ENTIRE STATE NOW UNDER QUARANTINE

Influenza Continues to Spread— Cases Increase Over Country

Innoculations Begin to Have Effect, But Men Hold Up Well

No school for two weeks, was the word flashed about the campus and barracks late Monday afternoon when it became known that the quarantine ban on the entire state had fallen and would not lift until November 2. The state quarantine supersedes the city ban which became effective at the university more than a week ago.

The order of the state board of health which names Spanish influenza as the disease to be combated, closes all schools, both city and country, theatres, churches, lodges and public meetings of any nature, both indoor and out.

Disease Increases

Dispatches from over the state indicate the increasing prevalence of influenza in virulent forms, and even university students who flocked to their homes several weeks ago to escape the epidemic here, have failed to elude it.

Governor Neville received instructions from Washington Monday afternoon to cancel the October draft call

APPLICATIONS NOW BEING RECEIVED FOR NEW O. T. C.

Quota for Nebraska 220 Men— Will Go to Camp Fremont. December 1

Applications for admittance to an infantry central officers' training school, to be established December 1, at Camp Fremont, California, will be received by Commandant E. J. MacIvor, until further notice. The call is for any registrant between the ages of 18 and 46, except registrants prior to September 12, 1918, and who are placed in Class 1, and except registrants who are placed in deferred classification for various reasons.

The notice as received by Captain MacIvor, and which is being published throughout the state, follows:
Commanding Officer, University of Nebraska, S. A. T. C.:

Applications for infantry central officers' training school to be established December 1 at Camp Fremont, Calif., will be received and acted upon by the commandant until further orders.

Any registrant between the ages of 18 and 46 are eligible except registrants prior to September 12, 1918, and who were placed in Class 1, and except registrants in deferred classification on account of industrial, occupational or employment, including agricultural.

Educational qualifications are high school graduate or the equivalent, and the word "equivalent" is covered when a man can show that his schooling other than high school has been equivalent to the education given in a high school, or that his business experience has been such that it is the equivalent or better than the education given in a high school.

Two hundred twenty men is the quota allotted to the state of Nebraska and it is urgent that every applicant file his application at the headquarters of University of Nebraska S. A. T. C. without delay.

Applications can be obtained upon written request or upon going to the headquarters and securing same in person.

of 7,000 men from this state, which was to begin entraining today for Camp Kearney and Camp Bowie. This order affects practically all of the men in the university who registered prior to September 12 and who failed to gain entrance to the S. A. T. C.

Several hours after the state order went into effect, an encouraging statement was given out by the city health department, announcing a decrease in the number of cases of influenza, and predicting more optimistic statements for the latter part of the week. Meanwhile, the medical authorities of the S. A. T. C. at the university were confident that the situation at the university was under control, although one death occurred at the university hospital Monday morning.

Few Victims

The sick books of the various companies showed a comparatively small number of victims for the infirmary considering the fact that inoculations and vaccinations were beginning to "take." Medical authorities were well pleased with the manner in which the men conducted themselves at the inoculation ceremonies last Saturday, and announced that the next one would occur next Saturday when the men who were ill or absent last Saturday will take their "shots."

Captain Buck of the medical department appeared before S. A. T. C. men on the athletic field Monday afternoon, giving a short talk on personal hygiene and essential precautionary measures to maintain the health of men in the barracks.

SOLDIER BOYS PURCHASE TWENTY THOUSAND IN BONDS

Government Installment Plan Proves Very Popular With Boys of S. A. T. C.

Twenty-one thousand dollars worth of bonds have been purchased by the various detachments of the S. A. T. C. since Sunday, according to Lieutenant F. J. O'Neil, adjutant.

The government ruling allowing enlisted men to buy bonds by means of monthly allotments proved very popular with the soldier boys, and with practically no solicitation. Nearly every man at the university purchased one of the bonds. The plan adopted by government officials calls for an allotment of pay of five dollars each month until the bond is paid in full.

Lieutenant Murphy and his corps of assistants were as busy as cranberry merchants all Sunday afternoon, but were unable to accommodate all who wished to buy because of the absolute necessity of making the final report and tabulation before six o'clock Sunday evening. Information relative to the sale of the bonds did not arrive at headquarters until Sunday forenoon, and for this reason there was a mad rush the last few hours of the sale. At least two hundred who were desirous of buying, were unable to do so because of the early closing.

A particularly singular fact concerning the bond campaign may be noted in the amount of the individual subscriptions, as nearly all of the bonds sold were of the fifty dollar denomination. At least a thousand of these small bonds were sold, it is estimated.

Approximately thirty thousand dollars was subscribed on the campus by members of the faculty. This, together with the army subscription totals well over fifty thousand dollars.

REPORTERS WANTED

The Daily Nebraskan offers an excellent opportunity as reported for any men how have had experience in news writing.

Companies of the S. A. T. C. should see that they have a capable representative on The Nebraskan staff.

Make applications at news office, west entrance, University Hall, basement.

LOST—17-jewel Rockford watch, with initial J on back. Reward. Return to Student Activities' office.

MAY PUT KIBOSH HUSKER FRAY

State Health Board Places Ban on All Outdoor Meetings and Football to Suffer

Wesleyan and Cotner Were to En- counter Nebraska in New Fangled Battle

Just like a big soap bubble, the proposed three-sided, double-barreled conglomeration of football which was billed for next Saturday afternoon on the Nebraska gridiron, may pop into smithereens. The Huskers were to tackle the Cotner Bull-dogs in the first half of the scramble and then turn on the Coyotes from Wesleyan university in the second stage.

Arrangements were about complete when the state board of health stepped in and placed a ban on all public gatherings, whether held indoors or out in the open. Since a crowd of spectators packed into the grandstand on Nebraska field would be classed as a public gathering, the state board's order very naturally looms up as a barrier before the Saturday fray.

Coaches Kline and Schissler were patting each other on the backs for

S. A. T. C. MAKES BOW BEFORE LOCAL PUBLIC

Sections "A" and "B" Led By Band Parade Down "O" Street Monday

"O" street paused in its evening rush Monday to give recognition for the first time to the men of the S. A. T. C. battalion as they marched in parade between the hours of five and six o'clock. Six blocks of marching soldiers, comprising the companies of sections "A" and "B" passed before the downtown throng at this time and felt their first thrill of pride in appearing before the public as members of a military organization.

The parade was informal but it broke the monotony of the regular five o'clock drill period. It was the first public appearance of section "A," formed in permanent companies. Marching at attention only at every other block, the men were permitted to sing and otherwise display their spirits in the meantime.

Headed by the band, the companies formed in regular formation and marched south on Eleventh street to "L," then east on "L" to Fourteenth street, and north to "O" street, where they turned west and marched to Twelfth when they again headed "homeward" to Armory and barracks.

The formation was halted in front of the Armory building where Captain E. J. MacIvor took command. Here retreat was sounded and The Star Spangled Banner was played by the band while The Stars and Stripes were lowered from above "U" hall for the coming night.

POLICIES FOR THE S. A. T. C. DISCUSSED AT KANSAS CITY

Policies for the student army training corps were discussed Monday, at Kansas City by officials representing the four S. A. T. C. districts west of the Mississippi river, the army, and the federal bureau of education. Methods of co-operation between military inspectors, educational directors, and business managers were considered.

The northwestern district was represented by Chancellor E. C. Elliot of the University of Montana, and President R. L. Wilbur of Leland Stanford university, and J. E. Addicut of San having finally doped out a practice bout for their pupils before they encounter the Notre Dame athletes on November 2. Nothing but capering around on the M street green has been on the Husker slate since the Iowa game at the first of the season. Such inactivity has made the players itching to get at the throats of some real formidable antagonist. A combat as proposed for next Saturday would be just what the Cornhuskers have been waiting for. No such stunt has ever been pulled off in sport circles before in which a team took on two separate opponents in the same engagement.

Might Bar the Public

Inasmuch as the bout connected to give the Huskers the much needed practice before the Notre Dame tilt, it may yet be put across. The public might be denied admittance and the teams fight it out behind closed gates, and in this way it could not be classed as a public gathering. There still is enough time to make the necessary arrangements if they can be made, and there is no need of worrying about it now.

Team Prospect Bright

The football candidates gave a good account of themselves in the Monday workout at the M street yard and Coach Kline expressed much satisfaction at the prospects. Every member of the squad responded at roll call except captain Schellenberg, who was just recovering from the effects of his vaccination, and Left Guard Ross, who was chalked up on the Monday sick list.

Y. M. C. A. LEADS MEN IN MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT

Army "Home Makers" Start Things Moving Sunday Night With Orchestra and Song

The Y. M. C. A. showed its use in the army camp once more Sunday night. The men were confined to the barracks and quite necessarily required some form of amusement. The Y. M. C. A. stepped in and, assembling the musicians of Company E took them to the Social Science hall, Companies A, B, and C, and the S. N. T. C. barracks. The men were assembled in the hall and some very good playing followed.

There were a great many more really good musicians than were expected. Each company furnished some material for the orchestra, and they should be commended upon their ability to play together so well the first time. Also the number of instruments was remarkable. There were clarinets, flutes, a cello, banjos, fifes, a piano, violin, slide trombone, cornets and several other instruments necessary for a good orchestra.

Among the crowd were several soloists, jiggers and specialty dancers. These brought forth much applause and added much to the general pep of the entertainment. A crowd of men gathered just south of the Armory enjoying much the same form of amusement as those in the barracks.

Too much cannot be said for the Y. M. C. A. in the army camp. The men are always glad to accept a leader in any amusement and the Y. M. C. A. secretaries are especially welcome as they know just what the men need most in the line of good, wholesome entertainment.

Monday evening the Y. M. C. A. gave a picture show on the campus.

Francisco and Pacific Coast schools. Washington representatives were also at the meeting. The decisions reached by the convention will no doubt have far reaching results for all units of the S. A. T. C. west of the Mississippi.

AND THEN THE DELUGE

A Canadian soldier in London was making his first call upon a pretty young London maiden.

"Do you have reindeer in Canada?" asked the young lady.

"No, darling," he answered, "at this season it always snows."

SIXTY-THREE SOON TO GO TO OFFICERS' CAMPS

List Includes Infantry, Machine Gun Division, and Field Artillery

Military Band Will Select and Send Men to Various Camps Soon

The second evidence that the S. A. T. C. camp is a stepping stone to officers' training camps was uncovered when a list of sixty-three men recommended for officers, was given out from Captain E. J. MacIvor's office Monday night. These men were selected after personal conferences with the commandant Saturday afternoon, being chosen on their evident qualification for leadership. The list includes infantry, machine gun division, and field artillery, no distinction being indicated at this time. The exact time they will leave for the various officers' training camps is unknown to the authorities. It may be a week or it may be a month according to instruction received from Washington.

The following names of men are recommended by the commanding officer for future officers:

Arnold, Haven	Kronson, Chas. M.
Bailey, Foster C.	Lashbrock, H. G.
Beaty, J. W.	Lear, Wm. D.

Kilfoy, John I.	Wilkin, Arnold A.
	Yost, Albert A.

Military Board to Visit Post

In the near future a military board will visit the S. A. T. C. camp at this university to select these men recommended by Captain MacIvor and will assign them to the training camps for which they are best fitted. As has been announced before, the particular branch desired by the men will be given much consideration since it is thought by military authorities that a man will do more efficient work in the branch in which he has special interest.

Spirits Kept Up

It is these calls for training camps coming at frequent intervals, that help keep up the spirits of the men stationed here. Knowing that there is a chance to be called for bigger opportunities the men put forth all the effort possible in drilling to demand recognition. There will be more calls coming in continually, so the men who have not yet received the always looked for call, may continue to work with the assurance that they still have good chances to enter some officers' training camps.
