

BEANS—NO MORE

The students' army training corps will see no more "Beans" on the city campus.

Beans was not one of the famous Helnze "57" varieties, but quite to the contrary, was a small brown bulldog, the official mascot of Company "B," S. A. T. C.

Beans was a real favorite around the mess hall by virtue of his polite manners and likeable disposition. At the conclusion of each meal one would find him waiting outside the mess hall for his share of rations. Unlike most of the canine species, he would never enter the mess hall without an invitation from the mess sergeant, and because of his extraordinary manners, "leavings" were always reserved.

Sunday evening, immediately after mess had been served to members of his company, Beans trotted out of the Social Science barracks and started a race for the mess hall. However, because of unusual excitement occasioned by his desire for a square meal, he did not remember to "Stop, Look, and Listen" at the street car track. Rushing headlong into a passing street car, Beans was killed instantly. So endeth a brave comrade.

NOTHIN' P'TICKLER By Jeff Machamer

"The Bird of Paradise" flies into Lincoln again next week. Have you ever thought how well that bird stands a change of climate. Some time, when its keeper isn't looking, that winged creature's gonna drop into that volcano and get fried before the show's half over.

How much butter-fat in the milky way?

We had the time of our life Saturday night!—Did you?

Thanksgiving will soon be here, and we've been in the army so long that we find it hard to think of things to be thankful for.

Seriousness is a stranger to this column, but permit our introducing him for one brief moment. Just time enough to state our opinion of the S. A. T. C. success, or perhaps we should say failure.

The presence of this unit at Nebraska has established one fact and that fact, speaking with due regard to the large majority, stands out most convincingly.

It is very difficult to build a soldier and a successful student with the same raw material!

We are in an environment non-inductive to study. The regular university curriculum has been crippled! To all outside appearances, the army plan of education and the established system of our university, conflict on every front. The burden of being unaccustomed to barracks life and drill schedules, has, to a dangerous extent, made systematic education impossible.

There are a number of members who were enrolled in vocational colleges, and, due to the seemingly irresistible environment, they have admitted an irreparable setback.

While this is being written the men are voting on the fate of the S. A. T. C. It would be gratifying to see the present system rearranged.

Wouldn't it mean a grand and glorious feeling for the men with vocational intentions?

What would you think of a girl who deliberately hired friends to call her at a certain sorority house eighteen times per day to extend theatre, tea dansant, and dinner invitations with a view toward convincing the rushing sorority in regard to her uncanny popularity? Funny—but true!

Yes, Gwendolyn, when a man is put to death via the electric chair, it's considered a current event.

The only concert that ever begins on time, to our way of thinking, is the reveille overture in the morning.

—And reveille is the only thing we don't have to stand in line and wait for!

The mess officer evidently heeded our criticism regarding sympathetic mess conditions. He has arranged for us to get less.

We congratulate ourself on our ability to better conditions such as the above! (No one else ever does!)

ATTENTION, S. A. T. C.

"Pep" is responsible for millions of things! In fact, "pep" is the essential something that "puts things over!"

Impartially, let us take Company "A" as an example.

This company staged the first entertainment for personal pleasure. "A" is the first to have a company song, written and composed by one of their number. Lieutenant Basset is the first officer to put an encouraging degree of enthusiasm behind the suggestion of making "the life" social and happily bearable as well as disciplinary and efficient.

Company "A" is up and doing! Lieutenant Basset and his soldiers will spring something in the near future! This "something" will call for fast breathing and blank starts on the part of the rest of us unless we get busy!

Lieutenant Basset suggests that the other companies call meetings and announce the plan for forming basketball teams with a view toward company rivalry.

As one man, all companies should behind him and make the remainder of our barracks existence worth while!

Thanksgiving Announcement

We are thankful to the Student Body of the University of Nebraska for the large amount of work they have given up this year. It convinces us that our work is satisfactory.

Call us today or tomorrow morning and we will return your clothes to you Wednesday evening.

THE UKULELE

THE languorous charm of the Hawaiian native instruments—so moving in appeal, so observably in vogue—is strikingly characteristic of the Ukulele. Its tone possesses that curiously beautiful timbre, that exotic charm of tonal quality which has made these instruments so sensation-ally popular.

The Ukulele has a pleasing grace of form. The finer models are made of genuine Hawaiian Koa wood. It is much in request today among the smarter college and other musical organizations.

It is easy to learn Its price includes an Instruction Book.

Hawaiian Steel Guitar

Every chord struck upon this typically representative Hawaiian instrument is marked by a weird, plaintive harmony and strangely beautiful qualities of tone. It brings, to any music, qualities full of vivid color and varied charm.

Price $8.90 and upwards, including Steel and Set of Three Thumbies for playing, and Instruction Book.

Catalogs on application.
