

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

VOL. XVIII. NO. 40

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1918

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Last Call for Dollars in the Service Pot

NEBRASKA DUCKS THE JAYHAWKERS

Kansas Hollers "Kamerad" After Emerging From Maelstrom of Mud and Slush

Green Back Field Completely Whitewashes Kaw Veterans—Final Score 20 to 0

Locked in death grips, the Kansas Jayhawkers and the Nebraska Cornhuskers descended into a maelstrom of mud and slush on the Cornhusker gridiron Saturday afternoon and when they emerged, the Huskers had the Jayhawk by the neck with his proudest plumage in slimey tatters. The Cornhuskers drenched their southern invader by twenty duckings to none, and sent him back to his home land embalmed in a coffin of encrusted mud.

The antagonists floundered, skidded and swirled up and down the pond and it was not long until the boys in red and the boys in blue, all looked like gobs of mirey gumbo. The yard lines were entirely obliterated and the ground was churned into a thick paste everywhere the struggling mass of humanity happened to surge.

The Cornhuskers clearly outplayed the Jayhawkers and despite the failure of Schellenberg to return to the fold, they swept around the ends and plowed through the line at will. Nebraska made ten first downs against only one for Kansas, and the pigskin was in the possession of the Huskers five-sixths of the time by actual calculation.

Green Timber Shows Seasoning
While sport critics and football coaches were bewailing the loss of Schellenberg and McMahon, the two veteran halfbacks out of the lineup, the green timber was seasoning rapidly, and Jobs, Hartley, Howarth and Swanson completely smeared the vets from the Kaw commonwealth with whitewash. The visitors, altho in a sadly crippled condition with the stellar pair, Londborg and Jones out of the back field, could not hold a flashlight to the Nebraska quartet.

Jobs Stars
Left Halfback Jobs was the real star of the struggle in spite of the fact that this was his first full game of his career at the university. He drove the enemy back a good seventy-two yards on nineteen opportunities, setting a season's record for individual playing.

Captain Hubka came next in line for the laurels. He accounted for fifty-seven yards of enemy territory on eighteen attempts. Hartley with thirty-two yards and Swanson and Howarth both with twenty-five, together with an odd number by the other men, swelled the Cornhuskers' total to 234 yards. This surpasses Iowa's total by twenty yards and beats Nebraska's record in the other games she has played this season by sixty-three yards.

Kansas Almost Stationary
The poor bedraggled Jayhawkers could pile up less than twenty yards of gain from snapper-back during the entire game, and they were thrown for losses amounting to twenty-two yards.

Coach Bond said that he had lost eight men from his squad through O. T. C. calls the past week, including four regulars, and twenty candidates had been surrendered since the season began.

Two Points First Score
At the beginning of the second quarter, the Cornhuskers rushed the oval to the Kansas two-yard line but were set back fifteen yards on a pen-

(Continued on page 2)

MUD SPLATTERINGS OF THE GAME

By Tom Machamer

"The battle began on the sea," as it were.

We expected a submarine any moment—e-e-yah!—'twas that "worse."

Due to the very precipitative atmosphere, the "Rock-Chalk" got damp and Kansas couldn't make her mark.

Did you ever see as desolate a looking bird as that skinned-ratty Jayhawk after the final whistles' last echo broke and splattered all over creation?

Several navy "Beans" revelled in the "sea of mud" between halves, it being their first opportunity for experiencing a shadow of the real.

As the victorious Huskers emerged or oozed from the field they looked like crosses between circus clowns and county-fair greased pigs.

Some irresponsible and calcimined bit of howling femininity, suggested that the girls send their Djer-Kissed kerchiefs to the wallowing warriors in order that they might swab the bothersome wet dust away.

Ho—Hum! Nothing to do till next year, and by that time let's hope the Jayhawk, at her next sitting, produces a more aggressive hatch.

CONVOCATION

Miss Lutia Stearns will deliver an address on "Opportunities for Educated Women in War Work" at the Temple November 21, at eleven o'clock. This will be of especial interest to the women of the university.

Miss Stearns is a librarian of national standing, and is the author of valuable contributions on library work, especially in the field of sane popularizing of library facilities. She is one of the most effective women speakers in America. It will be remembered that she spoke here about five years ago.

A reception for Miss Stearns will be given by the Dean of Women the same days from four to five.

CHANCELLOR AVERY TO RESUME DUTIES DEC. 1

Nebraska's Patriotic Executive Honorably Discharged From Post at Washington

Chancellor Samuel Avery will resume his official duties at the University of Nebraska December first. Dr. Avery, formerly a major in the chemical warfare division, received his honorable discharge from the war department November fifteenth, and will return at once to Lincoln.

"The university branch of the chemical warfare division is being rapidly demobilized," said Doctor Avery, "and when the war department was informed of the request of the board of regents for my return to the university, my discharge was arranged promptly." Dr. Avery has been in the service of the government since February 1, 1918.

At his own request, and at the instance of the war department, Dr. Avery obtained permission from the university board of regents to enter work in the service of the chemical warfare division at Washington, D. C. The term of the chancellor's leave does not expire until September 1, but because of the unforeseen culmination of the war, the chancellor's work has come to an end. During his term of service in Washington, the chancellor has been serving without pay, and has donated his services to the government, free of charge.

O. T. C. CANDIDATES NEED NOT RETURN

Made Optional for the Men to Remain or Come Back

In answer to a telegram sent by Captain E. J. MacIvor Thursday evening with regard to the return of S. A. T. C. men sent to officers' training camp, the commanding officer of Camp Grant replied that it would be entirely optional with the individual, whether or not he should return to the university.

The war department has announced that candidates for commissions in officers' training schools may be discharged from the army immediately, if they desire. If they elect to complete the course they will be commissioned upon graduation in the officers' reserve corps and placed upon the inactive list.

Good Ol' Cowhide Shods are Issued for 3,000 Tender Feet

Friday morning it was announced by the military authorities that shoes would be issued to those who were in need of them. The time set for the distribution was at twelve-thirty, and at noon a long line had formed in front of the Armory. The entire command was well represented; members from all the companies coming in large detachments. After a wait of some minutes the boys were instructed that the issue would be made in the basement of Nebraska hall. A wild rush ensued, the ranks changing hastily in the trial of speed. Assistants were drafted from the rank and file, regardless of classes and the boxes opened.

Huge quantities of cowhide, never trip, blunt toe, unpolished "kicks," were exposed to the view of the multitude. Instead of the desired brown dress shoe, the marching boot was handed out. The men were given

LAST CHANCE FOR DONATIONS TODAY

Campaign to Raise $25,000 Quota of the University Closes This Afternoon

Farm Campus Comes to the Front With Contributions From Faculty and S. A. T. C.

The University of Nebraska at last seems well on its way in the drive to raise $25,000 for war work activities. With an influx of late subscriptions Saturday the total was brought up to slightly more than $15,000 dollars. This amount includes only the reports which have come to the student activities' office. Numerous organizations and individuals and also the faculty of the city campus have not yet submitted the subscriptions. With the expiration of the time-limit Monday it is expected that the quota will be practically complete.

Farm Campus Does Well
Students and members of the S. A. T. C. at the farm campus have contributed liberally. The second company of Section "A" quartered at the farm barracks, has reported the largest company subscription on file. Their contribution is $1,688 from an enrollment of 166 men. This makes an individual donation of more than ten dollars. Members of the faculty have given over $1,400.

Final Drive Today
Today will witness the final drive to round out the university's quota. Offset by a late start, the raising of the quota seemed somewhat in doubt for a time but subscriptions from the College of Medicine at Omaha and smaller donations from the teachers' college high school and the school of agriculture at Curtis have aided greatly in swelling the amount. The committees in charge of the work are making the final appeal for contributions today. All who wish to aid in the war work activities are urged to have their pledge cards filed at the student activities' office by five o'clock this afternoon.

No more officers' candidates will be admitted. Those who were transferred from the student army training corps will be allowed to return to that organization provided they return to college immediately. These provisions, the department announcement says, apply to all officers' training schools for the line of staff corps.

(Continued on page 2)

"House Warming" Opens the New Woman's Hall Saturday

The new "woman's hall" was opened to the girls of the university Saturday afternoon after the football game, in a house-warming which resulted in a decided success. Over one hundred girls thronged the halls of the beautiful new "home" between the hours of five and six and were made to feel that the new building was their home for their parties whenever they want it. A receiving line was made up of the presidents of the different organizations in the university and did much to make the girls welcome. The party was under the direction of Dean Amanda Heppner and a splendid program had been arranged. Tea was served by Mrs. T. F. A. Williams. Beautiful pictures secured through the kindness of Miss Katherine Woods from the Lincoln Fine Art Shop were much in evidence. The different rooms of the building are furnished by various organizations located in the new home. Along the east side of the building is a long reception room which is also used as a study hall and for parties. In the front of this room are the offices of Miss Heppner, where she holds consultation with the girls. Miss Drake also has an office opening off this reception room. The room formerly used as a dining room is now occupied by the Y. W. C. A.

A feature not to be overlooked by any means is the court on the first floor. Rooms in the southeast corner of the second floor are furnished by the Woman's Self Governing association, Mystic Fish, Xi Delta, Silver Serpent, and Black Masque. These are appropriately furnished in brown wicker. A room adjoining these is held by the Omicron Nu, and is furnished in bird's-eye maple. The front rooms are furnished by the Theta Sigma Phi fraternity, Woman's Athletic association, and the Valkyrie. These are to be used as club rooms. In the northeast corner is a silent room to which the girls may go for rest.