SOCIETY PERSONALS

Military casualty lists record the death of Lieutenant Colonel Morris Liedmann, 1900, of the 105th Infantry in France, August, 1918. In 1917 he invented a trench periscope attachment for small arms which has been used a great deal by the government. He specialized at Nebraska in X-Ray and wireless.

Captain Sargent, '03, who was wounded in June, 1918, is back at the front again.

Professor O. J. Ferguson received a visit from Franz Paustian, '16, who is home on furlough from Barron Field, Texas. He has received his commission as a second lieutenant in the aviation.

Catherine Pierce, '18, came through Lincoln Sunday on her way to Boston to attend Cook's school of expression.

Union College at College View is erecting an addition to their light and power plant designed by Professor V. L. Hollister.

J. V. Hoge, '10, who has been an electrical engineer for the Continental gas and electric corporation, and more recently general manager of the Lee light and power company of Clarinda, Iowa, has become an instructor in the radio division.

A. J. Hartsock, formerly superintendent of schools at Fairmont, Nebraska, is taking an advanced course in chemistry and is teaching part time in the radio division.

E. V. Evans, a graduate in forestry at Nebraska University, has become a member of the instructional staff of the radio department.

Irene Smith is visiting her home at Wahoo, Nebr.

Ruth Parker is spending the week at Omaha, Nebr.

Lorene Hendricks is at Wahoo, Nebr.

Lydia Dawson of Lynnwood is spending the week at the Alpha Omicron Pi house.

Eleanor Fogg, '19, is attending Smith college this year.

Lieutenant Dan Claar, who has been at San Antonio, Texas, is spending his leave of absence at the Delta Upsilon house.

Kathleen Hartigan of Fairbury is spending a few days at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Wallace E. Spear, '18, left Wednesday afternoon for Minneapolis, where he will enter the ground school for naval aviation. Spear was stationed at the Great Lakes training station during the summer, and was detailed here before receiving his call for the ground school.

PERSONALS

Professor Sarka B. Hrbkava, chairman of the women's committee for the council of defense, launched the fourth Liberty Loan campaign at Kearney, Wednesday. "Hateing the Hun" was her subject.

Dorothy Colburn is substituting in the Lincoln high school for the journalism teacher, who is ill. She expects to resume her work in the University next week.

GOT BEST OF ARMY OFFICERS

Leader of Pickaninny Band Showed Himself Fully Capable of Dealing With Emergency

An itinerant pickaninny band halling from an orphan asylum in the south struck up lively airs in one of the streets and attracted attention, according to a Saratoga Springs correspondent of the New York Evening Post. The doughty little drum major, dressed in an imposing collection of colors, rested between airs and suggested to bystanders that they make contributions for the good of the cause. Four army officers stopped and bantered the leader until his soul grew vexed. Suddenly he had an inspiration and turned to his dozen jazz musicians he raised his baton and gave the signal for the "Star-Spangled Banner," which the darkies played with

"The Army and Navy will dig the Huns' grave, but We must furnish the Spade"

—Billy Sunday

By REV. WILLIAM A. SUNDAY

Uncle Sam's Liberty war chest needs filling again!

We have the cash to fill it as many times as he lifts the lid.

There are only two horns to this dilemma—you are either a patriot or a traitor.

The men on the firing line and on the battleships have turned from business, home, mother, wife, children, and they stand ready to give their lives and shield with their bodies us who remain at home.

We are unworthy to be thus protected, if we do not do our utmost to sustain them.

We must be one in our determination to win this war. We are traitors to the cause for which they are giving their lives, if we do things here that make their efforts harder.

Life is not worth living unless there is something to live for. Life would not be worth living if that bunch of Heinies should win.

That is why they cannot win. That is why we cannot lose.

What a mountain of crime God has on his books against that horde of Hellish Huns. What grave is deep enough for this thousand-armed, thousand-footed, thousand-headed, thousand-horned, thousand-fanged pirate of the air, assassin of the seas, despoiler of the earth and ambassador of Hell!

We will never stop until Germany dips her dirty blood-stained rag to the Stars and Stripes.

It's a whale of a job we've tackled, but we can and must put it over.

But you must help.

Don't whine. Don't knock. You can't saw wood with a hammer. Don't turn the hose on the fire; add fuel.

earnestness and drew out as long as possible.

The officers, of course, immediately came to salute and remained in that posture until the grinning drum major brought down his baton on the final note. The officers appeared a bit red in the face and proceeded along their way without attempting to "spoo" the band any further. They appeared to be making remarks sotto voce.

Sunday Dinner in Germany

The extent to which the rationing of foodstuffs and other necessities has been carried is illustrated in a humorous recipe for a Sunday dinner, published in a German paper, Chemnitz Volksstimme.

"Take the meat card, mix it well with the egg-card, and bake it with the butter card until a healthy brown crust appears. The potato card and the vegetable card should be steamed until they are tender, and then thickened with the meal card. After-dinner coffee is prepared by boiling the coffee card and adding the sugar and milk cards to the beverage. A very succulent confection is obtained by dipping the bread card into the coffee so prepared and partaking of it in small pieces. At the conclusion of the repast, you wash your hands with the soap card and dry them upon the cloth purchase permit."
