FOOTBALL RALLY REVEALS SPIRIT

Old Time Nebraska Pep in Evidence at Yesterday's Demonstration

"We're Going to Can Kansas," the Cry of Every Student

A revival of the old-time Nebraska spirit and pep which is going to put the Jayhawkers to rout next Saturday made the first all-university rally on the athletic field yesterday go off with a bang. A big crowd, good speakers and the efforts of the cheerleaders made the grandstand echo and re-echo to the demonstrations of enthusiasm. Nebraska has been sadly lacking in its support of the team this year, but everyone left the rally this morning with the idea, "We've got to lick Kansas and we're going to."

Another enthusiasm-making factor was the band with its pep-producing music and military appearance. The S. A. T. C. marched to the field.

It has always been considered a disgrace for Kansas to beat Nebraska, but that very same thing happened two years ago, when Nebraska had the stronger team, but failed to deliver the "punch" necessary to win the game. In order to prevent a repetition of that defeat to Nebraska's weakened team, everyone has to get behind that team and root, root, root.

When the Cornhusker song, "Come a Runnin' Boys," is played every Husker must rise. He must know the songs and the yells. You can't put them across if you don't know them.

Walter Blunk presided over the rally.

Coach Kline Appeals

Coach Kline urged a larger attendance at the games and that everyone learn the songs and the yells. He said that the team would play just like the people in the bleachers cheer. A team having every man but one playing his first year of football needs every bit of support loyal Nebraskans can give. Kansas would rather lose every other game and beat Nebraska, than lose to Nebraska and win every other game, the coach declared.

"We've just canned the Kaiser and we're going to can Kansas," was Miss Hrbkova's message, "and it's the everlasting teamwork of every bloomin' soul that's going to do it."

Professor Scott in the closing talk, made every one who hadn't acquired the maximum amount of pep jump to his feet and give the yells with all the lung power he possessed. "Don't be a quitter," he said. "Every one who knows anything about Kansas knows that old 'Kansas fight,' the 'never-give-up' spirit." In order to combat that successfully Cornhuskers will have to yell, yell loud and yell long.

Just as the Jayhawk was downed last year when every Nebraskan yelled from the beginning of the game to the end, so will he be this year if every Cornhusker will turn out for the game and simply drown the "Rock-chalk, Jay-hawk."

CALL TO OFFICERS' SCHOOLS SUSPENDED

O. T. C. Candidates May Be Sent Back From Camp Grant

All central officers' training camps have suspended operations for the present according to an official notice (Continued on page 4)

SENIOR CLASS MEETING TODAY AT ONE O'CLOCK

The first meeting of the class of 1919 will be held at one o'clock today in the Law building, room 201. All seniors in the university are expected to be present, as important matters are to be discussed concerning the policies of the class for the present term, and there will be an election of the minor class officers.

Wilson Bryans, president of the senior class, will leave November 21 for Camp Zachary Taylor to enter officers' training, and this will be the last opportunity for him to meet the class. The class will organize at the meeting and plan to carry on the social and other activities of the year.

HOME-COOKED DINNERS FOR SOLDIERS SUNDAY

Week-end Entertainment Features to Break Monotony of Barracks Life

The armistice has been signed and the war is over; the more reason why the War Camp Community Service should and is exerting all possible effort to entertain the men who are in service. This week the calendar is full of functions to occupy the time of S. A. T. C. men.

Saturday evening will see a repetition of the gay scene of last week at the Commercial club when one hundred men picked by Captain MacIvor will dance away the hours with one hundred girls who have been invited by Mrs. Frederick F. Teal under the direction of Mrs. T. J. Doyle. Mrs. Doyle and her assistants will act as hostesses.

The same evening the Achuth sorority will have as their guests at the Anrm and Navy club about thirty soldiers for an informal dancing party. Lieut. W. W. Trego, in charge of the S. A. T. C. at Doane college, is bringing a delegation of men up for the home-coming game and dance in the evening.

Home Dinners Sunday

Sunday one hundred and twenty-five ravenous and gnawing appetites will be appeased by the most wonderful home dinners that Lincoln can provide. The Rotary club has had charge of making arrangements for some of these boys who have been living at the "sphagetti counter" for so many weeks that a real feed is a mere air castle, to take a ride on the magic carpet and actually taste the things they dream of like mother used to make. One hundred boys will eat Sunday dinner in Lincoln homes and Mrs. C. F. Ballard of Havelock has invited twenty-five boys to eat at her home.

Entertainment at Orpheum

Following the dinners Sunday, the Orpheum theatre will be the center of attraction for the men in service. This opening entertainment is to be in the form of a celebration of the signing of the armistice. The program will be practically the same as was planned for last Sunday. There will be short addresses by Dr. John W. Carter, organizer of the W. C. C. S. here, Captain E. J. MacIvor, commandant of S. A. T. C., Lieutenant Frank Gold and Adrian M. Newens. The governor of Nebraska, Keith Neville, Mayor John E. Miller and Chancellor W. G. Hastings will say a few vital words concerning the military situation in the world at the present time. The university band will furnish an excellent program and Rena Gilman has some delightful impersonations to offer. The entire Orpheum has been reserved for the men in uniform and with the exception of some few invited guests, S. A. T. C.'s are the favored ones.

SOMEBODY'S DOLLARS WILL DO IT—I WON- DER IF THEY'LL BE YOURS?

By Bruce Barton.
I will tell you what will happen some night this winter in France. Some night when it's cold and dark.

There will be a rustling through lines, where our boys stand guard. And a heaven laden secretary will make his way along.

In his hands will be great steaming pots; in his pocket chocolate and cigarettes.

From one man to another he will go, passing a cup full of hot coffee to hands that tremble with the cold; bringing the comfort of a bit of sweet and a smoke.

Men will hail him cheerily, slapping him on the back; and when he has gone things will be a little easier in that trench because he has passed that way.

How much will it cost to make that trip—do you suppose? counting the pittance that the secretary is paid, and the cost of the chocolate and the cigarettes and all?

Five dollars? Twenty-five dollars? I do not know.

But whether it is five dollars or twenty-five, I'd like to think that it is my five or twenty-five—wouldn't you? That some night when its cold and lonesome, my money and yours might send a secretary out along that line. Let's make up our minds that we are going to pay for a score of those trips. A score of the nights this winter shall be our nights.

—nights when the boys greet joyously the chocolate and cigarettes that our money provided; and are happier because our representative has passed.

WOMEN BARRED FROM CAMPUS AFTER SEVEN

Word has come from the registrar that no women will be allowed on the university campus after seven o'clock in the evenings, unless they have passes from Miss McGahey.

Although this ruling has been in force for sometime, no guards have been placed at the gates. From this time on, a watchman will stand at the Eleventh street entrance to the campus and will be instructed to see that no women enter the university grounds. Only women who have special business on the campus after nightfall will be able to obtain passes from Miss McGahey, and the rule will be strictly enforced.

NEW STAFF MEMBERS FOR DAILY NEBRASKAN

Five Students Receive Positions on University Daily for Remainder of Term

New staff members were selected for The Daily Nebraskan at a meeting of the Students' Publication board Thursday. Repeated transfers to off-training camps have so depleted the staff. It is expected, however, that several times to rearrange the staff. It is expected, however, that from now on the work will become stabilized, and it will not be necessary to make any new appointments for the remainder of the term.

Heleen Howe, '21, was elected associate editor, and Howard Murfin, '20 and Jack Landale, '21, were chosen for the news editor's positions. On the business staff, Glen H. Gardner, '21, was elected business manager, and Dwight Slater, '21, assistant business manager. With the exception of Slater, all the other new members have served time on The Daily Nebraskan staff.

Chancellor W. G. Hastings has announced to the Students' Publication board, that Captain MacIvor has ruled that no member of the S. A. T. C. or S. N. T. C. can receive monetary compensation other than that given by the government, for services on student publications. The privilege of rendering service being regarded as a part of their military duty.

MOVIE AT THE TEMPLE FOR SOLDIERS TONIGHT

The "Family Skeleton," a five reel feature, starring Charles Ray, will be shown by the "Y" at the Temple theatre on Friday evening of this week at 7 o'clock. This is to be a free show and every one is welcome.

Saturday evening at the same time seventy slides of United War Work activities will be shown, ten slides being devoted to each of the seven organizations which are active in Europe and America. Sunday morning at 8:45 discussion groups will be held in the barracks. Church call will be at 9:45 when Dr. H. H. Harmon will talk to the soldiers.

NEW MEMBERS FOR SILVER SERPENTS

Silver Serpent, honorary junior society, announces the initiation of five girls who were chosen to fill the vacancies left by members who did not return to school this year. The five new initiates are:

Faye Breese, Alpha Chi Omega.
Ethelyn Bruce, Alpha Delta Pi.
Adelaide Elam, Kappa Kappa Gamma.
Mildred Adams, Chi Omega.
Heleen Howe, Delta Gamma.

SHELLEY RETURNS TO CORNHUSKERS

May Pull Into Camp in Time to Battle Against Kansas Tomorrow

Kline Withholds His Jubilation and Awaits Developments—Lantz Called Home

The news that Schellenberg may return from Camp Grant in time to participate in the Husker-Jayhawk game next Saturday, spread over the campus like lard in a hot skillet yesterday, and Nebraska stock shot skyward in the manner of a star shell and chased the gloom clouds off the premises.

Captain MacIvor spilled the beans at the football rally yesterday morning and Coach Kline and Director Scott nearly jumped out of their seats for the telegram containing the news was hot off the wire. It is not an absolute certainty that the star halfback will pull into camp in time to jump into the moleskins before Saturday's battle, but he and the other infantry candidates are to be sent back to Nebraska forthwith as all calls to officers' schools have been cancelled.

The Nebraska commandant was notified that the officers' camps had been closed just after the last contingent boarded the cars for Illinois. Schellenberg was intercepted at Chicago and if he could catch a west bound freight or a fast mail train he might be able to reach Lincoln by Saturday, the captain stated.

In spite of the encouraging outlook, Coach Kline refused to become too jubilant and optimistic. Bill Lantz, the midget halfback, was called home to Ravenna, Nebraska, yesterday on account of sickness in his family, and may not be able to play tomorrow. The coach is planning on using Howarth, Jobs, Martin, Hartley and Reynolds in the back field and is not pinning much faith on Schelley's return. Of course if he does get back in time it will be like a life line to a drowning man and Nebraska's chances will take a bound.

The line is capable of holding anything the Jayhawkers try to start, and looks like an army of tanks when it get under way. The back field is green but is potent on the offense. Kansas has a gang of vets and has the advantage of several seasons' experience.

BOYS WELCOME TARDY ADVENT OF "PAY DAY"

Yesterday was pay day for the men in the local army training corps.

All was joy in the barracks last evening. Because of an error, the regular pay day was nearly two weeks later than usual and as a result, most of the men were either "broke" in spirit, or in pocketbook. Many were borrowing necessary funds from their good friend, "Bill," or from some other capitalist.

Melancholy reigned supreme until the magic words "pay day" were sent broadcast yesterday. Men walked to and fro, displaying a smile that simply would not wear off. With hands far down in their jeans jingling that indefinite something which was the cause of their jollification, all men lucky enough to receive their first government pay, were supremely happy.

A very noticeable feature about the pay day this month was the fact that a majority of the men were paying for Liberty Bonds, in addition to their regular insurance payment. Because (Continued on page 4)

DRIVE FOR FUNDS STILL CONTINUES

Time Limit For Subscriptions Extended to Five O'clock Monday

Smaller Colleges of State Closely Following Nebraska in Their Subscriptions

The mercury in the university's war work thermometer is slowly climbing upward. Yesterday's drive netted $2,000, which brings the total close to the seven thousand mark. With the campaign so near its close and the goal of $25,000 so far away officials have decided to extend the time limit for the campaign to Monday afternoon at five o'clock. By this time it is confidently expected that all subscriptions will be reported and that the final count will show that the University of Nebraska has gone "over the top" by a comfortable margin.

Many Pledge Cards Still Out

But comparatively few of the pledge cards which have been given out have been returned to the student activities' office. Individual subscriptions have been coming in slowly, and at least three companies of the S. A. T. C. have failed to make complete reports. These companies are running high in their contributions but have held back their reports, not wishing to turn them in until they show 100 per (Continued on page 4)
