SCHOLASTIC WORK REOPENS AT UNI

Today's work will probably consist of making necessary changes and assigning to the men study rooms and hours for recitation and drill.

Keep Watch On Records

Some of the university classes which were composed nearly or all of S. A. T. C. students will undergo some changes and new assignments in the class work may be looked for.

Everyone, however, is held responsible for assignments made prior to the closing of school. The work of teaching the Husker soldiers stationed here is expected therefore to go off with a lunge and by Thursday or Friday everyone will know exactly what he is to do and when to recite or drill or study for the remaining time that he is here.

Beginning today all eyes must be wide open. The strings will tighten on the slower ones and late arrivals to calls will not be tolerated. Everything must go off with a decided snap according to Captain MacIvor's plans of conducting a soldier school here.

University and military chiefs have arranged for close co-operation in regard to keeping a close watch on the individual record of every student soldier so that any attempt to sluff any work will be unsuccessful. Kitchen and barrack police are mild forms of punishment compared to the fate that awaits those students in the army division here who are slow to learn military discipline.

Up to Individual

During the following months opportunities will be continually open to candidates for officers' schools. Meanwhile there will be an occasional transfer of men from this camp to the cantonments whenever "candidates" qualify for such transfer.

The conduct of the S. A. T. C. men resolves itself today into the making or the breaking of every individual. In the terms of the Executive Dean, C. C. Engberg, every man has his future right before him and it is therefore imperative that every man start today to do his utmost in the class room and on the field.

University of Nebraska expects to turn a record average of its S. A. T. C. men out for proper officer material this fall and winter, but Captain MacIvor promises that no positions have been reserved for any one that is not willing to put in the ticks.

up and grabbed the oval and waded through the Cotner defense and over the goal line for another and the last score of the game. Howarth again kicked goal and the score stood 33 to 0 as the first half ended.

Substitutes Run In

The third quarter featured the playing of most of the second stringers. One after another was put in and the veterans relieved. Hubka was sent to the showers and Martin took his place. Cotner's kick-off rolled out of bounds and the ball was put in play on the twenty yard line. Swanson then reeled off about 60 yards and came within striking distance of the goal. A pass to Schelly netted 20 yards and an attempt at a touchdown by the aerial route failed.

Cotner took the ball and punted. Nebraska recovered and Schellenberg shot a pass to Swanson which added 40 yards to the Cornhuskers' distance. Schellenberg advanced the ball 20 more yards on a forward pass and the game ended with the ball about 20 yards from Cotner's goal.

Northwestern Considers Offer

Athletic Director Scott received a wire yesterday from Northwestern stating that the management would submit Nebraska's proposal to switch the Husker-Northwestern game from November 23, as originally scheduled, to Thanksgiving day, to the athletic board Tuesday night. Nothing has been heard of the outcome yet, but Professor Scott and Coach Kline are anxious to bill the Evanston school for Turkey day and settle that elusive date once for all.

Stand Up and Be Counted

The Greatest Mother in the World is counting her children.

She wants your name — and yours — and yours — the names of all her children.

So, stand up, you men and women of America — stand up and be counted.

Let The Greatest Mother in the World see what a big, proud family she has.

You've given your share to your Red Cross — given it generously — and you'll give your share again when the time comes.

Right now your Red Cross wants your name — not a contribution — wants to know that you are a member — pledged to help her.

The Greatest Mother in the World wants to know who her children are before Christmas.

Give your name and a dollar to the next Red Cross Worker who asks you for it. Answer "Present" at the Christmas Red Cross Roll Call.

Stand up and be counted you children of The Greatest Mother in the World.

All you need is a Heart and a Dollar
