THE FIRST PRODUCT

In less than a month after the wheels of the Nebraska unit of the students' army training corps began to move, the first product has been turned out. Twenty-nine members of the corps, selected as the most fit of one hundred fifty men, will leave the latter part of this week for officers' training camps if influenza quarantines are lifted. It is the first product of the new University mill and the best wishes of every Cornhusker goes with these soldiers as they leave for higher training.

The men who were selected are the men who have shown especial fitness both in the scholastic work and in their leadership in the short time they have been in training. They have found that hard work, mental alertness, physical fitness and soldierly manners have won for them the opportunity to try for commissions and it is certain that if they keep these things ever in mind while in the officers' camp they will succeed.

Calls for men will be received nearly every two weeks for members of the S. A. T. C. who wish to enter these camps and it is the men who have their work up to the minute and who have followed every detail of instruction who will be chosen. The man who sluffs along may be sent to enter active service in a shorter time but he will have a hard fight to ever rise above the ranks of a private. The man who leaves the University with a rating of "good" or "excellent" will find that his way is paved to further advancement.

Just how Coach Kline will be able to develop a winning team at Nebraska with the conditions under which he is working would puzzle the wisest. The past week of practice has been handicapped by the illness of half-back Schellenberg and the part-time absence of half-back McMahon who was called to Great Lakes as a result of an error in his enlistment papers. Quarter-back Lantz and Ross and Dana in the line have been out of the game because of sickness or injuries. Al Du-Teau, varsity left tackle, has left for training in naval aviation on the Pacific coast. Cypreansen, who won a place as varsity end, and McCoy, are named among those who leave the latter part of this week for an officers' training camp.

Camp Funston is coming to Lincoln next Saturday with an eleven composed of practically all-Star men. Funston has played several games already this season and every man will be in the best of trim for the battle.

This is not "dope," but real facts which should show every Cornhusker the prospect which Nebraska faces this week and the necessity for every one uniting with the team and showing the spirit that never says "die." Buy more season tickets, learn the varsity yells and songs and get reserved seats early in the students' rooting section.

Here are some comments on the Kaiser from the pen of a Chinese student: "The German Kaiser is not a superior Man as deciphered by the Chinese literature; he is surely a mean fellow containing much fiendish cunning in his deceitful heart. The Superior Man is shown in the merits of excellent heart with much loving kindness to all peoples; the mean fellow is displayed in the black heart of the unregenerated devils of the hell with much loving kindness only to himself. In the history of China was a emperor who burned the books and slew the scholars to extinct the civilization of the peaceful inhabitants; but he was not success in this crafty tricks, for the civilizations could never be extinct by such dishonorable barbarian means. Now the German Kaiser he also awfully wishing to slave the people and extinct the civilizations of the universe; he also destroy the literature books, and the arts, and the ships, and mess the people of allied nations. But he will not succeed."

GENIUS

Genius is only the power of making continuous efforts. The line between failure and success is so fine that we scarcely know when we pass it; so fine that we are often on the line and do not know it. How many a man has thrown up his hands at a time when a little more effort, a little more patience would have achieved success. As the tide goes clear out, so it comes clear in. In business, sometimes, prospects may seem darkest when really they are on the turn. A little more persistence, a little more effort, and what seemed hopeless failure may turn to glorious success. There is no failure except in no longer trying. There is no defeat except from within, no really insurmountable barrier save our own inherent weakness of purpose.—The Fra.

THE MESSAGE OF THE LISTS

Most of us now turn first of all to the daily roll of sorrow and of honor which every paper in our land is proud to carry. You can see elderly men hanging around the front yard an hour ahead of breakfast time waiting for the newsboy. They will not budge from the gate until those fateful names have all been scanned. Every list is a brief review of our United States from Montezano, Wash., to Adairsville, Ga., and of all names from Adams to Zimmerle. The dullest can feel that what was only a newspaper has now become a herald of eternal things. A casualty list is not news, but the final proof of the heroism of our country's sons. Nor, in spite of grief, does it relate only to the past. Those who have fallen fell fighting for a better future, and thus departing, leave it to us to make or mar that coming world for which they cared so much. An English poet, John Massfield, has put it in better words than ours:

Now the young men are bringing us the water of peace. This will, I believe, be the peace that passeth understanding, when we shall have our lives again, our loves again, and can do our work. It will be like the drinking of the blood of these young men. Love and courage are the main things in this life. With them you can face the world. We will need them when we try to remake the world. May your country and mine stand together in the remaking of this world a little nearer to the heart's desire.

To keep the daily roll of our dead from becoming a record of failure, our nation must be true to that inspiration and that trust.—Collor's.

"ALL RIGHT"

By Damon Runyon

He's back on a leave of absence, And his face seems drawn and gray. It's hard to realize it's been A year since he went away. Grave he is in his manner, But his voice has the old-time cheer; "They're all right, over there, all right— Are YOU all right, over here?" "They're all right, over there, all right; There's nothing at all that's wrong. Sam, Joe and Bill—I saw them all And I left them well and strong. They told me to tell you all hello, But that they're all right, over there, all right, If YOU'RE all right, over here!"

"Yes, there's lots of mud in the trenches, But they're making the best of it. The cooties are not much overdrawn, Or none of the rest of it. It's a big, new kind of business—

A business that's sad, and queer. But they're all right, over there, all right— Are YOU all right, over here?"

"They're all right, over there, all right; Yes, it's true about those rains. It's true about the hardships, too, And that never a man complains. It's true that there's quite a task at hand, And that Death is ever near— But they're all right, over there, all right— Are YOU all right, over here?"

"If YOU'RE all right, over here," he said, "And leaving no job undone, They'll be all right, over there, all right, Till they've ended the thing and won. If YOU'VE done YOUR share the best YOU can, And YOUR conscience is sound and clear, They'll be all right, over there, all right, And YOU all right, over here!"

JOHN M. ROSBOROUGH

MARRIED WEDNESDAY

The marriage of Miss Annie E. Jones to John Rosborough, which took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family home, was very beautiful and impressive in its simplicity.

In a bower of greenery on either side of which were high pedestals with baskets of pink roses, the bride and groom received the marriage lines, which were read by Dr. L. D. Young, of the First Presbyterian church.

Preceding the ceremony, the Novello trio, which was on the second floor, played a group of selections. To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by Miss Ruth Pfecher, the bride and groom entered unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosborough left yesterday afternoon for Estes Park, Colo. They will be at home to their friends at Lincoln after December first.

Mr. Rosborough is head of the harmony department at the university school of music.

FLUENZA TAKES HEAVY TOLL AT CAMP GRANT

ROCKFORD, Ill., Oct. 9.—The death toll of victims of Spanish influenza at Camp Grant has reached 525 by Sunday night. While the number of cases is on the decrease, the number of fatalities has been increasing. Col. C. B. Hagadron, acting commander of the post, has forbade the publication of the names of any of the men who have died from the disease.

report the disease to the local board of health, and anyone failing to report is to be prosecuted, and upon conviction, fined not less than fifteen, nor more than one hundred dollars.

"We do not want Nebraska to lag in the opinion of the federal authorities, and therefore ask that all cases be promptly reported."

KAISER FALL WAS PROPHESED IN 1600 BY A GERMAN MONK

A most remarkable prophecy made by the German Monk, Fratre Johannes, in the year 1600, seems to be nearing fulfillment. As a key to this prophecy, one has only to realize the following, it is pointed out by the Great Falls, Mont., Leader:

The Kaiser is a German Lutheran; he has a withered arm. Germany is the Black Eagle. Austria, her ally, has also an eagle. Russia is the White Eagle. France is the cock. England, the British empire, is the Leopard.

The following prophecy by the monk, Fratre Johannes, who lived about the year 1600, is remarkable in its application to the present world crisis. The authenticity of this prophecy was at first doubted because of a few discrepancies in the text but the matter was referred to the newspaper information bureau at Washington and Director F. J. Haskins replied as follows:

"In reply to your letter asking whether the prophecy by the monk Fratre Johannes is real, we would say that this prophecy was discovered in an old parchment in the convent of the Holy Ghost at Wismar, in Germany, and is kept under glass in the town hall of this city. There have been numerous translations whose texts vary somewhat. We are returning your copy of the prophecy.

"The discrepancies which we noted and which you may also notice, are probably due to the variations in the translations of the text. On the whole it is a remarkable prophecy."

It is as follows:

The real antichrist will be one of the monarchs of his time, a Lutheran Protestant. He will invoke God and give himself out as His messenger or apostle.

This prince of lies will swear by the Bible. He will represent himself as the arm of the most high, sent to chastise corrupt peoples.

He will have only one arm, but his innumerable armies, who will take for their device the words, "God is with us," will resemble the infernal regions.

For a long time he will act by craft and strategy. His spies will overrun the earth, and he will be master of the secrets of the mighty. He will have learned men in his pay, who will maintain and undertake to prove his celestial mission.

Not only all Christians, but Musselmans and even more distant peoples will be involved. Armies will be involved from the four quarters of the earth.

For by the third week the angels will perceive that the man is antichrist and that all will become his slaves if they do not overthrow this conqueror.

Antichrist will be recognized by various tokens—in special he will massacre the priests, the monks, the women, the children and the aged. He will show no mercy, but will pass torch in hand, like the barbarians, but invoking Christ.

His words of imposture will resemble those of Christians, but his vows of all the human race.

He will have an eagle in his arms, here will also be an eagle in the arms of his confederate. But the latter will be a Christian and will die from the maledictions of Pope Bonelict, who will be elected at the beginning of the reign of antichrist.

In order to conquer antichrist it will be necessary to kill more men than Rome ever contained. It will need the energies of all the kingdoms because the cock, the leopard and the white eagle will not be able to make an end of the black eagle without the aid of the prayers and the vows of the human race.

Never will humanity have been faced with such a peril, because the triumph of the antichrist would be that of the demon, who will have taken possession of his personality.

For it has been said that twenty centuries after the incarnation of the world the beast will be incarnated in his turn and will menace the world with as many evils as the divine incarnation has brought it graces.

Toward the 2000 antichrist will be made manifest. His army will surpass in number anything that can be imagined. There will be Christians among the cohorts and there will be Mohammedans among the defenders of the lamb as well as some heathen soldiers.

For the first time the lamb will be red—for blood will flow in the domains of the four elephants at once.

The black eagle will hurl itself upon the cock, whom will lose many feathers. It will soon be exhausted, but for the leopard and its claws.

The black eagle, who will come from the land of Luther, will make a surprise attack upon the cock.

The white eagle will come from the north.

The black eagle will find itself forced to let go the cock in order to fight the white eagle, whereupon the cock will have to pursue the black eagle into the land of the antichrist to aid the white eagle.

The battles fought up to that time will be as nothing compared to that which will take place in the Lutheran country.

When the beast finds himself lost he will become furious.

Men will be able to cross the rivers over the bodies of the dead.

Antichrist will sue for peace many times, but the seven eagles who, march before three animals of the land, will have proclaimed that victory will not be given except upon condition that antichrist will be crushed like straw upon the threshing floor.

The three animals will not be permitted to stop fighting as long as antichrist has soldiers.

Antichrist will lose his crown and will die in solitude and madness. His empire will be divided into 22 states, but none will have any longer fortifications, armies or ships of war.

The white eagle, by order of Michael, will drive the Crescent out of Europe, where there will be no longer any but Christians. He will install himself at Constantinople.
