regulations.

OFFICIAL ORDERS

Students' army training corps men are now going through the last step of induction. Form 1028 is being sent to them by the local boards. They appear at the desk of the induction officer, Armory, and sign the final papers.

At the same time personal identifications are taken, insurance is written for each and other important blanks are given and signed.

Every S. A. T. C. man must wait to get one of the above forms before he appears at the Armory. They will be sent by the local board where he registered.

All men who have been completely inducted into the S. A. T. C. must answer roll call at the west end of Grant Memorial hall, every morning at 7:30 o'clock, until placed in barracks.

Induction for those men who have already taken their physical examination will be continued at 8:30 until further notice. Those who have not taken their physical examination report at nine a. m. Examinations will continue every morning at nine o'clock until further notice.

If our troops continue to cross without a mishap the government will have to tip off to the automobile manufacturers the secret of perfect transmission.

RESERVE CORPS MEN WILL BE INDUCTED INTO S. A. T. C.

Chancellor Hastings Receives Telegram From Committee on Education in Washington

Chancellor Hastings received a telegram Monday from the committee of education in Washington stating that all men in the reserve corps are to be inducted into the S. A. T. C. There has been much uncertainty among men in the reserve as to their status in the army, but the above notice clears up all doubt and they will be as much a part of the great student army as any other class.

Although it sometimes takes a little time to decide what to do with all the young men, it will not be long now until all men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five will be classified. Questionnaires are daily being sent out to men of these ages, and every day brings the local boards nearer completion of their large task.

FEW CANDIDATES FILE FOR OFFICE

Six Freshmen File—No Applicants So Far For Publication Board

Freshman candidates are again crowding the field in the race for political honors, and like the campaign of last year, the big scrap on next Tuesday will be between the aspirants of the first year class. Six freshmen had filed at the office of the registrar up to last night for the president's office. But one man had filed for first honors in the sophomore, junior and senior classes, and the openings on the students' publication board are all going begging.

It is impossible at this time to publish the official list of the names of the students who have so far filed for offices at the coming election, but the names of a few of the candidates were obtained from outside sources last night. Wilson Bryans, '18, of Omaha has expressed his intention of filing for the presidency of the senior class. Bryans is a member of the Innocents society and also of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. No one has filed in opposition to Bryans thus far, and political dope has it that he is the probable man for the senior presidency.

Orville Ellerbrock, '20, of Fremont, is the junior applicant for the president's chair. He has the field to himself so far, and with the strong backing that he has among members of his class, it is certain that he stands a good chance for the presidency. Ellerbrock is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. Charles Gillilan of Hardy, has applied for the presidency of the sophomore class, and to date, has a clear field in the race for this office. He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Of the six candidates for the freshman presidency, the names of only three have been heard of on the campus. They are Donald Gildersleeve of Wayne, Nebraska, Howard Bennett of Alliance, and C. K. Seymour of Omaha. The names of the other three candidates will be published as they are made known at the office of The Daily Nebraskan.

Filings will close Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and all candidates must get their names to the registrar before that time. Prospects are not very bright for an election that will be full of interest and enthusiasm, and one that would be expected in times like the present, when everyone is keyed up to a pitch of excitement. The election will be held on next Tuesday. The polls will be open from nine to twelve o'clock, and from two until five.

TWENTY-FIVE NEW CASES SPANISH FLU

Damp Weather is Agitating
Many Colds Among Students

Victims Should Visit Doctor to Discover Dangerous
Symptoms

University authorities have decided that unusually stringent precautions must be taken in order to prevent the epidemic of influenza from spreading any further. Twenty-five new cases of the very serious nature were reported Wednesday. Some students are being cared for at the Nebraska hospital in the Armory, some in Lincoln hospitals, and some are in solitary confinement in their homes. Cases are rapidly coming to light each day, but something must be done to cut down the number of such cases.

The damp weather during the first part of the week is responsible for a large number of colds among the students. No doubt there will be more of this same kind of weather, changing from damp to dry and back again. So everyone must watch both himself and his associates with the utmost possible care, and if the slightest symptom of a cold appears, should go immediately to some reliable physician for a diagnosis. Dr. Ewing will examine any girl student who wishes advice, and Dr. Clapp is in his office on the second floor of the Armory, east end, to see all men students.

This is a very serious matter and should be regarded in a very serious light. In the east, and especially in the training camps where there is so much close association, the death toll from Spanish influenza has reached stupendous proportions. Hundreds are dying daily. Unless the thing is grappled with NOW and stamped out right away, it may soon make a ghastly trail on the University campus. It is the solemn duty of every one to take the most drastic of measures to rid Lincoln of this messenger of death.

VERLIN TAYLOR DIES IN FRENCH HOSPITAL Succumbs to Serious Injuries Received in April Fighting

Verlin W. Taylor, ex-'20, who enlisted in the spring of 1917 with the first of the University men to join the colors and went to France with the Rainbow division, died September 2 in a French hospital according to word received Friday by his parents at Red Cloud. Taylor received a shell wound in the leg during the hard fighting in April and had been confined in the hospital since that time. A short time before his death, his leg was amputated with the hope of saving his life, but the operation was in vain. According to the last word received he was in hopes of being sent home on sick-leave and the news of his death comes as a great shock to his parents and friends.

While in the University, Taylor was well-known and has a wide circle of friends on the campus. He was interested in school activities and one of the leaders in his class. He was a member of Beta Theta Pi and Kosmet Klub.

MEDICAL RESERVES MAY BE ADDED TO S. A. T. C. UNITS

According to Professor R. A. Lyman, who has just returned from Washington, the status of the medical reserves is not known as yet. The medical reserve corps does not exist any more, but those who were in it when it did exist, are to be protected. Undoubtedly some plan will be worked out by which these men will be added to the S. A. T. C. It is understood that orders will be issued on the subject within the next two weeks.

As to the junior and senior chemists, Professor Lyman says that it is up to Chancellor Avery, now Major Avery, in the chemical warfare service to decide what each individual student shall be allowed to do.

The professor brings word that our chancellor is happy and healthy. "He makes a fine looking soldier, too," added Professor Lyman.

TEMPLE THREATENED WITH DESTRUCTION

Football Rally This Noon to Be of the Roof Raising Variety

Big Program Planned With Band and Speeches to Plot
Ruin of Hawkeyes

The Temple building is doomed to become a mass of ruined brick and mortar this noon and football enthusiasts will be lucky if they escape with their lives when the edifice collapses. The first big rousing football rally of the year is scheduled for the Temple theatre at eleven o'clock today, Thursday. Every red blooded Cornhusker follower will be in his place, all phizzing ready to explode when the curtain runs up and the ceremonies commence. Special men have been detailed to cover the city in the vicinity of the Temple and scrape together the remains of the roof when it starts skyward.

This will be the first opportunity Cornhusker supporters have had this year to give the team a sendoff capable of ripping the Iowa defense to bits.

A big program has been arranged with Captain MacIvor, commandant of the army detachment the first speaker. He heartily endorses football and will probably outline Uncle Sam's attitude on sports within army camps and give a good pep speech in his own unique way.

Assistant Coach Paul Schissler is next on the bill and will explain just how his warriors are going to smash thru the season and plant the Huskers at the peak of the ladder. He will substitute in the place of Head Coach Kline, who has been called to Omaha on liberty loan business. Schissler was stationed at Hastings last year and has demonstrated his ability to inject the zip into his men.

Members of the team which will occupy the stage will be called on for their usual clever exhibitions of oratory and pre-season dope.

Professor George E. Condra, the University movie man and staunch supporter of Nebraska athletics, is scheduled for the next number and in his old time fire will give his opinion of how the Huskers will line up and how they will treat their foes in the coming campaign.

Yells are next in order and several loyalists have threatened to bring their flannel rags for first aid treatment for their sore throats. New members of the Cornhusker family can test their voices and twist their tongues for the first time and be in trim to take places along side the regulars. Helen Howe and Frances Whitmore will lead co-eds and D. V. Stephens and Glenn Hopkins will direct the men in their part.

HALFBACK ORDERED TO CHICAGO

Harold McMahon Receives Call to Service and Leaves Shortly
For the Great Lakes

Loss Leaves Great Gap in the Back Field—Husker Outlook
a Gloomy One

Those persistent gloom clouds have settled down for good on Nebraska sport circles and the fog is so dense that the leaders are groping around trying to locate themselves. The latest gob of gloom is the announcement that "Curley" McMahon, the star halfback and Nebraska's ten second sprinter, has been ordered to the Great Lakes camp and must report for service next Sunday. If train schedules will permit he may be able to take part in the Saturday battle with the Iowa Hawkeyes and leave late in the evening for Chicago in time to get under the wire.

McMahon enlisted in the naval reserve corps June 3 and expected to be called last summer. This order knocks a big gap in the back field and it will be next to impossible to find a man to fill it. Coach Kline has been building his hopes on only four veterans and with McMahon gone will leave only Schellenberg, Hubka and Duteau with varsity experience as a nucleus for the championship aggregation Nebraska expects.

The candidates showed up fairly well in practice Wednesday. Nearly all afternoon was devoted to signal drill but ended with about ten minutes of scrimmage, in which McMahon crossed the scrub's goal for one touchdown.

The session opened with running down punts and forward passes. Later, while the first and second teams were battering at the bucking machines, and plowing up the turf on the baseball diamond, the rest of the squad was working on interference and tackling under Coach Kline.

SEASON TICKET SALES FALL BELOW EXPECTATIONS

Very Few Students Take Advantage of Bargain Prices

Football season tickets sales have not been up to expectations, the last two days. The Iowa game is scheduled for Saturday and a record crowd should be on hand to help cheer the team to victory. Other big games will follow and they will be well worth seeing. To win, the team must have the "pep" and "speed" behind it that only a section of regular rooters can hurl at a battling team.

A season ticket at $3.00 admits the holder to six big games, amounting to fifty cents a game. The general admission for the Iowa game Saturday will be one dollar, with an addition of fifty cents for reserved seat. This is one-half the price of a season ticket. Later on, $2.00 or $2.50 will be charged for the Notre Dame and the Kansas games. For a little more than the price of an ordinary game, the season ticket permits one to see six games. One game for two dollars or six games for three dollars. Friday is set for the big day in season ticket sale.

CABLES IMPROVE WITH AGE
It is found that the insulation resistance of telephone cables increases with the age of the cable, when it lies in the ground, because the moisture it possesses appears to be dried out.

PAPER FROM BARK
Over 50 kinds of bark are now used to manufacture paper, besides banana skins, bean stalks, pea vines, coconut fiber, clover and hay straw, fresh water, weeds, seaweeds and over 110 kinds of grasses.
